Ouachita Girl Wins Scholarship In Annual Robt. Ewing Essay Contest

JAMES HOWARD ZINCK

ANNA LOIS SACKET

Anna Sacket Takes Second Prize; Lake Charles Boy Is First

A 17-year-old girl from Fairbanks, a senior at Ouachita Parish High School, became the first student from this area to win a major prize in the annual Robert Ewing L. S. U. Scholarships in essay contests conducted by the Shreveport Times and The Monroe Morning World and The Monroe News-Star, the newspapers owned by the heirs of the late Robert Ewing.

Anna Lois Sacket won the second prize, carrying with it a cash grant of $1,400.00, payable at $350 per year for four years, as well as a full four-year education at Louisiana State University.

Several students in Northeast Louisiana have won various cash awards but Miss Sacket is the first to win one of the major prizes.

James Howard Zinck, of Lake Charles High School, won first prize and will receive a $2,000.00 cash grant as well as his scholarship at L. S. U.

L. S. U. waives all general fees for scholarship winners, thus further enhancing the value of the scholarships, which since their establishment in 1944 have been the most valuable offered for the state university. The 1948 awards are the ninth and tenth, eight previous winners now being at L. S. U. where, as a group, they have averaged straight "B" scholastically and also have starred in extra-cur-

1-YEAR TRAINING FOR 18-YEAR-OLD

Newest Plan For Military Service 2-Year Draft Plan For 19 Through 25

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(AP)—Only 18 year olds would be subject to the one year training under the latest version of the compromise plan for universal military training, announced today by Senator Gurney (R-SD).

At the same time Gurney said the age limits on the two-year temporary draft plan in the senate bill would be 19 through 25 instead of 19 1/2 through 25.

"We learn there is not enough available manpower between 19 1/2 and 25 to fill expected needs of the two-year draft plan," the senate armed services committee chairman told a reporter. "Too many of them are veterans, married or exempt as members of the National Guard or other class A reserve units."

Originally senators wanted to apply the one-year training in the regular forces to youths between 18 and 19 1/2 with two year draft terms on men 19 1/2 through 25.

Both President Truman and Secretary of Defense Forrestal have backed the senate compromise as a substitute for their original long-range separate UMT program.

Gurney said a complete draft of the new manpower bill will be ready for committee action Tuesday morning.

He said the overall totals remain unchanged. These call for one year of

GOP TAKES STEPS TO AVOID 'TAGS'

'Progressive' Republicans Lay Strategy To Dodge 'Reactionary' Name-Calling

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(AP)—Nine senators who class themselves as progressives plan an organization to fight any G. O. P. national convention action that might tag the Republican party as "reactionary" or "isolationist."

The nine, scheduled to meet here Monday night, are expected to invite others to join them in a campaign to force the adoption of what one of them called a "forward-looking" platform on domestic and foreign issue.

The nine include Senators Baldwin of Connecticut, Ives of New York, Knowland of California, Smith of New Jersey, Saltonstall and Lodge of Massachusetts, Thye of Minnesota, Gurney of South Dakota and Flanders of Vermont. Baldwin is host for the scheuled dinner meeting.

Included in the list are representatives of three announced Republi-

OUACHITA, CROSLEY SHARE 4-H HONORS

The Ouachita Parish high school and the seventh grade at Crosley grammar school, West Monroe. walked away with top honors yesterday at the Ouachita Parish 4-H Achievement Day program held at Crosley school, Mrs. Audrey H. Dawson, club representative, announced last night.

The Monroe Kiwanis Club presented a loving cup awards to the winners for scoring the highest number of points. The Crosley class defeated Millsaps school by only four points, Mrs. Dawson said.

Attended by some 700 club members of all 23 clubs, the competing clubs were judged on the quality of crops, poultry, gardening, food preservation, canning, baking, food preparation and pantry.

Two students of Ouachita Parish high school, Billie Sue Rawles and Billy Kilpatrick, conducted the day's activities.

ERP AID CONTACT SLATED IN WEEK

Advance Agents For Recovery Program Leave For Paris Early Today

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(AP)—The first direct contact between the U. S. agency administering the European Recovery Program and participating countries will be established at Paris next week.

Three advance agents of the economic cooperation administration (ECA) will leave for Paris Sunday.

Their prime purpose, ECA Administrator Paul G. Hoffman announced, will be to discuss the urgency of European needs and also to outline a uniform system of reporting purcase requests to insure and unbroken flow of recovery supplies.

The three ECA officials will represent W. Averell Harriman, Ambassador-at-Large to Western Europe. Scheduled to leave LaGuardia field at 1:30 p. m. EST, Sunday, they will return in about two weeks to report to Harriman.

Meanwhile Hoffman has announced a new $15,969,000 authorization of food, coal and other commodities to be shipped to Austria, France, Italy and The Netherlands.

The action brought the total value of ECA-approved shipments to $174,270,000 since Hoffman took office on April 9.

The allotments included the first purchases to be made by European countries from elsewhere than the United States. Western Germany will supply $6,455,000 worth of coal and grain seeds to the four countries.

The mission to Paris consists of Col. C. H. Bonesteel III, Franklin A. Lindsay, and Robert W. Tufts.

Col. Bonesteel, a consultant to Ambassador Harriman, formerly was a

HOUSE OFFERED ANTI-RED BILL

Un-American Group Hopes Proposal Will Set Pattern For World Action

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(AP)—The un-American activities committee offered its anti-Red bill to the House today as a pattern for world resistance to "the Communist onslaught."

The committee said in a formal report that it is trying mainly to "strike a body blow at the American cadre (framework) of the foreign-directed Communist conspiracy." Its bill would outlaw activity aimed at creating any foreign-controlled totalitarian government here.

The Communist threat is not limited to this country, the committee said, and:

"The Congress of the United States, by adopting the legislation here proposed, can set the pattern for controlling in each country the foreign-directed Communist conspiratorial activities which thearten the existence of free institutions, not only here, but throughout the world."

The House may vote on the bill late next week or early the following week Rep. Nixon (R-Calif), who wrote the report and drafted much of the bill, predicted passage by at least a four-to-one margin.

He said Rep. Mundt (R-SD)—the bill carries Mundt's name—has assurance there will be pressure for prompt Senate action. The measure is directed toward four major goals:

1. Making illegal all activity aimed at establishing a foreign-controlled totalitarian government in the United States. The committee figures it can nail Communist party leaders with criminal charges and heavy fines and jail terms.

2. Requiring the Communist movement to operate in the open instead of underground. The party and Communist fronts would have to register with the justice department.

3. Snipping the threads which tie the international Communist move-

POLICE VICE SQUAD RAID WRONG PLACE

PASADENA, Calif., May 1.—(AP)—A coupe of vice squad officers confessed a bit sheepishly today that appearances are sometimes deceptive.

For several days, they had under surveillance a small building on Colorado Ave. They noticed that young women would approach, talk briefly over a wall telephone, enter through a door opened by buzzer from the inside.

Finally they decided to move in. "Open up," they shouted into the telephone. The buzzer buzzed.

The pair found themselves inside the telephone company's new information switchboard office.

HISTORY OF FIVE YEARS OF EWING SCHOLARSHIPS

The annual Robert Ewing L. S. U. Scholarships were inaugurated in 1944 by the daughters and sons of the late Colonel Robert Ewing of New Orleans, newspaper publisher, advocate of constitutional government, and believer in sound public school education as a means of maintaining and understanding it.

Actually, the Ewing scholarships were the outgrowth, in their principle at least, of an essay contest the Shreveport Times conducted in 1943, the centennial of the birth of Thomas Jefferson, writer of the Declaration of Independence. This contest was conceived rather spontaneously as a means of emphasizing Jefferson and his life to school children of North Louisiana in the centennial year and was wide open to all high school students in The Ark-La-Tex circulation territory of The Times.

War bonds and small cash awards totalling $325.00 were the prizes offered. An Arkansas boy, Orlond Dodson of RFD-1, Bradley, won the first prize of a $100.00 bond and also a special prize of a $25.00 bond for the best essay by a 4-H boy. Yvonne Phillips of Fair Park high, Shreveport, won $75.00 in bonds for second prize and Evelyn Davis of Belmont, Sabine parish, took third prize a $50.00 bond. Virginia Beazley of Vivian won a $25.00 bond for the best 4-H girl's essay.

The following year —1944— while John D. Ewing, editor and publisher of the Times, and his executives were considering repeating the contest and actually engaged in discussion of the best way to do it, a Fair Park high school teacher came in to urge that

STASSEN BATTLES TAFT OVER STATE FOR PRIMARY WIN

Both GOP Hopefuls Claiming Victory In Pre-Election Campaigning

OHIO REPUBLICANS FORCED ALL OUT FIGHT FOR VOTES

CLEVELAND, O., May 1.—(AP)—The Ohio battleground between Sen. Robert A. Taft and Minnesota's former Gov. Harold E. Stassen for Republican presidential delegates found both candidates tonight claiming victory in next Tuesday's primary election.

Taft, claiming complete victory for his entire slate of 53 delegates, softened it somewhat by saying Stassen's delegate-at-large out of a slate of ten was a "gamble because of the form of the election ballot."

Stassen earlier claimed election of a majority of his 23 candidates, including his single delegate-at-large, whom he predicted would be one of the top four in the slate of nine to be chosen at large.

Stassen previously had implied he would consider election of a majority of his Ohio delegates as a victory over Senator Taft. Senator Taft has declined to state his views on what might be considered a Stassen victory in Ohio.

Privately very few Taft supporters take as optimistic a view of the situation as Senator Taft. Most of them virtually concede that Stassen, in view of his Wisconsin and Nebraska victories, will get some Ohio delegates. They are more coy, however, in predicting the number he may receive.

Taft said "the big x" in next Tuesday's voting is whether Democrats generally will attempt to switch over and vote in the Republican primary. He indicated he expected such a changeover would be to Stassen's ad-

CONGRESS TO SEEK CHANGES IN U. N.

Senators Who Wish To Knock Out Power Of Veto Will Get Hearing Soon

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(AP)—Chairman Vandenberg, Republican, Michigan, said today the Senate foreign relations committee will consider proposals to change United Nations procedures before Congress adjourns.

His statement indicated that senators who have been demanding that some action be taken to get around the Soviet vetoes in the U. N. will get a hearing before the committee.

It also pointed the way toward possible action on as-yet unoffered proposals to line this country up in something akin to a military alliance with western Europe.

Vandenberg himself has said repeatedly that action should be taken to abolish the big power veto on all U. N. efforts to settle international disputes short of war.

He has not called for complete abolition of the veto where warlike measures are concerned. There is no indication he plans to do so, although Senator Taft, Republican, Ohio, this week urged that the U. N. charter be amended to elminate all vetoes.

There are indications that when present studies have been completed Vandenberg may sponsor a resolution aimed at giving this country's military help to the western nations outside of the Communist orbit if any emergency arises.

Harold E. Stassen, like Taft a G. O. P. presidential nomination candidate, has suggested that this country set up joint military bases and

MAN DROWNS SELF TO ESCAPE INQUIRY

BATON ROUGE, La., May 1.—(AP)—City Detective Arthur Altazin reported today that a graying, khaki-clad man jumped from a ferry and bobbed out of sight in the Mississippi river today as he was being taken to police headquarters by a private investigator.

The man hurdled the deck and disappeared in the river while being brought to police headquarters here by Private Investigator Robert Sterling, Altazin said. He quoted Sterling as saying the man identified himself as Eddie Hayes, and that he was being taken to headquarters for questioning after an altercation with a soft drink concessionaire.

The man leaped as the ferry was midway on its trip from Port Allen to Baton Rouge.

One witness, Ernest Cadetol, Jr., of Port Allen, said he saw the man's head break water "about five times" before the current carried him away. The ferry stopped and put over lifeboats but to no avail, he said.

The coast guard has been asked to search for the body.

Grenade Slays Greek Minister Of Justice

Communist May Day Plot To Kill Three Members Of Cabinet Revealed; Bomb-Thrower Claims Execution Squad Membership

ATHENS, May 1.—(AP)—Greek Minister of Justice Christos Ladas was assassinated today in what the government said was part of a Communist May Day plot to kill three members of the cabinet. The government established martial law in Athens.

A secretary to Premier Themistokles Sophoulis said a letter had been received recently from a "repentant Communist" saying the party had planned to kill Sophoulis, Ladas, and Minister of Public Order Constantine Rentis. Sophoulis and Rentis were not attacked today, however.

Ladas died 13 hours after a 22-year-old factory worker threw three grenades at him. Police said the assassin, who was seriously injured himself by one of the grenades, had admitted he was a member of the Opla, Communist execution squad, and was under orders to kill Ladas.

The bombs also killed a policeman and wounded another civilian and a child.

Sophoulis said the sternest measures

LIQUOR TAX LAW VIOLATION HELD

Two Of Seven Mississippians Arrested On Warrants Charging Conspiracy

OXFORD, Miss., May 1.—(AP)—The arrest and release on bond of two of seven Mississippians charged in Tulsa, Okla., with conspiracy to violate federal liquor laws was announced today.

U. S. Marshal John Falkner of the northern Mississippi district, said warrants had been served on Jesse Hughes of Tupelo, and George McDonald, of Kosciusko.

Falkner said that Hughes had been released on bond of $2,000, and that McDonald had posted a $3,000 bond. The marshal said the bonds were returnable next week in Tulsa.

Falkner said that he believed both men were en route to Oklahoma. Hughes, accompanied by a Tupelo attorney, was expected to arrive in Tulsa during the week-end.

State Senator John Culkin, attorney for Michael Morrisey, said at Vicksburg that his client was one of the seven men charged and that Morrisey had been granted permission to make bond in Vicksburg Monday. Culkin added that Morrisey probably would not be served actually with the warrant until later in the week.

Culkin said the bond would be filed with Mrs. Ruby L. Short, deputy clerk of federal court at Vicksburg.

The other four were expected to be served with warrants Monday in other Mississippi cities.

Jes' Ramblin'

Joe Thomas, formerly a reporter for the Morning World, is the originator of one of the screwiest, scariest, and screamiest shows on the road today. Practically everything happens in this show, which has no dull moments. Stooges are scattered through the audience and run up and down the aisle, gifts of varied types are presented to the spectators and unconventionality and hilarity reign. There are some mighty pretty girls in the production and the show unfold one of the most unique endings ever presented on any stage.

After touring England with an original variety show and touring the United States with Mandrake the Magician, Joe realized that what the public wanted was something to laugh at, something to terrorize them, something with music and beautiful women. So, he built HYSTERIA, a show that couldn't fail to capture the attention and favor of the theater going public.

The show is now playing a number of break-in dates before they have their official bow in Monroe within the next few months.

Last week's "Concordia Sentinel," weekly publication in Ferriday, was edited and published by a team of four journalism students from Louisiana State University. They were William H. Moore, editor; Gene Yoes, assistant editor; Larry H. Kennon, advertising manager and William B. Bridges, assistant advertising manager. The group was picked from the senior class at the university.

This group was one of five teams sent to various weekly papers of the state and each team issued one edition. The newspapers other than the Ferriday paper where students were in charge the past week are: The

JAMES A. NOE TRIAL SLATED MONDAY AFTER 2 YEAR DELAY

NEW ORLEANS, May 1.—(AP)—After two years of legal skirmishes, former Governor James A. Noe and three others go into U. S. District Court here Monday for trial on charges of conspiring to influence a federal jury.

An indictment returned Jan. 4, 1946, claims they "conspired to corruptly influence, obstruct and impede the administration of justice" in the income tax trial of William T. Burton, wealthy Lake Charles oil man, in June of 1945.

Burton is one of the defendants in Monday's trial. Others are former State Senator Joe T. Cawthorn, of Mansfield, and Marcel F. La Branche, of New Orleans, a member of the jury that heard the income tax case.

Maximum penalty on conviction is two years imprisonment and $10,000 fine.

Thirty-six witnesses have been summoned to testify at the trial. Among witnesses summoned by the defendants are William J. Dodd, lieut.-gov. elect.; A. A. Fredericks, former state senator and executive secretary to Gov.-Elect Earl K. Long; and Julius A. Blackman, former mayor of Alexandria.

Burton, president of W. T. Burton Company, Inc., and his bookkeeper, Luke Brown, were tried in June of 1945 on charges of evading and conspiring to evade $135,739.93 in taxes on Burton's income for 1936-38.

The proceedings ended in a mistrial when the jury failed to agree. A previous trial on the same charges had a similar ending. Those charges are still pending.

Monday's trial comes after repeated

Lebanon, Syria, And Egypt Send Troops Across Borders Before British Mandate Ends, 3 Other Nations Plan Drives

JERUSALEM, May 1.—(AP)—The regular armies of Arab nations of the Middle East invaded Palestine today striking in the north and south with troops and armored forces, Jewish and Arab sources said.

These accounts said Syria, Lebanon and Egypt sent powerful military formations sweeping across the border at dawn Saturday 15 days before the termination of the British mandate over the Holy Land.

Saudi Arabia, Trans-Jordan and Iraq were reported ordering troops to the battle zone or completing final preparations for the drive against the Jews.

Tel Aviv headquarters of Haganah, the Jewish militia, said tanks and armored cars of the Syrian and Lebanese armies crossed the border and engaged Jewis outposts at the settlements of Dafne, Ramot Naftali and Dan in Palestine's northern extremity. Jews in Haifa gave a similar account of the operations taking place in upper Galilee.

Later reports said the settlement of

REDS EMPHASIZE ECONOMIC GAINS

Jet Fighters Streak Over Moscow As Communists Review Big Parade

MOSCOW, May 1.—(AP)—A fleet of grey jet fighter planes streaked low over Red Square today where Prime Minister Stalin and other top officials of the Soviet Union reviewed the traditional May Day parade.

Marshal Nikolai Bulganin, minister of armed forces, opened the ceremonies with a speech in which he said "there is no doubt that the Soviet people and the armed forces will be able to solve the problems which face them."

His speech to thousands in Red Square and relayed by radio to millions of listeners all over Russia placed special emphasis on Soviet economic gains since the war's end.

He appeared to set the theme for the celebration, and in the traditional parade itself the emphasis was on civilian rather than the military side of Russian life.

Foreign diplomats witnessed the parade. They included U. S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith, who was not present last November when a military parade was held in Red Square on the 30th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

Bulganin cited treaties of friendship and mutual aid with Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, Poland, Romania, Hungary, Bulgaria and Finland as examples of the peace policy of the Soviet Union.

Jewish Agency Says Present Conflict May Spread All Over World

RENEWS ATTACKS ON PLAN TO FORM TRUSTEE STATES

LAKE SUCCESS, May 1.—(AP)—The Jewish Agency appealed tonight to the U. N. security council to act quickly and stop the reported invasion of Palestine by Arab forces.

Moshe Shertok, chief of the Agency's political department, said that unless the security council intervened large-scale warfare was inevitable. This, he said, would lead to a "major conflagration with incalculable consequences."

Shertok's telegram was sent to Alexandre Parodi of France, president of the security council. It recounted reports from Palestine of Arab forces crossing the border and said:

"Jewish defense forces (are) determined (to) resist this new phase (of) invasion at all costs."

"We appeal to you as president," Shertok concluded, "to promote appropriate action with greatest urgency."

Earlier the Jewish Agency lambasted anew proposals for a trusteeship in the Holy Land.

In a slashing attack on both the United States and the U. N., the Agency warned that Palestine Jews would fight to the end rather than

Chief of Police Floyd Eddins, who arrested Taylor, said he asked the senator to use a white entrance at the Alliance Gospel Tabernacle. Eddins said Taylor attempted to go through a Negro entrance.

Taylor was scheduled to address the conference.

ALABAMA VOTERS TO TEST REVOLT

Southern State Will Get First Chance To Show Feeling Toward Legislation

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 1.—(AP)—Alabama's Democrats Tuesday will provide the first primary test of the South's revolt against President Truman over civil rights.

This will come about in two ways. One is extremely rare, if not unprecedented, in the history of the two-party system in the United States.

Since the Alabama primary is tantamount to election, the Democrats will nominate 11 electoral candidates who will be free to vote as they please. The state Supreme Court has so ruled.

In addition, the state's approximately 400,000 Democrats will be asked to select 26 delegates to the National Convention from among 84 candidates.

Twenty-eight candidates for convention delegate have pledged to walk out of the convention if a civil rights plank is included in the platform, 35 are opposed to such action and 21 are uncommitted.

And 21 of the 28 candidates for electoral posts have pledged not to vote for President Truman if nominated by the national party, or any other candidate whose platform includes a civil rights plank.

The other seven candidates are noncommital.

Should the balloting in the electoral college be extremely close, Alabama's 11 votes would be of immense importance.

For Alabama's Democrats, the naming of 11 pledged electors would by-pass any action taken by the National Convention, or the state's delegates to the National Convention.

Normally, the electors would be pledged to vote in the electoral college for the candidate nominated by the national party, but in this case they will be free agents.

If they objected to major party candidates, they could vote for any one they pleased; perhaps, Alabama's governor James E. Folsom, a candidate for favorite-son status, or Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Eisenhower has drawn the support of National Democratic Committeeman Marion Rushton and 21 other candidates for delegate to the National Convention. Eight of the electoral candidates have pledged to him.

The voters also will nominate a United States senator and nine U. S. representatives. Former State Revenue Commissioner Phillip J. Hamm and three others are opposing Senator John Sparkman, and eight of the nine representatives have opposition. Folsom is backing Hamm.

Boyle's Notebook

By Hal Boyle

IN THE BLACK HILLS, S. D., May 1.—(AP)—A jailbreaking bear, a mooching mountain sheep, a coyote that eats ice cream, a duck that resents being called "Hammerhead"—

These are a few of the pets with personality I've met here in the Black Hills, a natural wonderland for animal life.

The mountain sheep — known as "Minnie the Moocher"—and Molasses, the jailbreaking bear, live in the Custer State Park, a 128,000-acre tract in which room some of the world's largest buffalo, deer and elk herds.

Minnie, who by nature should be wild and shy, is the park's biggest handout artist. She makes morning and afternoon calls on 15 families living along Grace Coolidge Creek and she isn't a bit sheepish about asking.

"She loves dry bread," said Mrs. Carl Burgess, wife of the park superintendent. "But she is getting to be a problem child. She'd walk right into the house now if she got an invitation. Last winter I had trouble feeding two deer because Minnie kept chasing them away. She's jealous. The only animal that doesn't get out of her way is the porcupine."

Molasses is a two-year-old bear cub with a Houdini touch.

She disappeared from her cage one night. Three days later the keepers found her back inside again. By watching they found she had learned a way to twist her large head through the bars and then slither free.

On one of her sprees she was treed and a telephone repairman hauled her down with a lasso. When a bystander laughed at her plight, Molasses promptly bounded over and bit him in the foot. Now Molasses is in a brown study—a brown black bear study—trying to figure out a way to beat past a new electric wire strung around her cage.

In Deadwood—Wild Bill Hickok's last resting place—Fred Borsch, son of a pioneer family, has hand-raised "Tootsie," a coyote now a year old.

Fred and his wife, Esther, treat this odd pet as gently as a child. At night Tootsie sleeps on their bed and looks forward to her regular weekend treat—a double dip of ice cream.

She broke the law only once—to kill a couple of tempting chickens. But Fred sprinkled red pepper on her feathered prey. Since then Tootsie won't have anything to do with chickens—dead or living. She prefers cooked hamburger to raw meat, and likes it done medium well.

Friends think in time she will revert to the wild, but Fred doesn't. She roams at will during the day. The wild coyotes in the hills, however, won't answer her howls or have anything to do with her. They don't like a coyote that wears any man's collar.

"I spanked her once and for two days she wouldn't come when I called," Fred said. "I decided then that no matter what she did I would never strike her again. The only thing she responds to is love and kindness."

Donald, the duck that doesn't like being called "Hammerhead," is the chief joy of Bernice Musekamp, a robust lady whose picturesque vocabulary, skillet skill and battles with tax collectors are legendary in the Black Hills.

Donald is a king of "watch duck." He quacks and pecks at Mrs. Musekamp at night to awaken her if he hears a prowler.

"He's just like a dog that way," she said.

Donald bows formally when asked to say, "Howdy do." He wears a red jacket but hates it because it restrains his wings. So he pecks at the buttons until it comes unfastened. I expressed some doubt that a duck cared what name you called him, and was invited to "try and see."

"Hi, you old 'Hammerhead'," I jeered. "How's old Hammerhead?"

Donald's head shot up. The tempo of his quacking became faster. He waddled over, hissing and quacking and pecked vigorously at my shins with his blunt bill. He quit only after I apologized three times.

In these mountains podner, you got to smile when you call a duck a Hammerhead.

A Weak, Run-Down Feeling Is Often A Warning

That The Red-Blood Is Getting Low

If you do not feel like your real self, do not have the urge to be up and doing, why not check-up on your blood strength? Look at the palms of your hands, your fingernails, your lips, the lobes of your ears—are they pale and off color?

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

A Timely Warning

Municipal Judge W. M. Harper, with his usual thoroughness, has made an analysis of figures recently released showing traffic fatalities during 1947. Judge Harper made the survey as a service to the public and issues a timely warning that all motorists should heed.

The judge's breakdown of the figures shows the following causes that produced deaths due to motor vehicle accidents: Speeding caused 9,410 deaths, or 44.7 per cent; 3,140 deaths, or 14.9 per cent were caused by drivers violating right-of-way rules; 2,600 deaths or 12.3 per cent were brought about due to driving on the wrong side of the street or road; 720 deaths, or 3.4 per cent occurred because of passing other cars on the wrong side of the road; 2,700 deaths, or 12.8 per cent were the result of reckless driving; 550 deaths, or 2.6 per cent were blamed to failure of automobile drivers to give proper signals or no signalling at all; 1,030 deaths, or 4.9 per cent happened when drivers drove off the highways. The balance occurred from such causes as cutting in, passing other cars on hills or curves and other miscellaneous causes.

That's a rather apalling total of fatalities, isn't it? We wonder if drivers who take their usual Sunday spin today will let that sink in, or will we have the usual number of accidents to report in Monday's papers?

"It is crystal clear from the above analysis," Judge Harper says, "that slower speeds on the highways is our most immediate need.

"If we would be safe in driving we must be constantly alert, always apprehensive of the other driver's carelessness and ever ready to protect ourselves against it."

That's some pretty sound advice. Why not listen to a man who is well qualified to give it?

THE NEW POSTMASTER

The announcement several days ago that Woodrow Hathorn had been nominated by Representative Otto Passman to become Monroe's acting postmaster—and most probably the city's permanent head of this important governmental department, pending a change in administrations—was generally approved here. Mr. Hathorn is a young man of proven ability whose appointment was dictated entirely upon his merits. Thus we wish to congratulate both Mr. Hathorn and Mr. Passman on the appointment.

Usually such "plums" are passed out on a basis of practical politics. But such wasn't the case this time. Mr. Hathorn has a record of efficient service in the department, and that won for him a deserved promotion. We are told that neither Mr. Hathorn or his family took an active part in the last campaign for representative, and that Mr. Passman's opponent received the votes of several persons close to the new postmaster. That certainly is proof that fair play is not entirely overlooked in some political circles.

Mr. Passman has been criticized in some quarters for his vote on the Taft-Hartley act. We believe in that respect that he voted his convictions, just as did an overwhelming majority of members of Congress. That is the only "blot" on his record that we've heard of, and an analysis of such opposition is easily understood.

We wish more of our public servants would consider competence over political expedience in their appointments.

WALLACE NEEDS ENLIGHTENMENT

"I don't know of a single American principle or public interest which would have to be sacrificed to make peace with Russia," says Henry A. Wallace, "and I don't know of a single principle or public interest we aren't sacrificing to support this suicidal 'get tough' policy of the present administration."

It would be interesting if Mr. Wallace would explain this extravagant statement. But since his negative assertion amounts to a confession of ignorance, an explanation may not be possible. So an attempt to enlighten him might be made here.

Let us take just one American principle—the belief that all men are endowed by their Creator with the unalienable rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. That principle we have sacrificed in the case of the peoples in countries that have suffered political conquest by Russia.

If today we were to make peace with Russia we should have to sacrifice that same principle in the case of unconquered Europe and Asia and ultimately, perhaps, of ourselves. For any end of the cold war at present would have to be on Russia's terms. The Soviets have the armed might and the strategic advantage. We have only potential strength.

Even if our foreign aid succeeds in its purpose, quickly and completely, even if we mobilize our potential strength so that Russia will not dare wage war against us, the people of the satellite countries will still be sacrificed. For the peace that we must achieve with Russia will have to be a peace based on compromise and the status quo.

Maybe Mr. Wallace does not believe that the Russian leaders and their Communist agents in the conquered lands have taken the life of some who have opposed them. Maybe he does not believe that communism forbids the liberty to disagree and criticize without fear, a liberty which he himself exercises so freely in his attack on the government's foreign policy.

Maybe Mr. Wallace thinks that, under imposed communism, there are no obstacles to the pursuit of happiness. Otherwise he could not have made the statement above with the sincerity his admirers are always boasting about.

"It isn't appeasement," says the third-party candidate, "to urge strong controls on international cartels who are dictating our foreign policy or to urge the building of a world federation with a police force greater than the military force of any individual power."

The talk about international cartels is simply his own accusation, frequently made but never proved. As for the world police force, Mr. Wallace seems to overlook the U. N. efforts to create one. These efforts have not succeeded, and for a familiar reason—Russian disagreement.

Under the Russian proposal this force could not be stronger than that of any individual power. For Russia wants an equal contribution from each of the Big Five powers. For instance, the U. S. would contribute only as many airplanes as China and only as many battleships as Russia.

So it appears again that Mr. Wallace is tailoring fact and reason to suit his own purposes. And in spite of all his denials, those purposes still have all the appearances of being directed toward appeasement.

IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, May 1.—I hear MGM has awarded Spencer Tracy a "lifetime" contract, very much like the one given to Clark Gable. . . . Altar-minded: Songwriter Jimmy McHugh and Phyllis Vanderbilt. . . . Look for an early "break" in the year-old Bugsy Siegal murder case. . . . Gregory Peck's broken leg has mended sufficiently to let him guest-star, May 5, on the "Duffy's Tavern" airshow. . . . On the stork's list for October: Cass Daley and her husband, business man Frank Kinsella.

Peter Lind Hayes is under doctor's care with a persistent throat infection. . . . Wotzis about Norma Sheerer seeking a screen comeback via a picture to be made in France? . . . Hear Dick Button, American figure skating star of the winter Olympics, has said "yes" to big money offers from Sonja Henie and will join her ice review. . . . The Forrest Tuckers, separated since March, have reconciled. . . . Secretly married: Ilona Massey and Jay Kurtz. . . . Lawrence Tibbett, Jr., now 28, is bidding for a screen career.

If Deanna Durbin wants to hush rumors that she's romancing with Vincent Price, she shouldn't book a vacation in England at the same time when he'll be there, making a movie. . . . Lynn Bari is hospitalized—a damaged sacroiliac. . . . I understand Billie Burke, widow of the late Florenz Ziegfeld, will be a regular on Eddie Cantor's airshow, come fall. . . . Pals report that the feud between Warner Brothers and Director John Huston will reach the courts soon.

PREVIEW NIGHTS: Pic of the week: 20th Century-Fox's "The Green Grass of Wyoming" (Peggy Cummins-Charles Coburn-Robert Arthur-Lloyd Nolan). Another "Thunderhead" classic, even better than its predecessors—and don't forget to take the kids for they'll love it. . . . RECOMMENDED: Allied Artists' "The Dude Goes West" (Eddie Albert-Gale Storm) Western satire, and hilarious comedy from start to finish. . . . Warner Brothers' "The Woman in White" (Eleanor Parker-Alexis Smith-Sidney Greenstreet-Gig Young). A thrill-packed mystery, based on Wilkie Collins' classic—and proof that a great story is never outdated. . . . SO-SO: Allied Artists' "The Argyle Secrets" (William Gargan-Marjorie Lord). Class B crime melodrama. . . . Republic's "The Gold Frontiersman." Allan Lane in a mile-a-minute western thriller—formula "B". . . . BEST PERFORMANCE: Charles Coburn in "Green Grass of Wyoming."

Van Johnson has been a target for much criticism in the past year or two—and in my opinion, he's deserved considerable criticism—but it seems to me that he's had far less praise than he's deserved on one count. I'm referring to his loyalty to the patients in Uncle Sam's big Birmingham Hospital. Regularly, for nearly three years, Johnson has paid those unfortunates at least one visit a week, taking them gifts, chatting with them, doing everything in his power to cheer them up. His devotion is the more remarkable when its contrasted with the forgetfulness displayed by most of Hollywood's headliners. And it's won him just as many firm friends as there are patients in Birmingham Hospital.

Now that Lana Turner and her Bob Topping are Mr. and Mrs., it would be nice if we could just forget the entire affair, but the chances for that are slim indeed. The final display of bad taste is yet to come. If you doubt that prediction invest a few nickels, a couple of months hence, in copies of the leading fan magazines and read the articles which will drool over the ecstatic happiness of the newly weds. Well, I suppose that the editors would be guilty of ingratitude if they did less than that. For ten years, Miss Turner has been one of their best sources of copy—and I'd be willing to make a few side bets on my conviction that she will be again in the not too distant future.

Republic Studio, I hear, has scheduled for production a story entitled "Drums Along the Amazon." It's a yarn about an exotic jungle beauty who never grows old. I'm surprised at Republic, in view of the fact that it has always prided itself on its skill in "type-casting." Whereas, even here in Hollywood, it will be impossible to find an actress who never grows old, it would have been simple to find a real-life glamour gal to fit the leading role if the story were changed in one small particular. Why didn't they make it a drammer about a lady who never grows up?

One of our local columnists reports that Myrna Dell is supervising the redecoration of Jimmy Stewart's house, and concludes, from that, that marriage is inevitable. Bosh! Maybe Jimmy's just financially embarrassed. Have you tried to hire a real interior decorator lately?

GLOBAL RECOVERY

The Congress has recently approved an initial—and the word "initial" should be emphasized—appropriation of $6,300,000,000 toward the global recovery plan. This sum was to be made available for the first fifteen months operation of the plan.

When the Marshall plan was first proposed, no amount of money was mentioned. When this broadened into the European recovery plan, to extend over a five-year period and to aid sixteen nations of western Europe, the sum most usually mentioned was $17 billion. Some considerable objection arising to mentioning any total sum, and certainly to committing the nation beyond the next fiscal year, the total sum was dropped from consideration and all mention of amounts was confined to the initial appropriation.

The whole movement later enlarged into the global recovery plan, and it was generally understood and realized that once this nation embarked upon the plan, we would have to see it through. Estimates as to its eventual cost have ranged as high as $100 billion and never less than $17 billion, and we now find the administrator of the plan, Paul G. Hoffman—supposedly a conservative businessman—in one of his very first public statements, stating that the initial appropriation of $6,300,000,000 for the first fifteen months is probably not enough.

It is not the purpose of this article to discuss the advisability of the United States entering upon a global recovery plan, even to consider whether it was the lesser of two evils; it is the purpose of this article to give us some conception of what we are getting from the pure dollar and cents viewpoint. Let's at least know what we are doing!

The vastness of the costs of war and public debts in these later years is such that it is difficult for the average person to have any conception of what the total figures actually mean. The immensity of the figures has confused our thinking. This is unquestionably true of our national debt, now standing at approximately $260 billion, and it is still true as we consider the cost of global recovery.

Perhaps as good a way as any to bring the meaning of the figures down to us is to break them up on a state level. It perhaps did not sink in on many of us just what the initial appropriation toward global recovery meant financially, but when we consider our state shares of this $6,300,000,000 on a pro rata population basis, and compare these shares with our state debts, we begin to get some idea. These figures, so far as the southern states are concerned, are set forth in the following table:

	State Debt 1946	State's Share Of Initial Global Recovery Plan
Alabama	$ 63,522,000	132,300,000
Arkansas	134,619,000	88,200,000
Florida	1,269,000	88,000,000
Georgia	8,358,000	151,200,000
Kentucky	5,656,000	132,350,000
Louisiana	158,034,000	107,100,000
Maryland	34,699,000	81,900,000
Mississippi	65,748,000	100,800,000
Missouri	63,545,000	176,400,000
North Carolina	101,868,000	163,800,000
Oklahoma	27,261,000	105,000,000
South Carolina	75,595,000	88,000,000
Tennessee	76,500,000	138,600,000
Texas	12,187,000	302,400,000
Virginia	22,530,000	119,700,000
West Virginia	68,226,000	83,000,000

The comparisons are striking. And we must remember that this is just the beginning! And let's not forget that the only source from which the federal government can obtain the money with which to finance this plan is from the people back in the various states. And, if we would like to know what global recovery will finally cost us, we can only multiply the figures in the right-hand column by the algebraical equation x.

In this connection, it might be pointed out that if someone should be curious as to his state's share of the present national debt and would like to get hold of a real figure, he could ascertain that sum by multiplying the figures in the right-hand column by 40.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

One of the really vital problems of human betterment and progress is that of making reforms stick.

Under the influence of a great leader, a Moses, an Elijah, an Ezra, a Savonarola, or a D. L. Moody, a community or a people rises to a height of religious enthusiasm and moral quickening, even though religious enthusiasm and moral quickening have not, unfortunately, always gone hand in hand.

Under this awakened fervor new impulses and attitudes are established. Evil ways and habits are renounced. Harmful and questionable institutions and practices are purged. New generosities and sacrificial devotions are easily fostered, and it looks as if a new day had dawned.

Sometimes the reform and quickening are induced by some outstanding event. A great disaster falls upon some community, and selfish motives become lost in united action of a very noble sort. Even war, with all its horrors, as we have seen in two world wars, may unite a people in high endeavor and devotion to the common defense, welfare and safety.

Then, as we have seen also in two world wars, relapse sets in. People return to their old ways. Selfishness becomes evident where yesterday there was a sense of community and devotion to the common good. And this unfortunately has been the history of almost all movements of reform. The deepest problem of reform is that of making reform movements stick.

An outstanding example was of the way in which the Puritan revival in Cromwell's time in England quickly became succeeded by the restoration of the Stuarts and one of the worst periods of degradation and debauchery in the entire history of mankind.

But we have had examples nearer home. Was there ever a more morally earnest and spirtually minded group than the Pilgrims, who founded the Plymouth colony? Yet a former Plymouth minister, who knew the history of the colony well once told me that there was a serious moral letdown in the second generation.

These thoughts are suggested by the story of the reforms in Israel under Ezra, described in the Biblical Book of Ezra, and evidence of what happened subsequently as it is found in the Book of Malachi and other late prophetic books of the Old Testament.

But reforms, if they have been deep and sincere, never become wholly reversed. There is a seed or germ of moral quickening that takes root again, as is evidenced in the spiritual life of the restored Israel and its relation to the rise and spread of Christianity.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

SAWED OFF JAIL BARS WITH HIS SOCKS—Fred Tredwell, arrested for burglary and incarcerated in the Lyon county jail at Emporia, Kansas, in 1889, spent two months of his time carrying out his scheme of escape. Tredwell wore home-made woolen socks which he raveled into yarn. He covered the yarn with soap and rolled it in sand and cement particles which he scraped from the cell walls. The sanded yarn acted as a rasp, and each night the prisoner drew the strand over the cell bars, eventually severing them completely. After his escape he was again jailed, and then revealed his carefully laid and laboriously executed plans.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

REARMAMENT

Nothing better could have happened to this country at this time than the debate between Secretary of Defense James Forrestal and Secretary for Air W. Stuart Symington over the nature of our rearmament and its cost. Of course, the layman might ask the question while listening to the debate, how it happened that this country, which gathered together and equipped the largest army, navy and air force in all the world, let it go down as low as the debaters say it has gone? This is an astonishing performance, particularly as it is clear from the Byrnes, Hull and Stimson memoirs that it was evident at Yalta that the Russians were planning to succeed to the Nazi conquests in Europe. Certainly, by Potsdam there could be no doubt about their intentions.

Why then were the army, navy and Air Forces practically disbanded; why were stores of equipment abandoned, destroyed or sold at a few cents on the dollar?

Forrestal insists upon a balanced defense within the margins of the economic and political needs of the country. He insists that while the air force is important and while a war can be lost for the wants of an adequate one, an army and navy are still needed. For instance, the possession by Soviet Russia of a large submarine fleet, consisting of the latest type German submarines against which we have not yet perfected a defense, is serious. Without a navy, the lanes of traffic across the seas could be closed. The army still is needed for occupation. The atomic bomb will not win a war, although it may destroy cities. Even domestically, an army is needed to put down Fifth Column forces which already exist in the United States, in what dimensions nobody knows positively.

All this is admitted, but the point Secretary Symington makes is that Russia is outproducing us 12 to 1 in airplanes. Frankly, that gave me the shivers when I first heard it and even the second time. Then I began to wonder how much of the Russian fleet was of their manufacture and how much we gave them by Lend-Lease. We gave them radar as a gift. What else did we give them as a gift?

Then I asked myself another question: For nearly 300 years, since Peter the Great tried to introduce manufactures in Russia, they produced nearly nothing. During all of Stalin's Five-Year Plans, they produced very little compared with the United States, Great Britain, Germany and Japan. The Germans almost had them until the United States intervened in the war, and then we gave them, through Lend-Lease, $11,000,000,000 of supplies. Nevertheless, we reached the Berlin area before they did, although we had a longer way to go. The fact that our troops were called back to the Elbe to wait until the Russians arrived in Berlin, in no measure vitiates the fact that the United States by land and air activity knocked the German out in his capital.

Suddenly, Russia becomes a primary manufacturing country, capable of outproducing the United States in the manufacture of airplanes by 12 to 1. I would like to know more about that. Certainly, Germany could not and did not outproduce this country, and Germany was more advanced in production than any country except the United States. Even if nothing had been destroyed in Germany during the war; even if the entire German plant remained intact; even if none of it was in Western Germany but all in the Russian areas of Germany, their plant was never equal to ours. Why then did we permit the Russians to beat us in an armament race, if Russia has beaten us?

I don't know, but it seems that James Forrestal is viewing the whole question of rearmament with greater balance, with a more rounded picture of the United States. It is easier to follow him and to accept his judgment, but we need figures on the actual Russian capacity to produce. In those figures lie our peril and our safety—and as Secretary of Defense Forrestal seems to be reasonable in his outlook, why not take the American people into his confidence?

Our Children

PREPARING FOR ADULTHOOD

Boys and girls in their teens need to have some work that allows them to feel that they are sharing in the adult world, preparing for the time when they shall take over for themselves. Looking forward to some future need and providing for it, is a fine stimulus to a wholesome outlook and activity, both most desirable at this stage of growth.

Filling a hope chest is one of the nicest things a girl can do. Into the chest—which may be a box, a shelf in the closet or a bureau drawer until the chest arrives—go all the odds and ends that will brighten a home and make it livable.

Towels trimmed and initialed sheets and pillow cases with a touch of handwork to make them personal belongings, scarves of tables and bureaus, all the hand-worked pieces of linen that the housekeeper cherishes go into the box. On birthdays and anniversaries of all sorts, kindly disposed friends and relatives add to the store. By the time the girl is married she has a worth-while collection of things that give her home an atmosphere of security and comfort. In the meantime, she has learned to work for worth-while ends, and the accomplishments have given her a feeling of fitness and power.

The boy must look forward toward his job of founding a family and supporting a home. That means preparation for his chosen work, some money laid by to further that work. In his spare time he looks for a job that is related to his future occupation, and saves the money he earns to help him complete his education and training.

A boy with such a goal will find a wholesome occupation that enlarges his field of ability and increases his feeling of usefulness and power. Every successful undertaking adds to his fund of knowledge and experience and sets him one step nearer his goal. All growing children need worthwhile work to stimulate their growth and, when they have a purpose in view, the work will be a privilege to enjoy.

Without a purpose in view, without a goal to be reached in the future, life is empty of meaning. It is that emptiness that drives boys and girls to the wasteful, vicious ways of the street corners and the roadhouses. They would much rather have something to do, a place to do it in, and a cause for the doing. Boys and girls working to save for an education, for a home, toward some dream of hope are never among the delinquents.

An obedient child is a blessing these trying days. Dr. Patri tells how to win obedience in children in his helpful booklet No. 301, obtainable by sending 10 cents (coin preferred) and a 3-cent stamp to him c/o this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

To make cream of spinach soup quickly put a pound of spinach that has been cooked through a sieve food mill; combine it with three cups of thin white sauce, reheat and season well. If there is any liquid left after cooking the spinach, it may be used as part of the milk in the white sauce.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Pitching Horseshoes

By Billy Rose

We were talking about money the other night at Lindy's, and by the time we got to the fourth cup of coffee, we had counted and spent the Rothschild and Rockefeller fortunes.

Billy Rose

Then a little man we call "the Student" rapped a spoon on his cup and took charge.

"If you're through discussing small change," he said, "I'd like to tell you about some gents who are really in the money—the Maharajahs of India. To begin with, the expression, 'as wealthy as a maharajah,' isn't a simile—it's an exaggeration. Nobody is as wealthy as a Maharajah except another Maharajah.

"I suppose you've all read about the Aga Khan whose subjects pony up his weight in gold every time he has a birthday. And about the maharajah of Gwalior who carves statuettes of his race horses out of spare emeralds.

"But did your teachers ever tell you why there's no sailboat racing in Rajputana? I didn't think so. Well, some years ago the Maharajah's boat finished last beacuse its sails were covered with gold leaf. Realizing that nobody had a boat similarly equipped, the Oriental sportsman had no choice but to ban all racing on the royal lake."

"You're making it up, Student," said one of the coffee drinkers. "Or else those fillers in Readers Digest have gone to your head."

"I'm not finished." smiled the Far East expert. "A while back, one of these potentates came to New York for an eye operation. A special operating room had to be built on the hospital roof—the theory being that if the patient died, his spirit wouldn't have to wander up and down a lot of corridors looking for Heaven.

"The operation was a success and the potentate went beck to India. The doctor sent His Highness a bill for $5,000. When several months went by without a remittance, the doctor got smart. He made out a second bill, but instead of stipulating a fee, he scrawled on it, 'The King can do no wrong.' By return mail, he got a dreft for $75,000."

"What's so unusual about that?" I said. "Many an American millionaire has built a hospital because of what one doctor did for him."

"All right," said the Student. "I'll tell you one more story, and with a bow to Bennett Cerf, Try and Top Me.

"Before the war, one of the better-fixed maharajahs imported a New York architect to build him a new palace. When it was finished, it combined gold minarets and air conditioning, jade floors and stainless steel columns, inlaid stones and frequency modulation. As a topper, the doors to the harem were equipped with electric eyes.

"The Maharajah was delighted and asked the architect to name his fee. The New Yorker said he thought the job was worth a hundred thousand dollars. The Maharajah made out the check himself with his sapphire-studded ball-point pen.

"'I don't feel this is enough,' said His Highness. 'I'd like to show my appreciation with something besides money. Perhaps a ruby, or a little bag of diamonds.'

"'You've paid me enough,' said the architect, 'but if you feel like doing something extra, you can give me a few golf clubs for Christmas.'

"'As you wish,' said the Maharajah. "On Christmas Day, a representative of the potentate walked into the architect's New York office. He was flanked by two seven-foot Sikhs.

"'His Highness wishes you a Merry Christmas,' said the representative, 'and he hopes you will enjoy your present. Here are the deeds to four golf clubs. Unfortunately, only one of them has a swimming pool.'"

CHARGE 2 WHITE MEN WITH RAPING NEGROES

WETUMPKA, Ala., May 1.—(AP)—Two white men, charged with raping two Negro women and robbing their husbands, waived preliminary hearing yesterday and were held to the grand jury without bond.

They were booked as John C. Howard Jr., 30, and Jack Oliver, 20, both of Elmore (Wetumpka) county.

Sheriff Lester Holley gave this account of the charges:

Howard and Oliver reportedly stopped a car in which Annie Grayson and Malinda Jackson, both about 25 years old, and their husbands were riding last Saturday night.

They forced the Negro men from the car at gunpoint, robbed them, and chased them away by firing shots over their heads.

The women told the sheriff the white men then forced them into a pickup truck, drove away and raped them.

J. W. CUNNINGHAM NOT YET IMPROVING

The condition of J. W. Cunningham, manager of the Parkview Pharmacy, Inc., 813 Park Avenue, who is a patient in the Vaughan-Wright-Bendel Clinic, is still quite serious. He was ill at his home for more than a week and when his condition showed no improvement he was removed to the clinic.

He is suffering from a high fever which as yet physicians have been unable to control. His many friends are hoping that he may experience an early recovery.

Two hundred eleven women are now serving in 48 state legislatures in the United States.

IMPERIAL BASHA TO COME HERE

Head Of Dokeys Will Attend Ceremonial Here May 8

Judge W. Raleigh Petteway, Miami, Fla., Imperial Basha of the Dramatic Order, Knights of Khorassan, and an internationally known leader in the Supreme Lodge, Knights of Pythias, will visit Monroe on May 8, when he will attend the ceremonial of El Miro Temple No. 187, D. O. K. K. as guest of honor. Besides being the second ranking officer of the Dramatic Order, Judge Petteway is a representative from the Florida Grand Lodge to the Supreme Lodge, K. of P., and is a member of a special committee named at the 1944 Supreme Lodge convention to recodify Pythian law. He is chairman of the Judiciary Committee of the Supreme Lodge. He has been very active as a Pythian and a Dokey for many years.

Originally he was a member of Ap Mat Temple No. 176, D. O. K. K., Tampa, Fla., and represented that temple in a number of conventions of the Imperial Palace before he located in Miami, where he now holds dual membership with Kaaba Temple No. 60.

El Miro Temple No. 187, Knights of Krossans will hold an important business meeting on Monday, May 3, at 8 p. m. at Castle hall, 127 1/2 St. John street.

J. J. Dieterich, royal vizier, wants all Dokeys please come out as final meeting for large district ceremonial on Saturday, May 8, and Mayor H. H. Benoit has declared Dokey Day for Monroe, and Mayor C. C. Bell, Jr., also has declared Dokey Day, West Monroe, and large parade with band and floats will participate.

PARENTS GO TO CUB SESSIONS

Dads And Mothers Of Youthful Scouters At Den Meeting

The second session of the Cub Scout conference for parents in West Monroe was held at the First Baptist church, West Monroe, Friday night, with A. C. Lea, Cub Scout commissioner, presiding. A fine turnout of parents from all sections of the city was present.

The theme of the Friday program was "The Cub Scout in the Den" and an interesting movie on this subject was shown. Mrs. A. C. Lea, den mother of Pack 34, Monroe, discussed the duties of all leaders connected with the den, and placed special emphasis on the duties of the den mother and how she can make the Cub Scout program effective in her neighborhood.

After a discussion of the weekly den meeting in all of its phases, a very interesting dramatization of den program planning was given. Those present participated in a dramatization of a meeting of the Cub master with his den chiefs. This planned den meeting was carried out during the evening's session.

It was announced that the next parents' Cub meeting would be held Thursday, May 6, 7:30 p. m., at the First Baptist Church, West Monroe. Organization of the pack will be completed at the end of this meeting. All parents of boys of Cub age who desire that their boy become a member of the organization, should be present at this meeting to find out what steps are necessary for their son to join. This will not be a meeting for boys, but an organization and training meeting for parents.

Those present for the first two sessions of the conference were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Brewer, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hattaway, Mrs. L. L. Bass, Mrs. O. B. Moses, M. C. Wooley, Allen L. Smith, Mrs. Allen L. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. White, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Moore, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. ELECTRICIAN IMPROVING AFTER SKULL FRACTURE

J. B. Evans, Jr., 22-year-old electrician seriously injured Friday morning when he fell from a ladder in the basement of the St. Frances Sanitarium, was reported improving by hospital attendants at the sanitarium late last night.

Evans, who lives at 1200 South Third street, was reported to have caught a live electric wire which threw him off the ladder and onto a concrete floor below.

Physicians stated the young electrician was suffering from severe skull fracture.

THE NATION TODAY By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(AP)—This brings you up to date if you're puzzled by all the mix-up in Congress over the armed forces.

There are three main points:

1. Making the air force bigger.
2. Drafting men for military service.
3. Compelling youths to take military training.

None of the three is settled yet. But this is where they stand now.

Take the air force first—

The House already has approved expanding the air force from its present strength of 55 groups to 70.

The Senate is ready to vote on the same plan, possibly next week. So this No. 1 point is nearer being finished than the other two.

(A group can be any number of planes, depending on size. A group of big bombers has fewer planes than a group of fighters.)

Secretary of Defense Forrestal first told Congress we needed only 55 groups. But when Congress talked of 70 he raised his figure to 66.

Secretary for Air Symington right along has said we needed 70 groups, though he says he does not disagree with Forrestal. It looks like Congress will approve 70 groups.

Now take the draft—

Congress is thinking of drafting men 19 through 25. So far, it's only thinking. There's no draft law yet, although six weeks ago President Truman asked for such a law to build up the armed forces.

Congress' two armed services committees—one in the House, one in the Senate, are working on separate draft bills.

When they've finished, they'll send their bills up to the full House and Senate for a vote.

There may be a lot of wrangling over those bills and they may be changed before House and Senate are through with them.

All that will take time.

Now take universal military training—

Months ago the House armed services committee finished a bill for universal military training (UMT).

That bill is all ready for a House vote. But it's been held up in the rules committee. If the full House ever acts, it may change the bill.

At any rate, this is what that UMT bill would do as it now stands:

Compel youths 18 to 20 to take six months military training in camp or on ship.

(They would not be part of the armed forces and could not be used by them except by special act of Congress.)

After their six months' training, they could do this:

1. Take another six months of it and, after that, be free of such training.
2. Join the armed forces and, after serving out their enlistment, be free of further training.
3. Go back to civilian life but, for three or four years, continue to take part-time training at school or in some reserve outfit like the national guard.

The Senate bill—as it stands now, although it's not finished—would do this:

Compel youths of 18 and 19 to take military training in the armed forces, along with draftees. But these youths could not be used overseas except by special act of Congress.

The Senate committee is wrapping up its ideas on the draft and UMT in one bill.

The House committee is handling the two things separately. It's still working on its draft bill. It's UMT bill, as explained above, was finished months ago.

No one can predict right now what Congress finally will do about UMT or the draft. Congress is split wide open in its thinking on UMT.

NEGRO WOMAN, CHILD INJURED IN FLAMES

A Negro woman and a two-year-old Negro child were seriously burned when a Negro apartment house, at 1216 DeSiard street caught fire shortly after 5 a. m. Saturday morning.

The Negro woman, Linda Lee Thomas, and the Negro girl, Velva Jean Carr, were taken to the Charity Hospital where both were reported by hospital attendants to be suffering from second and third degree burns.

The child's condition was reported "undetermined" and the woman was reported "fair."

Firemen from companies 1 and 2 fought the stubborn blaze which burned through the interior of the dwelling for almost two hours before it was controlled.

The house, firemen said, belonged to the T. N. and N. E. Conner estate and was completely demolished inside, although the exterior was hardly damaged.

The fire resulted from a defect in electrical wiring, firemen said.

NATATORIUM WILL BE OPENED MAY 9

Swayze Natatorium will open May 9 at 7 a.m. under the same personnel as last year, C. R. Tidwell, commissioner of streets and parks, announced yesterday.

The swimming pool will be open from 7 a.m. until 9:30 p.m. each day except Monday, Mr. Tidwell said.

On Mondays, he said, the pool will remain closed until 5 p.m. at which time it will be vacuum cleaned.

A new type of sanitary process is going to be used this year, Mr. Tidwell pointed out, and additional improvements have been made in the filteration system.

Jack Blanks will be in charge of the Natatorium which will be operated on the same system and under the management of last year, Mr. Tidwell said.

Cooked chopped asparagus is excellent in omelets, and some of the liquid in which it was cooked may be substituted for the water or milk that is usually used in beating the eggs. Just add the chopped asparagus to the eggs before they go into the skillet. Or make a plain omelet and roll it around some cooked asparagus stalks; garnish with a dusting of paprika.

JUNIOR FACES ROUGH TIME IF TEACHER DOESN'T LIKE TALK

DETROIT, May 1.—(AP)—Teachers in Detroit's public schools were told today to give Junior a spanking if he gets smart in class.

That goes for his sister, too.

Youngsters heretofore, it was explained, could get away with a lot, knowing there would be no laying on of hands where it hurts the most.

The matter came to a head when the mother of a 10-year-old boy complained he had been spanked in school for pulling a little girl's hair.

Superintendent Arthur Dondineau, in a formal statement, said "the teacher stands in the place of the parent towards pupils during school hours."

In other words, what works in the woodshed also works in the school room.

"The superintendent and his staff will support principals and teachers in all reasonable disciplinary measures," Dondineau added.

That, said Deputy Superintendent Herman J. Browe, includes spanking.

In recent weeks the subject of school discipline has received prominence in Michigan because of parental complaints against teachers.

"We do not advocate corporal punishment," Browe went on. "It may be used within legal and reasonable bounds and in such use the teachers have the support of the administration. On occasion, just as in the home, it may be a good solution."

Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, state superintendent of public instruction, was inclined to agree.

"The flat of the hand applied to the soft, round part of the child's body doesn't do him much harm and often does much good," he observed.

Mackenzie's Column

By DeWitt Mackenzie
(Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The inter-American conference of Bogota hasn't fulfilled all the hopes which had been built up in advance (what international parley ever does?) but it nevertheless has achieved one far-reaching success.

The 21 nations have the satisfaction of knowing that they have contributed greatly to hemispheric political solidarity. And a vital part of this contribution is the expressed determination to prevent infringement of aggressive Communism on the western world.

Time may prove that this was the most important contribution the conference could have made to our generation, coming as it does at a critical juncture in the fight-to-a-finish between Bolshevism and free nations. This battle of the isms is by far the greatest global issue of the day.

It was a whimsical fate which decreed that the conference should be disrupted by the bloody revolution which the Colombian government attributed to Communist influence. The principal item on the agenda had been hemispheric economic cooperation, but the revolt resulted in this being postponed until a later meeting in Buenos Aires, and the Bogota conference concentrated mainly on political solidarity and war against aggressive Communism. The Colombian Reds couldn't have done their cause a greater disservice.

This exhibition of inter-American solidarity, especially against the Bolshevist onslaught, comes at an opportune moment to bolster the courage of the western European nations which also have been maneuvering—some of them with extreme caution—for unity against the Red menace. Of course, the European Democracies as a whole are waiting for the rainbow of assured American military backing before they go all-out in defiance of Bolshevism, but determination is growing apace.

We have striking evidence of this in yesterday's developments from western Europe. Great Britain, Belgium, France, Holland and Luxembourg announced that they had set up a permanent military organization to defend their recently concluded alliance against attack.

This action was coincident with reports in diplomatic circles in London that the United States and the five nations in the alliance have agreed tentatively on the establishment of a western German government this year. The new nation's economy presumably would be coordinated with that of the rest of western Europe.

The problem of how far America might go in backing western Europe isn't likely to be settled until the major European powers work out their own strategy of defense. However, Secretary of State Marshall has stated that the question of giving military lend-lease to western Europe is under active consideration. British government officials also say the five-nation alliance has been given informal assurances that United States military materiel will be forthcoming once its defense plan is finished.

So this first of May—Communism's annual day of jubilation—finds the Bolshevists with far less to jubilate over, and much more to worry about, than they have had on the anniversaries of recent years. The defenses of Democracy are being consolidated rapidly—and they are formidable.

LADY LUCK DESERTS 2 SYSTEM GAMBLERS

LAS VEGAS, Nev., May 1.—(AP)—Luck finally deserting them, two university of Chicago graduates repaired to the ante room today to overhaul their system.

Their formula for roulette riches sprang a leak yesterday when a 14-hour assault on a local gambling club produced a net loss of $610.

Albert Hibbs, 23, Chillicothe, O., and Dr. Roy Walford, 23, San Diego, lost all the money won last week using their undisclosed system at another club. But they still held hopes of hitting the combination which brought the $8,000 at Reno last November.

ACTRESS BEARS CHILD AFTER MOTHER KILLED

HOLLYWOOD, May 1.—(AP)—Birth of a son to Actress Joan Barclay, only a few hours after her mother died in a fall, was announced today by RKO Studio.

Miss Barclay is the wife of Leroy Hillman, wealthy businessman. Her mother, Mrs. Emilie I. Greear, 78, succumbed after an accident at her home.

LEARNS OF SON'S SPY CONVICTION

FRANKFURT, Germany, May 1.—(AP)—George Dasch's German mother learned for the first time yesterday that her son had been convicted in 1942 as a Nazi spy.

She learned it from a reporter for the Army newspaper Stars and Stripes who also brought her the news that Dasch has been paroled from a U. S. prison and returned to Germany.

She wept with joy at the news, the paper said. She had heard he was in an American prison, but she didn't know why.

She had thought he was an anti-Nazi because he talked against Hitler on his last visit home in 1938.

Her other son, Ernst, was a soldier in the U. S. army, she said.

Her daughter, Clara, also lived in the United States for a while working as a nurse in Brooklyn.

But now Clara is back living with her aged mother, Joanna, in Speyer, in the French occupation zone.

They said George, although "the smartest member of the family," was also associating with "bad company."

They hope he will be able to visit them when he is released.

Dasch and his fellow saboteur, Ernest Burger, still are held in an unnamed detention center in Germany while American authorities work out the conditions under which they will be freed.

They were the only ones to escape execution among the group of Nazis who landed from a German submarine off the U. S. coast to sabotage American war industries.

J. P. (JOHNNIE) SIMMONS

Independent Candidate for Commissioner of Streets and Parks

Having had fourteen years' experience in the Streets and Parks Department, I hereby earnestly solicit the vote and support of the citizens of Monroe for the office of Commissioner of Streets and Parks.
If elected, I WILL

1. Endeavor to speed up completion of the drainage and sewerage project that has been started. By complete drainage, I mean to see that all alleys are drained so that they can be traveled all year. All culverts and ditches will be maintained on a grade line that will drain at all times.
2. I will place a maintenance crew with modern equipment on storm sewers to keep them in repair and to keep them open at all times.
3. Endeavor to bring our street cleaning department up to 100% efficiency by securing modern equipment.
4. All new streets that are opened up during my term of office shall be the full width of the dedicated right-of-way.
5. I propose to lengthen culverts and widen all intersections on gravel and black-top streets to make them safe.
6. All gravel streets in the city will be black-topped as fast as it is possible to do so, also alleys will be graveled.
7. All the above can be accomplished with the present revenue coming into the city.
8. Having been Superintendent of Streets and Parks for the past five years and working with the Garden Clubs, and others interested in the beautification of our City, I will endeavor to help carry the program out to the satisfaction of all parties.

OUACHITA GIRL IS CONTEST WINNER

ricular work. Miss Imogene Pliner, of Shreveport, the first scholarship winner to go to L. S. U., will be graduated there this month.

The subject for this year's essay contest was:

"Benjamin Franklin: His Influence In Our Country."

In addition to the scholarships, $400 in cash prizes were offered as special awards in small high schools. One hundred dollars in cash prizes, duplicated for boys and girls and running from $10 to $25 cash, were offerred in each of four school population groups, as follows: For high schools with less than 50 student population, with 50 to 100 students, 100 to 200 students, and 200 to 400 students. These entries were judged for the scholarships, but judging for cash awards has not yet been completed. Winners will be announced in a few days.

This year's scholarship winners present several opposites: Young Zinck is black haired and attended a large high school in one of the state's larger cities at the extreme southwestern portion of Louisiana, and is easy going by nature—an all-around athlete as well as an all-around scholar. Miss Sackett is red-haired, admits she has a bit of a temper but knows how to control it, and lives in a community listed in census records as but 452 population, thus having to go to Monroe by bus each day to attend school. Ouachita Parish High School is part of a parish school system separate from the city of Monroe school system, and Lake Charles High is in a city system separate from the Calcasieu system; one winner was from the parish type school, one from the city type.

The Ewing scholarships were established in memory of the late Colonel Robert Ewing by his children. At the time of his death, in 1931, Colonel Ewing was owner and publisher of the New Orleans States and of the Shreveport Times, and was founder of the Monroe World. He was a staunch advocate of constitutional government and of a strong public school system as a means of maintaining it. He was author of an amendment at a state constitutional convention which provided free text books in New Orleans schools and paved the way for the present statewide system of free books. His children are John D. Ewing, editor and publisher of The Shreveport Times; Wilson Ewing, publisher of the Monroe News-Star-World; Mrs. Esther Ewing Brown, of New Orleans, Robert Ewing, Jr., and James L. Ewing, also of New Orleans. Another son, Toulmin Ewing, died several years ago.

The essay contests which decide the scholarship awards each year always have as their subject the life and work of some American famous for helping to establish or maintain constitutional government in the United States. Previous subjects were George Washington, James Madison, Andrew Jackson and Woodrow Wilson. The subjects are selected by an L. S. U. faculty committee, which also does the judging. The newspapers do no judging and the judges have no knowledge of the name or school of any contestant. All identification is removed from each essay and a key number, with designation as to whether the writer is a boy or girl, given each entry. Sex designation is necessary because, under the rules, the second scholarship must go to a contestant of sex opposite to that of the first place winner—thus assuring that both a boy and a girl are sent to L. S. U. each year.

Scholarship contestants also are limited to the upper fourth, scholastically, of senior and junior high school grades, and must be certified by their principal as worthy in character, intellectually, and in general background of so valuable a prize as four years of college education free.

The L. S. U. committee which selects each year's subjects and does the judging is made up of: Dr. William O. Scroggs, dean of the graduate school, chairman; Professor Harlan Linneus McCracken of the L. S. U. school of economics, and Professor Benjamin Foster Mitchell of the school of education.

LAKE CHARLES YOUTH SEEKS WRITING CAREER

LAKE CHARLES, La., May 1.—(Special)—Jim Zinck—everyone calls him Jim—first-prize winner in this year's Ewing scholarships, already has decided that he is not going to try to follow in his father's footsteps in the choice of a professional career and be an engineer.

"I'd have to be good in math," is the way the 17-year-old essay contest winner puts it, "and math and I are not good pals. English is my best subject. When I go to college I'm going to major in English, and take courses in journalism and art."

The Lake Charles High School senior says that English and journalism will be part of his serious preparation for a career as a writer.

And the art? "Oh, that's for a hobby," he says. "I'll just mess around with painting for the fun of it." He said he became interested in painting —"nothing fancy," he quickly points out—while working on school poster projects.

A four-year scholarship at Louisiana State University fits nicely into the plans of the Zinck family. Jim and his parents say they had talked of him going to the John McNeese Junior College branch of L. S. U. in Lake Charles for one or two years before he enters the main university, but under the terms of the scholarship he will go to L. S. U. next fall.

Jim Zinck and his mother, Gertrude Lamkin Zinck, are both natives of Huntsville, Tex. Jim's father, a Canadian by birth, was drawn south by the lure of Texas oil from his native Nova Scotia in 1922. In Canada he had been a school teacher and a banker, and in World War I he served in the Royal Air Force. He met and married Jim's mother at Huntsville when she was 17.

Mr. Zinck says that after he "married into the Lamkin family" he found himself in the hardware, and not the oil business.

"In finally got out of the hardware business and into the oil business, but not in the way I had planned when I left Canada. Instead of the dreams of oil gushers, I found myself busy with the job of getting the oil where they wanted it to be."

Mr. Zinck is a partner in a firm of pipe line contractors which specializes in the coating and wrapping of the pipe going into new lines. The firm, Clem A. Mayes Contracting Company, operates throughout the mid-continent and gulf coast areas.

Besides Jim the Zincks have one other child, Miss Alma Ann Zinck. The older sister of the Lake Charles student is a secretary to a sales executive for Humble Oil and Refining Company in Houston, Tex. Miss Zinck is a graduate of Sam Houston State Teachers College of Texas. Also, her mother's alma mater.

Mr. and Mrs. Zinck and Jim moved to Lake Charles from Huntsville six years ago.

Mrs. Zinck says she talked Lake Charles city officials out of putting her son back a grade, and he was enrolled in 6-B at Central Elementary School, on a trial basis. That he made good was confirmed in the next two years when he jumped from the seventh to the ninth grade during the acceleration period of Louisiana's change-over to the 12-year system. His ability was proven further in the last four years.

When Jim Zinck graduates from Lake Charles High School in June he will leave behind him a long list of scholastic and athletic accomplishments, as well as a record of popularity among fellow students.

For one thing, he is editor of the school year book, "Cat-A-Log"; he was on the staff as class editor in his junior year.

Jim was also president of his roll call division while a junior, and he is now a member of the student council.

This spring Jim was honored again when students elected him king for the annual homecoming ball, after naming him duke from his class in each of his first three years in high school.

Jim was a member of the "B" football squad for two years before making the varsity in his senior year. He says he doesn't remember whether or not he got into the state class AA semi-finals game against Fair Park of Shreveport last fall. "If I did, it wasn't for very long," he added.

Young Zinck was "too busy" for track this year, but was on the team for the previous two years. He was a member of the school's relay team which holds the district record for the 440 and 880, and he also ran a leg in the mile relay.

Jim doesn't plan to play football in college. He's a well-built youngster, but weighed only 145 pounds last season and up to only 160 pounds now. "You get beat up too much in football," Jim says, probably remembering the two hard years on the "B" team in scrimmages against the varsity. "I do plan to go out for track at L. S. U., however."

Jim's hobbies are sports, with fishing and hunting preferred. He goes dove hunting with schoolmates—with a shotgun—but he also likes to hunt with a .22 rifle. "We just 'hunt' tin cans, mostly, when we go out with our .22s." He does some casting, but likes ordinary pole fishing, too. Jim tried fly fishing in mountain streams while vacationing several summers with his parents at Red River, Mexico, but decided that he likes "nigger (pole) fishing" better.

His eyes lighted with enthusiasm when he and his father started talking about their trip up a mountain peak at Red River last year. Jim, a school chum, Dolan Mayes, now a McNeese College student, and his father climbed far above the timber line to reach Lost Lake.

The youngster was busy showing snapshots he took while they were near the top of the mountain, "where dad nearly froze to death," when his mother asked him, "How about those medals you won the target range at camp?" Jim went to Camps Stewart and Sterling, boys camps near Houston, for several summers.

Young Jim was gone from the room a moment, but he came back with more snapshots he had taken while on the mountain where Mr. Zinck, Jim and his friend had huddled in their sleeping bags while it sleeted and snowed. "Dad sure was cold."

Mrs. Zinck looked admiringly at her husband and strong young son, as they laughed together again over their experience in mountain climbing. "Jim is not as poor in mathematics as he leads everyone to believe," she said. "He's a member of the school honor society, and you have to have a B average or better for that. And a B average is considered good in the Lake Charles city schools.

"And speaking of the Lake Charles schools, they've certainly been good to Jim since we came here. They've given him just about every honor there is."

There was a note of gratitude in her voice, and there was a world of pride in the eyes of this mother as she turned towards her handsome young son.

James Howard Zinck, Lake Charles High School winner of first place in this year's Essay contest for the Annual Robert Ewing L. S. U. Scholarships is shown above at home with his parents. Mr. Zinck is a native of Nova Scotia and served in the Royal Air Force in World War I. Mrs. Zinck is a native of Huntsville, Texas.

Anna Lois Sackett, Ouachita Parish High School winner of second place in this year's Essay contest for Annual Robert Ewing L. S. U. Scholarships is shown here at the piano with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Sackett of Fairbanks. Mr. and Mrs. Sackett came to Louisiana from Cincinnati, Ohio, a number of years ago.

Text Of 2nd Place Essay

By Anna Lois Sackett
(Senior, Ouachita Parish High School)

One of the greatest men America has ever produced is Benjamin Franklin. Surely God destined him for a great purpose, because inborn in Franklin was a genius that has perhaps never been equaled in American history.

One hardly knows in which classification to place Franklin, for in all of his undertakings, whether great or small, he left a lasting impression. His influence is found in many phases of American life. A gifted man, he was a scientist, an inventor, a printer, a writer, a patriot and a diplomat. Because of his amazing versatility and innumerable accomplishments, Franklin has been called the first modern American.

However, all of these pursuits did not prevent Franklin from being a devoted family man and a friend to many. There has never been any other notable figure in American history whose human relationships were so warm, so interesting, so varied. Even today, 158 years after his death, Franklin is honored and loved by all, perhaps because he lived his belief that family and friendship, mutual trust and affection, form so large a part of the American way of life. Franklin has probably contributed more useful ideas and influenced more minds than any other great man.

As a scientist, Franklin was more outstanding in the field of electricity than in any other branch of science. He was internationally hailed as the world's foremost electrician in his time. His book, "Experiments and Observations on Electricity" was in demand in many countries. Far-reaching in its ascendancy, the book was a reliable text on the electrical field, and in it Franklin introduced electrical terms which are in use today. After seeing an electrical demonstration in Boston in 1746, Franklin soon became engrossed in electrical experiments of his own. In a short time, his work was far ahead of European discoveries. He stated that he had never before become engaged in any study that so totally absorbed his attention and time as electricity.

Among his many observations, foremost was the discovery of the action of points in drawing on and throwing off electrical fire. One of Franklin's greatest scientific achievements was his test concerning the Leyden jar. The scientist reached the conclusion that instead of electricity being created by friction, as was commonly believed, it was merely added to or taken from glass by rubbing. When the Leyden jar became charged, one side gained what the other side of the jar lost, and the total quantity of electricity remained the same. By this conclusion, Franklin presented the law of conservation of charge for condensers.

Franklin was the first to discover that electricity has a magnetic effect. This is the fundamental principle in the development of the operation of the telegraph, the telephone and the electric motor.

In addition to the significance and usefulness of Franklin's discoveries mentioned in the book he wrote, he is world known for his hypothesis concerning the electrical nature of lighting. Before his experiment with the celebrated electrical kite, it was the general belief that lightning was caused by the explosion of poisonous gases in the air. Franklin, in 1749, proved that electrical fluid and lightning had similar properties of giving light, color of light, crooked direction, swift motion, being conducted by metals, crack or noise in exploding, subsisting in water or ice, rending bodies through which it passes, destroying animals, melting metals, firing inflammable substances, and sulphurous smell. Then, concluding that lightning possesses properties of electricity, Franklin invented the lightning rod through discoveries about points. He found that a pointed conductor would discharge an electrified body—hence the introduction of the lightning rod.

Franklin desired no profit from his lightning rod, his principal intention was to broaden the scientific field with his discoveries. Franklin's influence and fame as a subduer of lightning and contributor of electrical experiments is recognized universally.

Franklin's achievements in the field of medicine were noteworthy and one of his chief interests was the study and cure of disease. This great humanitarian, although he had no formal medical education, made outstanding researches on the common cold, lead poisoning, and other ailments. Early in 1784, while Franklin was in Paris, he was appointed by King Louis XVI to serve on a commission for the purpose of investigating hypnotical cures practiced by Frederick Mesmer. It was largely through the sagacity of Franklin's reports that Mesmer was forced to discontinue his deceptive practice.

Some of Franklin's contributions to knowledge and human welfare have a direct bearing on the subject of health. He was a pioneer in the diagnosis of lead poisoning. His letters on the subject are classics in medical literature. He believed lead poisoning was due to a metallic cause, for he had observed that it affected persons who worked with lead. It was his belief that particles of lead were swallowed by workers who did not thoroughly wash their hands before they ate.

Franklin was in advance of his generation in many ways regarding the treatment of disease and personal hygiene. He also had modern ideas about the use of water, and the necessity of abundance of fresh air.

His belief in general principles of the cause and remedy of the common cold are in harmony with the ideas of the modern physician. He maintained that colds were contagious and were spread by crowds in places with an insufficient supply of air. His theories on air conditioning were developed as a result of this. Franklin was not only preoccupied with the cause and prevention of the common cold, but he dabbled in pharmacy to find a treatment for it. He advised taking medicine at the first sign of a cold for, he said, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

Benjamin Franklin was a man who believed in the scientific way of Methodical research. He was an ardent observer of weather conditions and made numerous improvements on meteorological instruments. Franklin's interest in natural phenomena was constant. In 1743, Franklin made his first meteorological conclusion of importance, when he observed that northeast storms originate in the southwest or, in other words, that storms travel in an opposite direction to the wind, and that their course can be plotted.

Not the least of Franklin's contributions to meteorology and natural science was his study of the Gulf Stream. It was he who first had the Gulf Stream charted, and it was he who discovered that waves could be calmed by oil. These contributions to meteorology and oceanography signified progress towards exact knowledge.

Franklin had no superstitions about the physical world, he wanted to understand the world, in order to control it for the benefit of mankind.

During Franklin's stay in Paris, he took an interest in aeronautics. He beheld the first balloon ever to leave the ground sent up by the Montgolfier brothers, and he kept up with later experiments. His interests in these early aeronautical attempts show his discernment for future developments in the scientific field.

Franklin was one of the first Americans to realize that America's natural resources should not be wasted. He termed farming as the "most honorable of all employments." He felt that farming was not only a means of life, but a business and a science as well.

Standing out distinctly among Franklin's services is his introduction of new varieties of useful plants and grains. He was the first person to experiment with gypsum as a fertilizer.

Although Franklin had less than two years of formal schooling, he helped found two colleges, and was instrumental in founding at least six others. He set forth educational theories that are in practice today. Because he did not attend school, his thirst for learning caused him to work out his own system of education.

In his theories he stressed self-activity and practical learning. It was this principle of practicality which influenced his desire that the academy he founded, be based on an English school, rather than a Latin school. This academy, later the University of Pennsylvania, was Franklin's most prominent single contribution to institutional education.

Franklin originated the elective system of college studies and also the group system, adopted later by many leading universities. He was the first writer on education to recommend the teaching of modern languages in place of Latin and Greek. It was also he who first suggested athletics as part of college education. These are the ways in which Franklin directly influenced education, but he also had indirect influence through sayings of Poor Richard, for many children who were educated at home were taught to read from Poor Richard's Almanac, Franklin's most important publication. Its lessons of thrift and morality greatly affected the people. These sayings were household words in the colonies. Whether or not Franklin taught within an educational system, his wisdom and nature made him a natural teacher.

Music also held an attraction for Benjamin Franklin, particularly the old Scotch ballads. In fact, Franklin even invented the armonica, an instrument of 37 spherically shaped glasses mounted on an iron spindle which ran through holes in their centers. In addition to playing on his armonica, Franklin also could play the harp, the guitar and the violin. He composed several lyrics himself.

Franklin was constantly inventing new and better ways to overcome difficulties of practically any and every nature. He never bothered to secure patents for his inventions, as he only wished to enlighten the labor of people in any way he could.

The world is indebted to Franklin for his invention of bifocal lens. Because he could not see objects far from him with his spectacles on, nor could he see objects near him with them off, he conceived the idea that if plane glass were substituted in the upper half of his lens, he might be enabled to see either far or near by merely raising or lowering his eyes. What a blessing and relief from inconvenience this has been to so many.

While in London in 1771, Franklin invented a smoke-consuming stove, which was a great aid to comfort and a prevention of unnecessary disease. He also contrived the first wood-burning stove, called the Frankline stove. Other conveniences invented by Franklin include a copying machine, a mechanical arm for taking books from high shelves, a medical instrument called the flexible catheter, inventer for his brother who was a doctor, and innumerable other contrivances.

To the young, promising city of Philadelphia, Franklin added improvements of paved streets, better lighting, the first library, the first academy, and aided in founding the first hospital. When Franklin first came to Philadelphia, it was showing evidence of becoming a great city. Franklin applied his talents through his newspaper, his Junto, and his Masonic lodge, and he left an unforgettable impression in the organization of a metropolitan Philadelphia.

Through all his life, Franklin was very proud of his profession as a printer, and on his epitaph, which he himself wrote, he is referred to as "B. Franklin, Printer."

Franklin started out in life as an apprentice to a printer. He always liked the work because he liked writing his opinion and influencing the thoughts of others. After being employed in printer's shops in America, Franklin went to England for a post-graduate course in a shop of Samuel Palmer, at a time when the trade was stirring up new ideas and a new enthusiasm. When he returned to Philadelphia to resume work for Samuel Keimer, he had become outstanding in the trade for his ability, learning and experience. Soon he went into business for himself, and for many issues of his paper, the Pennsylvania Gazette, he was writer as well as publisher. However, Franklin's real contribution to the art of printing in colonial America was his effort to present correct and pleasing versions of his material. He did not believe printing was a means of artistic expression. His pride in his profession was part of his entire attitude toward life, an attitude of respect for practical, skilled and honest labor.

The American way of life is exemplified in Franklin. He was a confirmed believer in freedom of religion, in freedom of speech, and in freedom of the press. His entire life was symbolical of the philosophy that the mind ought to be allowed to range at liberty, and that there should be no persecution of sincere ideas and beliefs, either in speech or in writing.

Franklin used his influence in writing, both in America and in England, to condemn the institution of slavery. He used his printing press as a means of spreading propaganda for the abolishment of slavery. The very association of his world-renown name, in the fight against slavery, was a great influence in bringing slavery into disrepute not only in the United States but also in Europe.

When Franklin was only 21, he organized the Junto club, which met and discussed important questions of the day, political and social. Its influence was countrywide and under the ideals of Franklin, it flourished for 30 years.

"Blessed are the peace makers." One of Benjamin Franklin's greatest traits was his love for peace. Always predominant in his nature, this quality made him an earnest patriot, a true statesman, and a hard-working diplomat. He had a deep love for his country and a desire for the maintenance of international peace.

He felt that war was a great economic waste and a burden to humanity. The expense of war could be better used in bringing peace and happiness to people rather than poverty and misery. This philosophy, expressing Franklin's love for peace, is a fact that needs to be impressed on all peoples of the world today.

Franklin, in his day was known as "the keystone in the American arch of freedom." America might never have gained her independence without the untiring energy, the amazing foresight, and the diplomatic genius of Franklin. America needs the spirit of courage and devotion that was so much a part of Franklin.

Franklin began his diplomatic career during the French and Indian War, when he was sent as a commissioner to talk peace with the Indians.

Franklin, being about 25 years older than Washington and other founders of our nation, was more useful to our country in pre-Revolutionary days.

After the Stamp Act was passed, Franklin was sent to England to protest against it. It was largely through his courage, patience, and brilliant diplomacy that the Stamp Act was repealed. Still friction continued to exist between England and the colonies despite Franklin's diplomatic efforts, and at the age of 70, he came back to America to attend the continental Congress and to sign the Declaration of Independence.

Vivacious Franklin, though 70 years old, undertook another diplomatic mission that no other man his age would think of attempting. This assignment to France was very difficult because it was at the time when the war news seemed worst. Nevertheless, Franklin negotiated a Treaty of Alliance between France and America. Both countries swore not to make a separate peace, and France was to render all possible aid to America. Franklin after the Revolution was one of the prime negotiators of a Peace Treaty with Great Britain.

At the ripe old age of 83, Benjamin Franklin signed the Constitution of the United States.

Franklin, during his lifetime and afterwards received almost every honor our country could bestow upon him. He was one of our greatest patriots, because he was a man, a genius of many talents who turned all of his talents to the service of his beloved country.

This country of ours will forever be indebted to Benjamin Franklin for his great diplomatic achievements. America was indeed fortunate in having such a capable, congenial man to help lay her foundation.

Franklin's mind was so complex, his activities so numerous, that books could be written on any one of his interests. However, one cannot discuss Franklin without saying that he, through his entire life had a deep abiding faith in God. He was one to whom God gave five talents, and Franklin returned manifold for the good of posterity. He will live forever as a powerful influence in heritage of America.

PRINCE PHILIP GOES TO SEA DURING SUMMER

LONDON, May 1.—(AP)—Prince Philip, a lieutenant in His Majesty's Navy, is going to sea again this summer—in a submarine.

That, combined with flying operations, will make up much of a month's course he'll take, starting in July, at the joint naval and RAF submarine school in Londonderry, Northern Ireland.

Buckingham Palace officials said he probably will live in the Navy barracks in Londonderry and fly home occasionally to be with Princess Elizabeth.

Is the Royal family worried about the risks? Not that anyone in authority can notice.

One close to court quipped: "It might be a relief to get Prince Philip off the ground. There are those who might say he is safer in a sub or in the air than he is driving a motorcar."

Philip, a lover of speed on the road, has been reproved several times by his father-in-law, the King. Earlier this year the Royal couple's car tangled with a taxicab at Hyde Park corner, one of London's most congested intersections.

TYPICAL MOTHER IS SOUGHT IN CONTEST

The search for a "typical mother" is announced today in the first of a series of newspaper advertisements by Larry Robinson's Studio.

Mr. Robinson, who instituted the series during the past week, said he feels that the only way to find the mother is to photograph every mother in Monroe and vicinity, and in doing this he is holding a "mother of the month contest."

The contest starts immediately and for a month Mr. Robinson is inviting all mothers to come to the studio in the Bernhardt building and be photographed without cost. Each of these mothers will be presented with a portrait.

At the end of the contest, Mr. Robinson will judge all portraits and select some mother whom he things is typical and will award here a life-sized portrait.

Mr. Robinson has urged that children urge their mothers to be photographed and as a further incentive he will give a free sitting to the mother and daughter and son together.

'I JUST CAN'T BELIEVE IT,' IS ESSAY WINNER'S REACTION

HISTORY

it be repeated and to suggest that educational prizes be offered if possible—that is that the winner would have to use the awards for educational purposes.

Mr. Ewing conceived the idea of annual scholarships to college. He took this up with the other heirs of his father, Colonel Ewing: His sister, Esther Ewing Brown of New Orleans; Wilson Ewing, publisher of the Monroe News-Star-World (Colonel Ewing founded The World); James L. Ewing of New Orleans, and Robert Ewing, Jr., of New Orleans. The other son, Toulmin Ewing, had died. All readily agreed to the establishment of a trust fund to provide two annual scholarships at Louisiana State University, the winners to be decided through an annual essay contest conducted by the Times on the life and letters of some famous American who had helped to found or maintain constitutional government for the United States. It was decided to establish a scholarship committee at L. S. U. which would select the contest subject each year, do the judging, and define rules for the contests and the administration of the scholarships.

In consultation with L. S. U., the first prize scholarship was fixed at $2,000.00 to cover four years,—$500.00 per year—with L. S. U. waiving all general fees and thus further enhancing the value of the prize. The second scholarship was set at $1,400.00 for four years—$350.00 per year— and the provision was made that the second award go to a student of sex opposite to the winner of the first prize, thus assuring that one boy and one girl would win a free college education each year.

This setup made the Ewing scholarships the most valuable at L. S. U. and among the most valuable in the nation.

Dr. W. O. Scroggs, dean of the L. S. U. graduate school, was made chairman of the L. S. U. committee, with Dr. Harlan Linneus McCracken, L. S. U. professor of economics, and Dr. Benjamin Foster Mitchell, professor of education at L. S. U., as co-member. Certain other university officials, such as the president, are ex-officio members.

The committee—rather naturally—chose George Washington, "Father of His Country," as the subject for the first essay contest. The official subject each year, except for change of the name of the person, is worded this way: "George Washington: His Influence in Our Country." The judges emphasize the use of the word "in" as indicating the present as well as the past—and that the subject calls for analysis and interpretation and not for mere biography.

The first two scholarships, announced in May, 1945, went to William Veal and Imogene Pliner of Byrd high school, Shreveport. Veal, a junior, was allowed under the contest rules to postpone acceptance, of course, until he was graduated from high school. Miss Pliner, a senior, now is a senior at L. S. U. After graduation this month, she will return in the fall to do post-graduate work. Cash prizes of $50.00 each went to Max James of Bossier City high, Joan Lloyd of Joseph M. Davidson high, St. Joseph, La., and Alan Lazarus of Fair Park high, Shreveport.

In the Ewing scholarships contests through the five years now completed, only Max James of Bossier City twice has won cash prizes—in 1944 and 1945—and only one student has won a cash prize and then gone on to win a scholarship—Ellis Sandoz, of Byrd, cash winner in 1946 and first scholarship winner in 1947.

All of the eight scholarship winners now at L. S. U. are making excellent records in both curricular and extra-curricular work. They have an average, collectively, of straight "B" and several of them have gained fame in intercollegiate literary work.

Here is the list of winners for the other years since 1944 and up to this year:

1946—Subject: "Andrew Jackson: His Influence in Our Country." First scholarship, Gene Lafitte, Byrd; second scholarship, Marguery Lacey, Byrd. Cash prizes, $50.00 each Ellis Sandoz, Byrd; Dollye Sue Viebeg, Byrd; Simon Nathan Ball, Southeastern high, Hammond, La.

1947—Subject: "Woodrow Wilson: His Influence in Our Country." First scholarship: Ellis Sandoz, Byrd; second scholarship: Ruth Marie Bradford, Byrd. Cash prizes, $50.00 each: Don Harbuck, Byrd; Evelyn Lacroix, St. Francis Xavier parochial school, Alexandria, La.; Barbara Janet Johnson, Bossier City high.

In 1945, on recommendation of the L. S. U. committee, eligibility for the Times essay contests was limited to those in the upper fourth of the senior and junior classes of all white high schools in Loujsiana, and of white high schools of certain designated Southwest Arkansas and East Texas counties. At the same time, it was required that essays be sent in only through high school principals, that they must certify both the academic standing and other qualifications of the contestant. While this definitely restricted the number of contestants per year, it carried out the purpose of giving such a valuable prize as a full four year college education only to the fully deserving, and of siphoning into L. S. U. each year two students of exceptional qualifications and who could be expected in and after college to be a credit to their state, its university and the Ewing scholarship purposes in general.

Use baby food chopped beets to make a hearty vegetable soup. Just add a few containers of the beets to some shredded carrot, onion and cabbage that have been sauteed in a little butter or margarine. Now turn the vegetables into a saucepan of bouillon and simmer until very hot; serve with a dollup of sour cream garnished with finely-minced cucumber and a sprinkling of paprika.

Anna Lois Sacket Has Outstanding Record At Ouachita High

By Percy Fant

Anna Lois Sackett, second Ewing scholarship winner this year, is a 17-year-old Ouachita Parish High School senior and feature editor of her high school paper.

When told of her good fortune, Anna's first words were:

"I don't believe it; it can't be, mother. My paper wasn't that good I know." Anna's mother finally convinced her and the good news given her by The Morning World was the clincher.

The attractive, auburn-haired daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Sackett, of Fairbanks, Anna was born in Cincinatti, O., but moved to Fairbanks when she was only a year old.

Anna, who is interested in journalism, gets up every morning at 6:30 o'clock and catches a school but in order to meet her morning classes at O. P. H. S.

A popular student at Ouachita, Anna is also interested in music. She is a piano student of Mrs. Everette Lawson, of Monroe, and enjoys playing popular and semi-classical selections.

The auburn-haired senior was the personality choice in April for the high school. She was chosen for her friendly manner, cooperative attitude, ambitious nature and sincere devotion.

In addition to this, Anna is the vice-president of the Lionettes, a girl school organization, and was elected the most ambitious senior. She is an outstanding member of the Jeffersonian and Library Clubs and is the marching captain of the Lionettes.

A member of the Fairbanks Methodist Church, Anna is the church pianist.

When asked if she abided by the general opinion that "redheads" had a high temper, Anna replied:

"I fool a lot of people that way, because I very seldom get mad, and when I do, I don't lose my head."

Mrs. Sackett confirmed her daughter's statement, adding that Anna, her only child, stays busy most of the time. She related an incident that occurred several weeks ago:

"Anna came home from school one day and asked if she and a few of her girl friends might have a 'pallet party.' I consented. The next day she came home and said everyone wanted to come and that there would be almost twenty present. I was a little astonished at the sudden increase in numbers, but again I gave my consent. When the party began, approximately forty girls were present."

Anna stated that she wrote the second-prize essay because her dad asked her to.

"When I started the research in February," she said, "I thought Ben Franklin was a dull subject. Now I'm very fond of him for his versatility and because he was a very good and intelligent diplomat."

Anna's essay included 15 pages of typewritten words. She began working on it the first of February and submitted it the latter part of March.

Mr. Sackett, assistant superintendent of gas production at the Southern Carbon Plant in Sterlington, said Anna has always been a good daughter.

Anna attended Fairbanks grammar school and the A. L. Smith school in Sterlington. She enrolled in Ouachita Parish High School in 1944.

"I'll be sorry to leave Ouachita because I like it so much, but on the other hand, it'll be fun to attend L. S. U.," the girl stated.

Anna, along with the entire staff of the school publication "The Lion," represented the high school in a press clinic held at Northwestern State College in Natchitoches.

A major in science, Anna will decide later what her ambition will be, but stated that she is most interested in journalism and music.

Anna's favorite movie stars are Robert Cummings and Ingrid Bergman. She thinks Henry Morgan is the funniest comedian in the business.

A typical American girl, Anna prefers living in the country away from the busy city.

Each summer for the past two years, Anna has vacationed at Camp Windywood, near Pollack, where she has become a junior lifeguard.

"I enjoy swimming most in the bayou near my home," she said. "Spring is my favorite season; green my favorite color."

Cayenne or "red" pepper gives flavor to many dishes: cheese souffle, salad dressing, cole slaw.

ENCIRCLE

Lahovoth Habashan also was attacked.

There was no indication tonight whether the four villages had been able to beat off the assaults. Dan, built on the ruins of a Biblical city, has a population of 200 while approximately 300 Jews live in Dafne. Military authorities said all British troops withdrew from the area four days ago.

A Damascus dispatch said the Syrian army apparently threw half its entire strength into the invasion. The big Syrian camp at Katana was almost completely emptied by a lightening military movement. A few days ago 6,000 regulars and a few hundred volunteers were based there. Residents of the area said the troops and guns had "gone to Palestine."

Sources in Cairo who wished to be described as unofficial said the Egyptian army struck across the southern Palestine border into the desert at Friday midnight.

While the invasion reports were without official confirmation, the feeling was evident in Cairo and other cities that something was in the air.

Arab dispatches to Damascus said King Abullah of Trans-Jordan had ordered the simultanous invasion of the Holy Land by the armies of six Arab countries.

(The British government has said repeatedly it will resist any invasion while it holds the mandate, and thus holds responsibility for the Holy Land. A foreign office spokesman in London said Saturday the British were standing pat on that position.)

The invasion accounts came as thousands of Arab refugees streamed out of Jerusalem and Jaffa. In both cities the Jews have scored marked military gains.

Jaffa, an Arab port, was completely surrounded and its defense lines pierced. The British by guns and negotiations have prevented the city from falling to the Jews. An estimated 30,000 of Jaffa's 70,000 civilian residents have left the city by sea and road during the past two weeks.

Units of Haganah, the Jewish militia, have won the first round in the battle for Jerusalem that opened Friday. The Jews have gained commanding positions in the Katamon district in the southern part of the city.

Fighting continued in Jerusalem where 100,000 Christians of the Greek Orthodox, Coptic Syrian and Armenian churches prepared for their observance of Easter tomorrow.

In the late afternoon Arab men, women and children streamed onto roads leading to Jericho, Bethlehem and the North. The crash of mortar and rocket bombs and the sputter of gunfire echoed over the city.

The Arabs prepared for another attempt to drive the Jews from the Katamon district. Arab volunteers from Syria, Iraq, identified by their decorations, moved into positions for a counter-attack.

This was the description Haganah gave of the operations in Northern Palestine:

The invasion was made into the thumb of the Holy Land which juts northward between Syria and Lebanon. One invading force crossed the Lebanese frontier and the other moved across the Syrian border a few miles away.

Fighting their way forward the Arab armor reached the defense rings around Dafne, Dan and Ramot Naftali. Dafne and Dan are adjacent villages located two or three miles inside Palestine from the Syrian frontier. Ramont Naftali to the southwest is four miles inside Palestine from the Lebanese frontier.

"The attackers are using guns, mortars, machine guns and armored cars," Haganah said. "At Ramont Naftali six Lebanese tanks have reached the settlement defenses."

The Haganah announcement said this was the first outright invasion carried out by neighboring Arab states. But the thumb was the scene of an organized raid by Arab volunteers several weeks ago when villages in the area were attacked.

Five of the Arab states held a council of war in Trans-Jordan. An Associated Press dispatch from Amman quoted King Abdullah as saying the Arab military leaders were planning operations which "will tighten the ring around the Jewish enemy."

"The time when the Arabs will be masters in Palestine is near," Abdullah's statement said. "In the past there always have been disagreements and mistrust between the various Arab countries, but these have been settled by the Palestine issue."

The statement repeated a previous offer of peace to the Jews if they would accept an Arab majority state in Palestine and abandon the idea of a Jewish nation.

High Arab officials in Amman gave this summary of the plans:

The Egyptian army will be autonomous as regards the other Arab forces and will be responsible for protecting Arab interests in southern Palestine up to and including Jaffa. Approximately 20 Egyptian war planes may operate over the Holy Land. They will be used for reconnaissance only unless the Jews make air attacks.

Iraq is said to be sending two brigades of armored cars by way of Trans-Jordan for service in Palestine. Syria and Lebanon are counted on mainly for infantrymen.

Trans-Jordan's crack Arab legion now has 3,000 men on police duty in Palestine under the British. Three thousand more may be available but this would severely tax the legion's resources. Three thousand others must be retained to police Trans-Jordan itself.

Arab sentiment favors having the legion's British commander, John Bagot Glubb Pasha, remain in Trans-Jordan together with all the other British officers in the legon. If this is done the command of the legion units in Palestine will fall to Maj. Gen. Bdul Khador Guindi Pasha, the No. 2 Ara bofficer.

The Arab governments have no intention of formally declaring war. The informants said the operations would be in the form of "police actions."

A supreme Arab commander in chief may never be named and such coordination as is required may be left in the hands of a war council. Iraqi Gen. Ismail Sawfat Pasha has been named as a stop-gap choice for chief of staff of the Arab forces under the war council. Sawfat Pasha has been titular commander of Arab irregular volunteers in Palestine.

An Egyptian officer in Cairo estimated his country had concentrated 10,000 men in Rafah and El Arish in the Sinai peninsula along the Palestine border. These consist of a unit of field artillery, mainly 25 pounders; an anti-tank unit; an armored unit; an engineers battalion, and a reconnaissance unit.

Arab forces in the Jerusalem area shelled Jewish held northern suburban areas tonight. Eight Jews were reported wounded, including some in a German Lutheran orphanage in which Haganah had established a headquarters. The Arabs fired from gun positions on a Judean mountaintop overlooking the city.

In the southern part of Jerusalem Haganah units consolidated their hold on high ground commanding the strategic Katamon quarter. The Jews were firmly entrenched in St. Simeon's Greek Orthodox monastery on the eastern edge of the quarter and had driven a 600-yard wedge in the western side.

Originally the Katamon district was a mixed Arab-Jewish area, but the Jewish residents were driven out many weeks ago. Royal air force Spitfires flew over the area during the day, but a Jewish Agency spokesman said the British notified the agency this was a demonstration and no air strike was planned against Jewish positions.

In Jaffa the British said at least 70 warriors of Irgun Zvai Leumi, the Jewish underground organization, were killed when the Arabs broke a truce and the Jews returned the fire. An earlier British announcement said the men were killed when Irgun broke the truce, but this report was amended later.

Irgun defied a British ultimatum to give up positions by noon today in the Jewish-captured Manshieh quarter of Jaffa. Irgun blew up the police station which the British had demanded be turned back to them and then blasted 10 Arab houses into a wall of debris blocking Hassen Beq street. The British had demanded the opening of the street.

Then Irgun asked Haganah to take over positions their fighters had gained in the Manshieh quarter. The transfer was carried out at noon and Haganah promised to hold the positions.

At each forward post blue and white flags were raised. There had been desultory firing a few minutes earlier at some posts. After the flags went up the front was silent.

"We are giving you territory we won with blood and sacrifice," an Irgun commander told an officer of Haganah who came up to take over. "For God's sake don't give it up."

'Don't worry, we won't give an inch," the Haganah officer said. Then he told his men not to do any shooting, saying: 'British, not Arabs, are facing us now. They won't shoot if we don't."

British troops are now in positions between Arabs and Jews on the Jaffa front.

A large passenger vessel and a medium sized freighter in Jaffa's harbor loaded boatload after boatload of Arab refugees leaving the Arab city.

would be taken to meet the situation arising from the assassination. The proclamation of martial law was approved by the cabinet, and army and police chiefs.

Plans for the national midnight mass were not changed. Tomorrow is the Greek Easter, which is recognized as the nation's greatest holiday, transcending even Christmas. Offices are closed from Friday through Monday. The king, premier and members of the cabinet will attend the mass to chant "Christ Is Risen."

Ladas was attacked a few minutes after he had prayed in church this morning.

Police said the assailant, identified as Efstratos Moutsoyanis, threw the first grenade through the rear window of Ladas' car, wounding the minister of justice about the head.

Two policemen drew their pistols and fired, wounding the assassin. Moutsoyanis then threw a second bomb which failed to explode. The third grenade wounded himself, killed one of the policemen, and wounded a civilian and a child.

Police said bystanders attempted to lynch the bomb thrower but he was taken away by officers.

The car was riddled by the explosions and caught fire. Police immediately threw a cordon about the area to prevent further outbreaks.

King George, Sophoulis, Vice Premier Constantin Tsaldaris, several other ministers and U. S. Charge d'Affaires Karl Rankin visited Ladas in the hospital. Surgeons operated on Ladas for three wounds in a vain attempt to save his life.

The letter from "the repentant Communist," which the government said proved existence of a plot to kill three members of the cabinet, said the Communists decided on this course because the Liberal party joined the government and "persecuted the (Communist) party." The 56-year-old Ladas had approved 125 executions, mostly of leftists, since he took office last September.

Ladas, a strong man of the Liberal party, took office when the Liberal Leader Sophoulis formed his coalition government with Tsaldaris' monarchists. He had pursued a vigorous policy of carrying out executions of persons convicted two and three years ago on charges of murder and terrorism during Greece's leftist revolution.

Ladas was one of Greece's most prominent lawyers. He represented Samuel Insull when the late American utilities magnate was fighting extradition to the United States in the 1930's. He has a wife and daughter.

The assassination attempt coincided with a string of government announcements of important successes in the civil war against Communist-led guerrillas. The first army corps said more than 1,000 casualties have been inflicted on the guerrilla band of about 2,000 in the Mount Ghiona area of south central Greece since operations started two weeks ago. Newspapers carried pictures of long lines of surrendering guerrillas, and described the operation as one of the most successful in the long civil war. American army officers said they believed guerrilla resistance in the area had been smashed.

CONGRESS

work out joint defense plans with the European recovery program beneficiaries.

The five nations which signed the Brussels defense pact already have sent up a joint military committee to look into mutual plans. There is some thought that this committee might start the ball rolling on a request to the United States for a pledge of military help.

There are some who contend that under the U. N. charter the United States could join with the western European countries in a regional arrangement for defense. To others, this seems to be stretching the definition of "regional."

Such a regional arrangement, however, probably would be subject to the orders of the U. N. security council—where Russia has a veto—if it attempted to take any warlike action against any except an enemy nation in the last war.

On the other hand, some of those who have been studying the problem said that there is plenty of room under Article 51 of the charter for as many nations as want to do so to sign a mutual defense pact.

Such an alliance could move against an aggressor nation—without violating the charter—if the security council had failed to take action. The question remains as to who would determine whether the council had taken proper action.

The group will meet with the newly-formed organization for European economic cooperation, both to obtain information and to instruct spokesmen for the 16 western European countries on preparing information required by ECA.

They will take with them a code system worked out with the help of the Budget Bureau, by which each type and category of commodity will be readily indentifiable in Washington.

Harriman expects to leave for Paris within the next month. He will supervise the setting up of permanent ECA headquarters there.

accept the American-sponsored plan for a trusteeship in the Holy Land.

It called on the general assembly's 58-nation political committee to toss out the trusteeship plan now and recognize that the partition of Palestine was an accomplished fact.

The Agency's representative, Aubrey Eban, addressed the committee after most of a two-hour emergency session had passed without any reference to the growing violence in the Holy Land.

After listening to Syrian Delegate Faris El Khoury go through a point-by-point analysis of Arab objections to the trusteeship plan, Eban assailed the committee for engaging in what he called academic and unrealistic discussions.

Eban declared further debate on the trusteeship plan was a waste of time, since the project was based on the assumption that it would work only with Jewish and Arab cooperation.

He said the Jews certainly would not cooperate and, in his view, the Arabs also would refuse to accept the plan when it came to a final showdown. In any event, he said, more troops would be needed to enforce trusteeship than to enforce partition.

Eban was the only speaker who referred to the fact that Britain's mandate comes to an end two weeks from today.

While none of the delegates mentioned the reports that invading Arab armies already had moved into Palestine from adjoining countries, many of them asked newsmen about late developments in Palestine.

Arab country delegates said they had no knowledge of any invasion, but El Khoury said such action would not be surprising. He said the Arab countries could not stand by idly and see Palestine Arabs killed by the Jews.

Despite Eban's warning that the approval of the trusteeship plan would only intensify the Holy Land conflict, the committee went anead with its discussions of the American proposal.

Debate on the trusteeship plan will be resumed Monday, it was announced at the end of today's session. A spokesman for the U. S. delegation said hopes for Jewish-Arab cooperation had not been abandoned.

Meanwhile, the U. N. trusteeship council also will meet Monday to continue debate on an American proposal for an emergency trusteeship regime for Jerusalem. The delegates were studying the proposal over the week-end.

Lover's Lane is at its best now with the catalpa trees snowy with blooms. And at the same time, the active green-striped worms that thrive at this time are appearing in great numbers. Men and boys, armed with long poles, are out early and late dislodging this first class fishing bait. The men are harvesting the crop for their own fishing operation, while many of the boys are out to glean the pennies that the worms are worth.

One little youngster, a student in the third grade at Barkdull Faulk school, equipped with a bucket in which he said were 112 catalpa worms, sat on the curb on Lover's Lane and displayed a sign which read in boyish scrawling: "WORMS FOR SALE, AT TWO CENTS EACH." He told an inquirer that he had to raise the price from one cent each to two cents because of high prices "for everything."

Wherever one goes these days there are "Big Shots" who seem to be required in all activities. In college there is no exception to the rule. Northeast Junior College has just completed the important task of voting who are the ten top campus favorites out there. The voting resulted in the following being so designated to all of whom Jes' Ramblin' extends felicitations: William Patrick, Carolyn Bagwell, Maurice LeBlanc, Ruth Martin, Kathryn Norwood, George Franklin, Jr., Kay McHenry, Fred Huenefeld, Paul Cook and Olga George Tefas.

Little Janice Becton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Becton, Jr., was a most charming "bride" at the recently-held "Tom Thumb" wedding in Lida Benton school auditorium. An exceptionally beautiful picture was taken of this little tot which the family will doubtless preserve for years to come. In fact the entire "wedding party" was attired exceptionally well and went through their roles like they were participants in a "real affair."

tion were invited to the May Day exhibition. Carter was out of the city but his daughter, Eileen, was present.

Stalin, members of the Politburo and other high ranking officials of the communist party and government reviewed the parade from Lenin's tomb.

The marchers shouted the praises of socialism as they passed by Stalin, who looked down upon them with smiles and approval. He wore a natty military uniform.

In addition to the fighter planes big four-engined bombers lumbered through the blue sky. One massed military band included 150 trombones and 50 bass drums.

Leading editorials on May Day stressed the economic gains in the postwar period. Pravda, the communist party organ, predicted that the current five-year plan would be completed ahead of time.

Izvestia, the government newspaper, said Russia would not seek economic assistance from foreign sources on "terms of enslavement" but would meet her own problems in her own way.

can presidential candidates, as well as two favorite sons—Baldwin and Saltonstall.

Ives represents Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York. Thye Bats for Harold E. Stassen, former Minnesita governor, and Knowland represents Gov. Earl Warren of California.

No supporter of Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, an announced candidate, was invited to the initial meeting.

Senators who planned to attend said, however, that they are not interested in this case in presidential candidates but in issues.

"We want to do what we can," one of these senators said, "to make certain that the Republican party doesn't take any backward steps on either domestic or foreign issues.

"In other words," he continued, "We don't want to give the Democrats any chance to hang on us in the campaign the 'reationary' or 'isolationist' labels they would like to plaster on the Republicans."

Several of the Senators are delegates to the Philadelphia convention. One member of the group said they will work through their state delegations in attempts to block any "backward looking" platform declarations.

All of the group gave active support to American aid for Western Europe. One senator said their prime concern will be in obtaining a platform plank "which recognizes our world-wide responsibilities along the lines that Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) had laid down."

The platform committee will be made up of two representatives from each state and some of the senators obviously hope to be named as members.

Some Senators privately have criticized the choice of Gov. Dwight Green of Illinoins as convention keynoter because of his close political association with Senator Brooks (R-Ill). Brooks fought the European aid program. But most of the group of eight who were willing to discuss the matter said they have little fear that Green will raise any issues with which they disagree.

On the domestic front, however, they may face a harder fight. Taft's influence is likely to be felt in Republican declarations on such issues as price controls, rationing, labor laws, military training and housing. Some of the group have been far apart from Taft on some domestic issues.

When they did differ with the Ohioan, however, they usually found themselves in the minority in the Senate voting.

PUBLIC FORUM

THE TIES OF LOVE

Monroe, La.
May 1, 1948

To the Editor:

The "American Mother" for the nation, and the "State Mother" one for each state, are but symbols. Each year they are chosen by the Golden Rule Foundation, not for the purpose of honoring the individuals named, but that they may represent a great ideal.

In a sense they stand for all mothers, because more than in any other person, it seems, a great desire and urge arises in the heart of the mother to do her utmost for the highest good and real happiness of the children given into her care. This "mother spirit" is felt, not by mothers only, but by fathers also and by relatives, by teachers, by all people who have learned that human personality is the moving force for good or ill in this world of ours.

They realize that the roots and the guided cultivation of this moving force are found in family life, in the American home. In the family, bound together by love and the God-implanted laws of human relationships, are laid not only the foundation stones of our civilization but also the towers of strength and beauty that can make and keep America a powerful and a happy country. On the other hand, a family that disregards these strong ties of love and friendly law, weakens the whole national structure. They furnish building material of low quality, often moth-eaten and decayed.

No individual is without responsibility toward helping to build and maintain a wholesome family life, the bulwark of our national liberty. Let all think seriously of the importance of family life and pull together for the stability and well-being of the American home. It will then follow that we shall have an increasing number of citizens healthy in mind and body, magnetic in personality, moving our nation in the upward path of truth, justice, freedom, and happiness.

62-YEAR-OLD WOMAN FACES MURDER TRIAL

PHILADELPHIA, Miss., May 1.—(AP)—Sheriff Elmer Dees said tonight a charge of murder has been filed against 62-year-old Mrs. Nannie Reese in the fatal shooting of her son-in-law, C. G. White here Wednesday.

White died today in a Memphis, Tenn., hospital.

Dees said the warrant was sworn out by District Attorney A. B. McCraw, of Philadelphia. He added a preliminary hearing will be held before Justice of the Peace Charley Saxon, "in the next two or three days."

The sheriff said if Mrs. Reese is convicted, the sentence will necessarily be death unless the jury recommends life imprisonment.

At the time of the shooting, Dees said Mrs. Reese admitted she shot White.

"She said she shot White when he advanced on her daughter and on her," Dees reported.

White, Dees continued, had returned home from Detroit, Mich., about two hours before the shooting and had become engaged in an argument with his wife.

Mrs. Reese is in Jail in Meridian.

1 YEAR TRAINING

training of 161,000 of the 18 year olds for one year. Of these the army would get 110,000, the navy 30,000, the marines 6,000 and the air forces 15,000.

The senate bill also carries these top manpower limits, which do not include the one-year trainees, for the regular services: army 790,000; navy and marines 552,000; and air force 453,000. These total 1,795,000.

Meanwhile Chairman Andrews (R-NY) of the house armed services committee said his group will have a separate stop-gap draft bill ready late Monday.

It excludes the one-year training proposals of the senate bill as a UMT substitute.

Under the house bill men from 18 through 30 years would be required to register with those from 19 through 25 subject to draft.

The house measure carries a new manpower ceiling of 1,999,000 for the armed services divided as follows: army 837,000; navy 550,000; marines 110,000; and air forces 502,000.

Andrews said today that Defense Secretary Forrestal and other defense leaders will testify at open hearings Monday afternoon on the house manpower measure.

"I have talked with Speaker Martin (R-Mass) and in all probability the house can take this up the week following," Andrews said.

Meanwhile, plans of air power advocates to rush congressional approval of the 70-group modern air force are stalled in the senate with action unlikely before late next week.

The house already has approved 343 to 3 a $3,198,000,000 money bill to begin building the 70-group air force and also expand naval air power.

A similar $3,233,200,000 appropriation is awaiting senate consideration and expected approval.

ment together. American Reds would be denied passports.

4. Protecting the security of the government itself. Communists would be barred from all non-elective government jobs.

"Certainly the temper of the House will be to have a tougher bill," Nixon told reporters.

But he said the committee will resist efforts to outlaw the Communist party.

He said the committee has worked out what it believes is a "sane and fair approach" without adopting 'totalitarian methods to fight a totalitarian evil."

To go farther, he said, would put Congress on questionable constitutional grounds.

The committee says it believes, however, the Constitution "does not deny to the Congress the power to enact laws which will defend the nation from those who would use liberties guaranteed by the Contitution to destroy it."

Nixon said the Communist party leadership had pulled a "colossal blunder" in opposing the bill. He said the party newspaper, the New York Daily Worker, admits the bill forbids carrying out the long-range objectives of the party.

Nixon interpreted that as an admission that the Communists want to set up a totalitarian dictatorship controlled from abroad, because "that is the only thing we forbid to the party."

NOE

postponements. Most of them were granted because of the poor health of Bernard R. Hughes, one of the principal witnesses, who suffered a heart attack in 1946.

Last Wednesday's U. S. District Court Judge Wayne G. Borah denied the latest request for another postponement. Burton asked the delay pending further improvement in Hughes' condition.

This will be Noe's second trial before Judge Borah. The last one was in February of 1942, when a jury acquitted him of charges of evading $32,416.97 income and excess profit taxes in conection with the "Win or Lose Oil Corporation."

Cawthorn appeared in court at that time as attorney for the Corporation, which was formed by the late Senator Huey P. Long and other top Louisiana political figures.

The corporation obtained its principal revenue from obtaining leases on state-owned tracts and disposing of the leases to other companies.

Noe has been prominent in Louisiana politics since 1932 when he was elected state senator from Ouachita and Jackson parishes. He became president of the Senate ,and succeeded to the post lieutenant-governor when John B. Fournet vacated the office for a seat on the state Supreme Court.

Then, when Governor O. K. Allen died early in 1936, Noe served the three months remaining in Allen's term.

Noe had been a staunch supporter of Huey P. Long, who died from a bullet wound received in the State Capitol in September of 1935. The administration which Long left supported Richard W. Leche for governor in the 1936 campaign, and Noe was re-elected state senator.

In 1940 Noe sought the governor's office, but ran third in the first Democratic primary. In the second primary he supported Sam Jones against Earl K. Long. Jones was elected.

Cawthorn entered the State Senate in 1940 from the 25th district including Caddo and DeSoto parishes.

He ran for attorney general in 1944 and was high man in the first primary, but lost to Fred S. LeBlanc in the run-off.

TULSA, Okla., May 1.—(AP)—U. S. Marshal John P. Logan said tonight that two men arrested in Mississippi on charges of conspiracy to violate federal liquor laws will be arraigned in federal district court here May 10.

They are Jesse Hughes of Tupelo, Miss., and George McDonald of Kosciusko, Miss. Both are at liberty under bond.

"We expect more arrests in the next couple of days," Logan said.

Pleas of innocence to the conspiracy indictment already have been entered by W. T. (Bill) Flippin, of Claremore, and Herschel Roberts, of Ada.

Hughes was one of several persons arrested by state officers in Ottawa county last August when 8,976 pints of whisky were seized. McDonald was taken into custody on a Rogers county farm detained briefly and then released without charge.

STASSEN

vantage. However, he said he had "seen no indication of such an effort being made" although he understood Stassen had suggested it.

Taft also said he had received offers of support from two labor leaders, but declined to name them.

Neither Senator Taft nor the Republican state organization considered Stassen's decision to enter delegates against the organization slate of Taft delegates a real threat until after the Wisconsin primary, which Stassen won.

The real scare came after Stassen ran away with the Nebraska primary. Almost overnight the state organization started an all out camp ign for Taft, which has been waged with increasing tempo to combat the apparent Stassen tide.

He has spent at least one day in each of the 11 districts in which Stassen delegates are entered except the 6th (Portsmouth) district lying along the Ohio river. This and the 7th (Springfield) district were the only ones passed up by Stassen. They generally are considered rural territory.

Both of these districts are claimed by Stassen, however, notwithstanding the attitude of Senator Taft and the state organization that they were inviolate and would hold fast to the state's favorite son candidate.

The Seventh district is the home of Senator Taft's general campaign manager, Congressman Clarence J. Brown, who is one of the Taft entries for delegate-at-large. Stassen said he had refrained from entering either of the two Cincinnati districts or the Columbus district because they were the homes respectively of Senator Taft and Sen. John W. Bricker .

The other districts entered by Stassen are in the northern Ohio industrial sector, from Toledo to Steubenville, and include Cleveland, Toledo, Canton and Akron.

Issues chiefly debated in the campaign were America's foreign policy, curbing of Communism, the Taft-Hartley law and the Republican welfare program. The question also arose as to which of the two candidates was the most liberal. Each claimed that distinction and sought to prove it.

TRENTON, N. J., May 1.—(AP)—Harold E. Stassen topped the write-in vote for president in the April 20 New Jersey Republican primary, unofficial figures in the secretary of state's office showed today.

Although the vote is not officially counted in New Jersey, 1,411 of the 405,000 who turned out in the G. O. P. balloting wrote in Stassen's name. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey was second with 1,064. Behind them were Sen. Robert A. Taft 210, Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg 163, Gen. Douglas MacArthur 127, and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower 71.

lating Birmingham's segregation laws.

After being firgerprinted, Taylor made bond and was released.

The meeting of the Congress was discontinued immediately after the senator's arrest.

A talk scheduled by Taylor over a local radio station for 10:30 p. m. (EST) was postponed until 11:45 p. m.

The arrests followed controversy between the Congress and Police Commissioner Eugene Connor over seating of the races. Connor announced the arrests and the four were taken to city jail.

They were docketed as Dr. James Dombrowski, 51, New Orleans, executive director of the Southern Conference Education Fund; Miss Doris Senk, 26, of New York; Eddie Fowery, 25, of Mobile; and the Rev. H. Douglas Oliver, Negro pastor of the Alliance Gospel Tabernacle where the meeting is being held. Bond was fixed at $100 in each case.

The Congress got under way this morning after a 24-hour delay because of conflict with the segregation laws.

Carburetor Too Rich

Makes Motorist Too Poor

Car owners who are wasting money and not getting proper gas mileage due to over-rich mixtures will be pleased to learn of a Wisconsin inventor who has developed a very clever unit that helps save gasoline by "Vacu-mating." It is automatic and operates on the supercharge principle. Easily installed in a few minutes. Fits all cars, trucks, tractors. The manufacturers, the Vacu-matic Carburetor Co., 7617-362-A State St., Wauwatosa, Wis., are offering a Vacumatic to anyone who will install it on his car and help introduce it to others. They will gladly send full free particulars if you write them or just send your name and address on a penny post card today. (Adv.)

AUTOMATIC CAR WASHER FRANCHISE AVAILABLE

Minit-Man Automatic Car Washers in daily operation in many cities throughout the U. S. have proved profitable beyond original expectation. A franchise to own and operate a Minit-Man station in this city is now available.

The novel, efficient, time saving and automatic operation of the washer has captured the imagination of the motorist everywhere. Stations in various cities now wash upwards of 300 cars per day. Some report business averaging 500 cars per day, while one has recorded an 800 car day!. With no station charging less than $1.00 per car, (special polishing and other work extra) and with only a nominal amount of labor needed, the entire cost of the machine is soon written off.

Special experience in this field is not required; present successful owners include, among others, an accountant, restaurant owner, teacher, chemist, as well as a number of operators of automobile service establishments.

If you now have or are able to secure or erect a building with a minimum floor space of 20 x 100 feet on (or adjacent to) a well-traveled location and can arrange for the purchase of the machine on which financing is available the Minit-Man can prove very valuable to you. DETROIT HANDS CLEVELAND FIRST DEFEAT

FELLER ROUTED AS BENGALS WIN BY 10-3 MARGIN

Red Sox Halt Yankees' Climb, 8 To 6; Browns Best Chisox

CLEVELAND, May 1.—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians' unbeaten string came to end end today as the Detroit Tigers routed Bob Feller and handed the Tribesmen their first loss in seven games, 10 to 3, before a Ladies' Day crowd of 52,249.

The Indians 'first six victories had brought them within two wins of the modern record for triumphs at the start of the season.

The Tigers, who had lost six of their last seven games, unleashed a 14-hit attack and enjoyed two big innings.

SPORTS ROUND UP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, May 1.—(AP)—Sometimes a guy takes a liking to a race horse for no other reason than he likes its looks, or its name, or the way it runs—as some horse players have learned to their dismay . . . Two years ago at Churchill Downs this writer took a fancy to to a handsome, bright chestnut colt named Jet Pilot and as a result picked it to win last year's Kentucky Derby . . . Instead of retiring on these unearned laurels as a racing expert, we looked at Calumet's Coaltown when he equalled the six furlong record at Hialeah last winter—so here we go again.

Raising A Reason

Coaltown is an eye-filling dark bay colt who looks smaller than he really is . . . . he's fast as a streak, as two track records in his four stars prove . . . . but everytime we recall Coaltown coming down the stretch at Hialeah looking as if he was ready to take off in spite of Jockey Al Snider's efforts to control him, we also recall his stablemate Citation winning the Flamingo, holding his head high and looking around as if he was counting the crowd—or scenting the Seminoles . . . . every indication is that Trainer Ben Jones figures on winning todays derby with Citation, a proved distance runner . . . he can beat anything else in the race. . . . But you never can tell about a Coaltown; you don't know what John L. Lewis may decide.

SAUER ENDING

George Sauer, Navy's new football coach, tells one about the time one of Chick Meehan's great teams visited Nebraska when George was just a kid. . . . "I had heard so much about Meehan I was determined to see the game," says George. "So at eight in the morning I sneaked into the stadium and hid under the stands . . . . At noon they found me and tossed me in jail for the afternoon and I never did see that game."

SHORTS AND SHELLS

George Vivo, the Tigers' six-foot-four rookie first baseman who amazes the fans by doing a "split" when he reaches out for the ball, can't perform the feat at all in practice. . . . "But in the excitement of the game, I just seem to loosen up and its no trouble at all," say George. . . . Jimmy Crowley, ex-commissioner of the all American football conference and ex-coach of the Chicago Rockets, has a new job as public relations man for a Cleveland firm. . . . One intramural softball team at Georgetown U. has these players: Charles Bidwell, Jr., son of the late Chicago sportsman; Walter Muckerman, son of the St. Louis Browns owner, and Lawrence Rugo, son of the Boston Braves' vice president. . . . Penn State's golf team has come up with a "Tom and Jerry" but can't drink it at the 19th hole. . . . They're a pair of brothers, last name Svith.

CRESCENTS, STARS IN BATTLE TODAY

The Cincinnati Crescents, powerful Negro baseball club, and the Birmingham Stars, clash here this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Casino Park with the W. S. Welch Crescents favored to take their lesser known rivals in tow.

Welch's new ball club presents Negro baseball near its very best. Power and talent has characterized his many fine teams in the past decade and his Crescents are fast rising to the top-flight rank in the Negro baseball world.

Possessor of the finest record of any Negro baseball manager in recent years, the Shreveport, La., resident gave up the reins of pilot of the Birmingham Black Barons three seasons ago to develop this new team of which he is part owner and sole boss on the field. After leading Birmingham to second place in the Negro American League in his first season with that club seven years ago, he swept to the championship in 1943 and 1944 and finished in the runner-up spot the year after, following a series of injuries to key players which ruined hopes for a third successive title.

Rising to the heights of managerial success he led the Negro American League All-Stars to victory over the hard-hitting Negro National League team in 1944 and 1945 in the annual All-Star classic at Chicago before crowds of approximately 50,000, to put his team one up in the thirteen events played, to that date.

His current Cincinnatians bear a strong resemblance to his recent great Birmingham teams.

GIRAULT, JONES LEAD LOCALS IN 1ST LOOP MATCH

Ruston, Bastrop Linksmen On District Team; Play Begins At 1 p. m.

The Monroe district golf team opens its Louisiana Golf League campaign against the Alexandria district linksmen in matches to be held this afternoon over the McGuire Park Golf Club's course in West Monroe. Play is scheduled to begin at 1 o'clock.

E. S. "Shep" Girault, who was low qualifier in trials for the Monroe district club two weeks ago, will lead the local entry into league play with Bill Jones, city champion of Monroe and runner-up in the qualifying, slated for the No. 2 spot.

Members of the Monroe district team, in addition to Girault and Jones, are Jimmy Davis and Joe Aillet, Ruston, Harold McClendon, Bastorp, and Kenneth Holt, Ed Shaver, and Wesley "Bobby" Shafto, Monroe.

Alternates for the eight-man team, to appear in the meet in the event any of the "regulars" are able to start are Art Kuehn, Bastrop, and Herbert Land, Monroe.

The opening league matches for Monroe and Alexandria were scheduled for last Sunday at McGuire, but were postponed to avoid conflicting with the Ark-La-Tex Tournament at Shreveport in which golfers of this area were participating.

Nine districts comprise the state league and include Shreveport, Lake Charles, Lafayette, Baton Rouge, New Iberia, and New Orleans.

Lafayette is defending state champion.

J. L. MORRISON, JR. WINS CULVER RIFLES AWARD

CULVER, Ind., May 1.—(Special)—John Landry Morrison, Jr., recently received one of the highest honors to be attained by a new cadet in the infantry battalion at the Culver Military Academy when he won the Culver Rifles award.

The CR award is granted on the basis of written and oral tests for special excellency in various infantry movements, military courtesy, the manual of arms, guard duty, arm signals, rank and command, knowledge of the nomenclature of the rifle and bayonet, and rifle marksmanship safety rules.

In addition to the technical subjects in either the infantry, cavalry, or field artillery, a cadet is required to pass an auto safety test given under the direction of the Chicago Motor Club. This safety requirement is part of the test made of all cadets at the academy before they can receive their emblems which signify full membership in the organizations in the corps of cadets.

Cadet Morrison is the nephew of Mrs. George Gunby, 206 Auburn ave., Monroe, La.

GRAYSON'S SCOREBOARD

By Harry Grayson

NEW YORK, May 1.—(NEA)—Joe McCarthy always has contended that he would recognize a big league ballplayers if he saw him in a hotel lobby in street clothes.

"That's the way I felt about Richie Ashburn when I scouted him as a Utica outfielder last fall," says Ben Chapman.

"While he may not hit the ball quite as far, Ashburn is another Earl Combs with a better arm," explains manager Chapman. "He is a superior flychaser who beats them with his legs."

Eight days after submitting to a tonsillotomy, Granville Hamner was playing plenty of shortstop for the Phils.

The veteran stylist Eddie Miller had been forced to the sidelines when a foul ball struck him on the instep and tore a tendon.

"With Hamner at shortstop, we took two of three games from the Dodgers at Ebbets Field," chortles Chapman. "That's the first time the Phillies have done that in a long while, certainly since I have had them.

"Hamner makes all the plays, has the arm and is equally at home at second or third. He hits the ball well to left-center.

"It's going to be tough to keep him out of our regular infield."

Hamner was the shortstop of the Utica club which ran off with the Class Eastern League pennant in 1947.

"Curt Simmons only has to settle down to win in the National or any other league," Chapman assures you.

Simmons was paid a record $60,000 for signing, and appeared to be worth all of it breaking into the majors on the closing day last autumn. The left-hander beats the Giants, 3-1, giving the vaunted 221 Club only five hits and striking out nine, six taking the third strike. Before being graduated in June, he fanned 11 members of the Philadelphia club pitching for Whitehall High, Egypt, Pa., in an exhibition game.

Then, reporting to Wilmington of the Class B Inter-State League, Simmons whiffed 197 in 147 rounds winning 13 and losing five games with an earned-run average of 2.69.

Chapman considered second baseman Ralph Caballero, now pinch-hitting for the Phillies, the best all-around player with the Utica club last season.

Ashburn, who is out of Tilden, Neb., turned 21 while crowding into the Philadelphia Nationals' outfield at the Clearwater, Fla., camp. Hamner, of Richmond, Va., became of age just the other day. Simmons is not yet 19. Caballero, a New Orleans lad, is 20. Del Ennis, who stepped directly from a Philadelphia high school to be the NL Recruit-of-the-Year in 1946, is not yet 23.

These five youngsters epitomize the new Phillies, and more of them are coming up.

BESSELINK WINS COLLEGIATE GOLF MEET AT ATHENS

L. M. Crannell, North Texas State, Beat Out In Last Minute Drive

ATHENS, Ga., May 1.—(AP)—Al Besselink of the University of Miami survived a last-minute rush by L. M. Crannell of North Texas State to win the annual Southern Intercollegiate Golf championship here today, one up.

Besselink was the second consecutive Miamian to cop the event, Dave Sullivan winning last year.

Besselink was out in front two up at the end of 18 and won the 19th to go three up. They halved the 20th and 21st and Crannell won the 22nd. They halved the 23rd, Besselink won the 24th and they halved the 25th, 26 and 27th.

Three down at the end of 27, Crannell shot a birdie four to take the 28th. They halved the 29th and Besselink won the 30th and 31st to go four up and five to play.

They halved the 32nd and Crannell started his rush to overtake the Floridian. He won the 33rd, 34th and 35th, sinking a seven-foot putt for a birdie two on the latter.

His second shot fell short of the 36th green and Besselink's shot left him in good shape, enabling him to halve the hole and win the match.

JONESVILLE MOVES 1ST GAME TO JENA

JONESVILLE, La., May 1.—(Special)—With work still to be done on its playing site, the Jonesville entry in the North Central Louisiana League has transferred its season opener Sunday to the home of their rivals, the LaSalle Oilers of Jena.

Heavy rains the past week end put workmen behind on their schedule of finishing the diamond in the new municipal park before Sunday's contest.

The Jonesville team will get the gate receipts for the opener although it will be played in the Oilers park. All teams in the league get the total receipts for home games.

Field Manager Robert Swayze announced this week that Mac McGehee, a righthander, would be the opening game hurler for Jonesville .

Other probable starters will be Fred Jackson, catcher; L. S. Scott, first base; Leo Young, second base; Owen White, shortstop; Jim Keeth, third base; Frank Schneider, left field; Billy Beeson, center field; Willard Schultz, right field.

The Jonesville team has been working out fo nearly two weeks.

In their second start, the Jonesville lads will go to Columbia to face the former North Louisiana league entry next Wednesday afternoon. They will play at Clarks the following Sunday and hope to play hosts to Olla in a home game at Jonesville May 12.

POOLE, SULAITIS SIGN

NEW YORK, May 1.—(AP)—End Ray Poole and Quarterback Joe Sulaitis have signed their 1948 contracts with the New York football Giants, the National League club announced today. It will be Poole's second season with the team and Sulaitis' fifth. Poole starred with the University of Mississippi football team.

MAP FINAL PLANS FOR JUNIOR BALL CAMPAIGN TODAY

American Legion's District Baseball Meeting To Be Held Here

American Legion Junior baseball leaders throughout the Fifth District, comprising the parishes of northeast Louisiana, gather here this afternoon to make final plans for the opening of their summer baseball program for boys. The session gets under way at 2 o'clock at the American Legion Home.

Adoption of schedules and decisions on methods of determining the district champions loom as the most important business facing the meeting.

The meeting also serves as the "deadline" for accepting additional teams in district competition for 1948, and any clubs not having made previous committments are urged to be represented if they intend to play.

Twelve teams were preparing to play at the lastest report, and at a mid-March meeting here it was decided to divide the district into three leagues of four clubs each. Any additional teams will fall into the league embracing their territory.

The present setup of teams is as follows:

East League—Lake Providence, Delhi, Rayville and Bastrop.

South League—Ferriday, Winnsboro, Columbia and Jonesville.

West League—Ruston, Jonesboro, Farmerville and Monroe-West Monroe.

The meeting here will be presided over by E. B. Todd, district commissioner, who has saw the district membership of active teams doubled in the three years he has had charge. There were six teams active in 1946 and ten last summer.

Jack Curtis Gets Return Shot At Mobley's Light-Heavy Title

Two Referees Will Be Assigned To Work Championship Bout

Jack Curtis, whose "inside the ring" agreement before last week's title match with Champion Rex Mobley cost him his chance to win the light heavyweight wrestling crown for the fourth time, will get another chance in a return scrap with the Texas City, Tex., kingpin here Tuesday night at Gus Kallio's Arena.

Mobley, although "out cold" in a ringside aisle as the result of an ou'side-the-ring encounter with Curtis in last Tuesday's third fall, was allowed to keep his belt because of a pre-match agreement in which the two wrestlers had promised the championship would be decided "inside the ring."

When Referee Claude Skidmore refused to declare Curtis the champion, the fans rose in indignation to challenge the referee's decision. Curtis, himself, protested vigorously until Skidmore reminded him of the agreement, and then Curtis admitted to Dave Silverstein, district commissioner, that such an agreement had been made.

Skidmore ruled that the action outside the ring, when Curtis and Mobley engaged in a wild swinging melee, had been the deciding factor in Mobley's not being able to return to the ring and was a violation of their agreement.

As a result of the dispute that followed, and especially the protestations of the customers, Kallio last night said a new policy would be instituted at his arena with regard to the use of referees.

Hereafter all referees will be assigned by the state wrestling commission at New Orleans, Kallio said, and all officials must be licensed as referees by the state of Louisiana.

The promoter said referees would also have to be agreed upon by the contending wrestlers. Claude Skidmore, Jackson, Miss., a licensed referee, will be back Tuesday night, and will have as his assistant in the ring one of the wrestlers appearing in the semi-final match.

Kallio said the main purpose of two referees was to keep wrestlers from throwing each other out of the ring as happened in the last Curtis-Mobley brawl.

Kallio has used local referees frequently in the past, but he said last night that under the new arena policy that such local referees would have to obtain a state license before they would be able to work again.

He also explained that referee's decisions are final, the wrestling commissioners having no more right to change a referee's decisions than a baseball commissioner has reversing decisions on an umpire's judgment.

Semi-final attraction Tuesday will find Charlie Laye, recently dethroned light-heavy champ, squaring off against Tom Bradley, a newcomer to the southern mat circuit from Denver, Colo.

Laye and Bradley will battle over an hour time limit route with two falls to win.

The main event, also two falls to win, will have a 90-minute time limit.

Mineral experts say the United States has used 97 per cent of its mercury, 83 per cent of its silver and lead, 78 per cent of its chromium, 70 per cent of its bauxite, 60 per cent of its copper and petroleum and 65 per cent of its zinc.

RUSTON, DUBACH TO MEET TODAY IN BENEFIT TILT

Vols Square Off Against Big Eight Rivals In Postponed Game

RUSTON, La., May 1.—(Special)—The Ruston Volunteers, winners of championship honors for the past two seasons, will tackle their strong Big Eight League rivals from Dubach in a thriller slated to begin here tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at Fraser Field.

The game will give fans a chance to see two top teams and hard-fighting rivals clash. Postponed last Sunday because of rain, the game will be played for the benefit of the American Legion with the proceeds going to the Legion's Boys' State and junior baseball programs.

"Round Man" Willett, Vols' outstanding all-round player, is boasted by the team to be the best player in the league when it comes to catching, team play, handling the pitchers and hitting. He is booked to start the game behind the plate.

Both the Vols and Dubach team are members of the Big Eight League and many of baseball fans are predicting that the league championship will be fought out between these two.

Starting the game for Ruston will be Zerc Lewis, one of the most dependable pitchers in the league. Doug Colvin, who pitched a number of winners for Tech this Spring, will probably be Dubach's choice hurler.

Chosen for the Dubach starting lineup by Manager Scott will be: Norris, Roberson and Fuller in the outfield; Scott, Foster, Hanna and Barteet in the infield, with C. Hanna doing the catching.

Vol Manager Berry Hinton will cover second base for the team this season. In the outfield, Billy Hinton, Burks, Jimmie Davis and Lann will guard against possible Dubach long range attacks. The infield will consist of Prudhomme, Jack or Snooky Thigpen, Allen and Harrison, besides the manager at second. Hinton hasn't decided who to start off on the mound.

Newcomers for the Vols include the Thigpen brothers, Pete Fields and a few recruits from Hinton's Louisiana Tech squad.

Always a stiff opponent in baseball, Dubach has with them three new hurlers, "Lefty" Smith, Doug Colvin and Scott, all regulars of the Tech team, and also the pride of Dubach, Richard Colvin.

WINNSBORO PLAYS EL DORADO TODAY

WINNSBORO, La., May 1.—(Special)—The rampaging Winnsboro Red Sox will be at home for the Lion Oilers of El Dorado, Ark., Sunday afternoon, and Monday night Max Laniers' former major league All-Stars will be at Memorial Park for a date with the Red Sox.

Winnsboro, although not participating in league play this year, is bringing plenty of top-notch clubs before their Franklin parish fans, and will also be the host town for three semi-pro tournaments this year.

The north Louisiana district semi-pro tournament, and the Louisiana and bi-state meets are scheduled to be played this summer at Memorial Park.

In addition, Edgar Lowry, who managed the Red Sox to the North Louisiana League championship in 1946, has been named north Louisiana commissioner for semi-pro baseball.

RECREATION LEAGUES

A meeting of the Girls Softball League is scheduled for Wednesday night at 7 o'clock at the Monroe Recreation Center for the purpose of completing plans for the opening of the summer season.

Teams entered so far as Red Shield Club, Southern Bell, Woman's Shop, and Lovers' Lane Pharmacy.

Others interested in joining the league are invited to have representatives present at Wednesday's session.

Entries will close at noon next Friday. Opening games are planned for May 13, with contests to be played each Wednesday night through the season.

Teams desiring to compete in a boys' baseball league for 18-year-olds and under are being requested to contact Jack Hesketh, director of the Monroe Recreation department. At least one more team is desired for a circuit slated to begin play Saturday, May 15.

Practice schedules for softball teams not already busy with league play will be as follows on Monroe diamonds this week:

Tuesday—Gay Clothing, 8 p. m., Missouri Pacific; Red Shield girls, 8 p. m., Sherrouse.

Wednesday—Exchange Club, 8 p. m., Barkdull Faulk; Lovers' Lane girls, 5:30 p. m., Barkdull Faulk; Woman's Shop, 5:30 p. m., Neville.

Friday—College Place Baptist, 7 p. m., Sherrouse; Southern Bell girls, 8 p. m., Barkdull Faulk.

FAVORED CITATION WINS KENTUCKY DERBY

COALTOWN RUNS SECOND IN FIELD OF SIX STARTERS

Eddie Arcaro Becomes First Jockey To Ride Four Derby Winners

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 1.—(AP)—Citation advanced a long stride nearer to turf immortality today when he collared his great young stablemate, Coaltown, coming into the stretch and won the 74th running of the Kentucky Derby in a breeze.

Eddie Arcaro

The champion two-year-old of last year made it look easy. He let the previously unbeaten Coaltown take as much as a six length lead at the half mile, and then ran him down in a tremendous stretch run under the skillfull ride of Eddie Arcaro, who set a record by winning his fourth derby.

At the finish, as some 90,000 or more spectators cheered him on, Citation had three and one-half lengths of official daylight between him and his Calumet farm running mate. My Request, owned by Ben Whitaker of Dallas, Texas, took third, another length and one-half back.

Seldom has a horse race been run more true to form. Citation was the winter book favorite, and the only question in most of the experts' minds was whether Coaltown, a sensational sprinter, might go the full mile and one-quarter so fast that Citation would find it impossible to make up lost ground.

Citation, beaten only twice previously in 16 races, answered all the questions today. After watching the Calumet comet run, it is difficult to imagine any real competition for him either in the Preakness or Belmont Stakes, next hurdle in his path to the hallowed "triple crown."

Fourth in today's race was Billings, owned by R. W. McIlvain; Fifth, Grandpere, property of Mrs. J. Payson Adams; and sixth, Escadru, the Maryland hope owned by W. L. Brann. They might as well have stayed home.

It was the smallest field to run in the derby since 1907, when the same number started. Citation's victory added 83,400 to the Calumet coffers, and Coaltown's second place was worth another $10,000.

Because of the preponderance of faith in Citation and Coaltown, there was no place or show betting. Citation repaid the backers of the entry with a surprisingly plump $2.80 for each $2 ticket.

The track management had feared a "minus" pool, which would have forced it to dig into its own money to pay off the bettors, but an early rush of wagering on My Request got the Churchill Downs folk out of that unhappy predicament. Actually, My Request was the listed favorite when the tote board lit up an hour before the race.

Arcaro laid the whip to Citation only once, as they entered the stretch a quarter of a mile from home. That was just after they had slammed past Coaltown on the sloppy track. He said he didn't really know whether it was necessary.

"I knew we had the rest of the field beat at the half-mile pole," declared the little long-nosed rider who was hired especially for today's job. "I looked back and I knew the other horses were too drunk to cause us any trouble. He moved when I clucked to him, and I could see we'd move on out on Coaltown."

Before today, Arcaro had been tied at three derby triumphs apiece with Earl Sande and Isaac Murphy. It was the fourth derby winner for Ben Jones, the Calumet trainer and general manager, tying him in that respect with one "Derby Dick" Thompson.

Citation's time of 2:05 2/4 was far off the derby record of 2:01 2/5 set by Whirlaway, another Calumet farm colt, back in 1941. It rained for four solid hours early today, and the track still was ankle deep in gooey Kentucky mud when the race was run. Another thing, Citation didn't really have to light out and run in the last quarter-mile.

At the finish, My Request was three lengths behind Coaltown, and his jockey, Doug Dodson, was coated with mud. Billings, fourth, was a length and one-half behind My Request and Billings, in turn, had 20 full lengths between him and the fifth horse, Grandpere. Escadru, the Maryland candidate, was sixth and last by a whisker.

MEYER AT HOME IN BIG TIME, PIRATES LEADING

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Billy Meyer, long celebrated as "the best manager in the minors", seems right at home in the big time. His Pittsburgh Pirates, now in first place, are the surprise-of-the-month in the National League.

Although Meyer has a reputation as an expert handler of young players, the 1948 Pirates aren't exactly a youthful club. They did add young Monty Basgall at second. Ed Stevens at first and Stan Rojek at short, but they have to bank on a pitching staff of oldtimers.

Take Rip Sewell, for example. He retired last winter and was placed on the inactive list as a full time coach. Now he is one of three pitchers in the league with a perfect 2-0 record. Elmer Riddle, a Cincinnati castoff, now with Pittsburgh is another.

Grand Pere 126	4	4	3/2	6	6	5HF	5NK	J. Gilbert
Escadru 126	3	5	6	5/6	5/1HF	6	6	A. Kirkland

Citation, away forwardly and losing ground while racing back of Coaltown to the stretch, responded readily to a steady hand ride and, after disposing of the latter, drew clear. Coaltown began fast, established a clear lead before going a quarter and, making the pace until inside the stretch, continued willingly but was not good enough for Citation although easily best of the others. My Request, bothered slightly after the start, was in hand while improving his position to the stretch, then failed to rally when set down for the drive. Billings suffered interference after the break when Grandpere bore to the outside, was in close quarters at the first turn when caught between Escadru and Citation, then could not better his position when clear. Grandpere broke into Billings after the start, displayed speed for a half mile, then gave way. Escadru, forced to take up when in close quarters entering the back stretch, could not reach serious contention thereafter and tired badly after going three quarters of a mile.

Equivalent odds to $1:

Citation, .40 cents; Coaltown, .40 cents; My Request, $3.80; Billings, $14.70; Grandpere, $17.80; and Escadru, $7.10.

RAMBLERS, JACKS RESUME RIVALRY

Clarks At Columbia Today For North Central League Opener

COLUMBIA, La., May 1.—(Special)—Columbia and Clarks, old league rivals, have their bats cocked and their ace hurlers in the bullpen waiting for the "play ball" at 3:30 p. m. Sunday in Memorial Park at Columbia.

This is the first league game of the regular 30-game season in the North Central Louisiana semi-pro league, and each team will be throwing the best they have in an effort to cinch the opener.

Arrangements have been made to accommodate an unusually large crowd for the opener and the handbills are urging the fans to be in the park early in order to get choice seats.

Both teams have several exhibition games under their belts and will go on the diamond with players who have their eye on the ball. Clarks has won in three of its five starts of the year. They have downed Sterlington, Northeast Junior College and Hodge, and have lost only to the strong teams of Winnsboro and Colfax. Columbia has won in all three starts—twice over the Olla Tigers and once over Archibald.

Columbia's manager is the veteran firstsacker, Pete Medak, and Clarks is being piloted by Bill Smith, veteran of the old Ouachita Valley League.

Each team's roster includes a great part of the players from last season with some strong additions both in the field and in pitching.

Probable starting lineups for the game follows, with an ace hurler from each club to be announced at game time:

WIN PUTS GULFPORT YACHT CLUB AHEAD

PASS CHRISTIAN, Miss., May 1.—(AP)—Oscar Cassibry, Jr., won the fish class race of the gulf yachting association regatta this afternoon to put the Gulfport (Miss.) yacht club in the lead of the two day event.

Carlos De Armas, of the Southern Yacht Club, New Orleans, was second.

Cassibry's victory gave the Gulfport club 10 points. Southern Yacht Club has nine; St. Andrews Bay, eight; Fairhope, seven; Pass Christian, six; Buccaneer, five; Mobile, four; and St. Petersburg, Fla., three.

The Biloxo and Pensacola, Fla., yacht clubs won no points. Their entries fouled and withdrew, acknowledging they were disqualiifed.

Harold Sporl of Southern Yacht Club sailed Sybarite to a close victory in the keenly fought Luders L-16 race. He crossed the finish line 15 seconds ahead of Dalphin, sailed by John F. Dicks, Jr. T. J. McMahon's Tyee was third.

One of the closest races of the day was in the gulf-one design class. Trailwind, sailed by Cliff Prados finished a bare length ahead of Southwind, sailed by Sidney Provensal.

In the Lightning class match race Charles Justice's Stardust III won a six minute victory over Voltana, sailed by Ed Overton of the Fairhope Yacht Club.

Two more races are to be sailed tomorrow.

Tomorrow morning the Gulf Yacht association is to hold its annual meeting. Delegates from the Gulf Coast from Sarasota, Fla., to Houston, Tex., are expected to attend.

HODGINS' OUTFIT DEFEATS BERNICE IN FINALS, 4 TO 2

Boatright, Ouachita, And Rival Hurler, White, Pitch 5-Hitters

RUSTON, La., May 1.—(AP)—Ouachita Parish High School, of Monroe, today won the Class A high school state baseball championship by defeating Bernice High 4-2.

Spearsville High won the Class B title when it handed Downsville a 4-2 shellacking.

In the semi-finals of Class A competition, Bernice defeated Farmerville 7-6 and Ouachita defeated Ruston 6-2.

The Ouachita Parish High School Lions of Monroe won the North Louisiana baseball championship of the Class A division of the North Louisiana Rally Association's tournament at Ruston yesterday by defeating Bernice High School in the finals, 4 to 2.

Mark Boatright, despite a minor ankle sprain, hurled the Lions to victory as he allowed only five hits, but his teammates were able to get only the same number of blows off White, the Bernice chunker.

The Lions took the lead with three runs in the third inning on hits by Eddie Moss, Robert Kirby, and Kendall Bailey, coupled with an error and some fancy base stealing by Moss and Bales, who ran for Kirby. Boatright scored the final Ouachita run himself in the sixth inning.

Bernice went scoreless until the sixth when Grafton walked and came home on hits by Albritton and McCallum. Another run came home in the seventh when Knight hit a home run.

Coach Jim Hodgins last night announced his Lions will play Winnsboro here Wednesday.

CIVIC SOFTBALL LEAGUE OPENING

First Games Scheduled As Double Header Tuesday Night

The Civic Club Softball League launches another season here Tuesday night with two games scheduled for the Barkdull Faulk and West Monroe diamonds. Six clubs are participating in the circuit this year, and two other teams meet in their opener Wednesday night.

First games of the season for the Civic League will pit the Jaycees against West Monroe Kiwanis at 8:00 o'clock in West Monroe and at the same time the Monroe Kiwanis will tangle with Exchange Club at Barkdull Faulk.

The West Monroe Lions and Optimist Club had also been scheduled to open Tuesday, but since the game would conflict with the annual West Monroe Lions' minstrel show if played as scheduled, the date has been moved back to Wednesday at which time they will square off at 7 o'clock on the West Monroe diamond.

The first round schedule for the league has been announced as follows:

May 4—Monroe Kiwanis vs. Exchange, and Jaycees vs. West Monroe Kiwanis.

May 5—West Monroe Lions vs. Optimist.

May 11—Exchange Club vs. West Monroe Lions, Optimist vs. Jaycees, and West Monroe Kiwanis vs. Monroe Kiwanis.

May 18—West Monroe Lions vs. West Monroe Kiwanis, Optimist vs. Exchange Club, and Jaycees vs. Monroe Kiwanis.

May 25—West Monroe Kiwanis vs. Exchange Club, Jaycees vs. West Monroe Lions, and Monroe Kiwanis vs. Optimist.

June 1—Exchange Club vs. Jaycees, West Monroe Lions vs. Monroe Kiwanis, and Optimist vs. West Monroe Kiwanis.

NORTH CENTRAL SEMI-PRO LOOP OPENING TODAY

Jena Plays Jonesville, Clarks Faces Columbia, Urania Meets Olla

URANIA, La., May 1.—(Special)—The North Central Louisiana Semi-Pro League opens its 30-game schedule tomorrow with six clubs ready to swing into action at 3:30 o'clock with Clarks invading Columbia, Jonesville switching its home date to Jena, and Urania meeting Olla.

Columbia, Clarks, Olla, and Jena were members of the North Louisiana League last season, and they have added Urania and Jonesville to complete their new circuit.

Two games will be played each week. All parks will play to Sunday crowds, but Columbia, Urania, and Olla have their weekday games on Wednesday, while Clarks, Jena, and Jonesville will conduct their home mid-week contests on Thursdays.

Clarks is equipped for night ball, and their mid-week games will be under the lights. Columbia will be ready to play under lights by May 12, and Jonesville's lights will be ready by June 1. All afternoon games are to start at 3:30 o'clock and night games at 8 o'clock.

All clubs in the league have been playing exhibition games for the past month and should go on the diamond with smooth operating teams tomorrow. Rosters include nearly all players who appeared with the clubs last year, and each outfit is promising a fast brand of ball. Only players excluded from participation in the league are "class men" who have been in professional baseball during the past five years.

Managers in the league this year are Pete Medak, Columbia; Bill Smith, Clarks; H. R. Barton, Olla; "Dub" Nelson, Urania; J. B. Carpenter, Jena; and Paul Wade, Jonesville.

"Ham" Johnston, Urania, was elected president of the league at its organization meeting in the middle of March. Fred Minard, Urania, is secretary and treasurer.

Attendance at exhibition games has been good, encouraging the clubs to expect good turnouts of fans for their official games.

LOUISIANA STATE TENNIS TEAM BEATS WOLVES, 7-1

NEW ORLEANS, May 1.—(AP)—The Louisiana State University Tigers defeated the tennis stars of Loyola of the South 7-1 here today.

Chunky Ken Chumley defeated L. S. U.'s Beverly Covington, 3-6, 6-1, 6-2 to save the Wolves from a shutout.

In other matches the Tiger netters had too much drive and polish for the Wolves.

Results of other matches with L. S. U. entrant listed first:

Bob Harvey over Jack Fox 6-4, 6-2.

Ken Koach over Dave Douglas 6-0, 6-0.

Basil Lanneau over Gene Ashby 6-2, 6-1.

Vincente Carreto over Bob Thomas 6-2, 6-2.

Bob Eckstein over Reggie Garcia, 6-8, 6-3, 6-3.

ENTRANTS INDICATE FAST ARKANSAS MEET

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 1.—(AP)—Entries pouring in for next week's Little Rock Amateur Invitation Golf Tournament indicate the field for the event will be a fast one.

Heading the list of competitors who have accepted invitations are Wilford Wehrle, Louisville, Ky., and Jim Frisina, Taylorville, Ill., who battled in last year's finals with Wehrle winning the title for the second straight year.

Other early entrants include John Barnum, Chicago; Jack Munger, Dallas, and Johnny Buzick, Jr., of Monett, the Arkansas state champion.

A number of sharpshooters from Louisiana State University and shotmakers from St. Louis, Memphis and Shreveport also will be in the field.

Richard (Bubba) Smart, three-time state champ and former Little Rock invitational titlist who now sparks the University of Arkansas links team, may compete.

Qualifying play for the 32-man championship flight is carded for Thursday, but golfers not seeking to compete in the top bracket may qualify Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Eighteen-hole match play will begin Friday, with a 36-hole final to be played in the championship flight and 18-hole finals in all lower flights Sunday.

BUTTS, MEYERS ON 'FACULTY' OF COACHES SCHOOL

Turner Announces Complete Plans For August Meeting In Lafayette

COLUMBIA, La., May 1.—(Special)—Wally Butts of Georgia and "Dutch" Meyers of Texas Christian University will be featured lecturers at the Louisiana High School Coaches School, August 11, 12, and 13 in Lafayette, it was announced here today by Woodrow W. Turner, secretary-treasurer of the Louisiana High School Athletic Association.

The school, held on the campus of Southwestern Louisiana Institute, will offer additional speeches by Ed Diddle of Western Ky., basketball; R. L. Browne of S. L. I., track; George Mitchell of S. L. I., boxing, and Cramer Brothers, Oklahoma, athletic training.

Coaching the Southern squad will be Coach L. G. Fredericks of Holy Cross, while Coach Stanley Galloway and his assistants, Gary Dildy of Bogalusa and Jimmy Austin of Haynesville, will coach the Northern squad.

The men will be housed in the men's dormitory at Southwestern, while two free meals will be prepared for the association coaches for Wednesday and Thursday noon by Lafayette business clubs, who also will offer a luncheon Friday.

Butts, who developed the great Frankie Sinkwich and Charlie Trippi, coached the Bulldogs into the 1947 Sugar Bowl where they defeated North Carolina. Sought by many professional teams, Butts prefers staying with Georgia.

Meyer's Texas Christian team, who turned in one of last year's most thrilling events by tying S. M. U., Southwestern Conference champs, played in the Delta Bowl where they bowed to Charley Conerly's Ole Miss Rebels. Meyers turned out two of the greatest passers of all time in Sammy Baugh and Davey O'Brien, and has taken his teams to the Sugar Bowl twice, scoring victories over L. S. U. and Carnegie Tech.

Diddle's Western Kentucky cagers, who piled up one of the country's top records this year, appeared in the National Invitational tourney at Madison Square Garden, losing by seven points to St. Louis whose team went on to win the championship.

Registration for the school will commence Tuesday afternoon, August 10, in the S. L. I. gym, with classes beginning at 8 a. m. continuing through 11 a. m. They will be resumed at 2 p. m. and will continue until 5 p. m.

Movies on "T" formation and training have been secured for special showing. The school will conclude with the All-Star game Friday night.

OLE MISS DOWNS MAROONS, 71-60

University of Mississippi Track Team Takes Surprise Win, Still Undefeated

UNIVERSITY, Miss., May 1.—(AP)—The University of Mississippi handed the Mississippi State College track team a surprise 71-60 defeat here today to remain undefeated this season.

The Rebs came from behind to score their victory, piling up points in the low hurdles, javelin and broad jump events which more than offset Maroon superiority in the middle distance races.

Ole Miss won eight firsts and shared top events in a ninth event. Will Glover topped individual scoring with 10½ points, compiled on firsts in the broad jump and the 220-yard dash and a tie for third in the 100-yard dash.

J. E. Conn, with a first in the half-mile and a second in the 440-yard dash, scored eight points to pace the Maroons.

State was leading 51-48 when Denny Faggard and Joe Johnson finished first and second, respectively, in the low hurdles to boost the Rebel count. Farragut and Barner Pulley then added six points in the javelin by winning first and third places respectively. Glover, E. V. Harper and Johnson swept the broad jump points to settle the issue.

Summary:

Shot put—won by Fields (46.5); second, Garrett (MS-45.1); third, Stainbrook (MS) (41.6.

Mile—Won by Doyle (MS); second, Jackson (MS); third, Bobme (MS). Time: 4:49.5.

Pole vault—Triple tie for first: D. Salley, Daviss, J. Salley, all Ole Miss. Height 11.3.

440—Won by Walters (MS); second, Conn (MS); third, Branch (MS). Time :53.3.

100 yard dash—Won by Howell (M); second, Hemphill (M); third, tie between Gloer (M), Whittington (MS). Time 9.9.

High jump—Tie for first, Harper (M) and Peety (MS) 6 feet. Tie for third, Pannell (M) and Billingsley (MS) 5.10.

20 yard high hurdles—Won by Haley (MS); second, Johnson (M); third, speed (MS). Time; 15.3.

880—Won by Conn (MS); second, Kell (M); third, Mizelle (MS). Time: 2:06.

220-yard dash—Won by Glover (M); second, Howell (M); third, Whittington (MS). Time: 21.8.

Discus—Won by Farragut (M-142); second, Garrett (MS-141.7); third, Mann (M) (120).

Two mile—Won by Broome (MS); second, Jackson (MS); third, Austin (M). Time: 10:26.6.

226-yard low hurdles—Won by Faggard (M); second, Johnson (M); third, Haley (MS). Time: 25.1.

Javelin—Won by Farragus (M-172); second, Jones (MS-166.3); third, Pulley (M-157.4).

Broad jump—Won by Glover (M-21.6 3/4); second, Harper (M-21.3); third, Johnson (21).

Relay—Won by Miss. State, default (Whittington, Boyd, Conn, Walters, clocked in 3:26.6 in exhibition).

NEW PELICAN LOOP OPENS PLAY TODAY

WINNSBORO, La., May 1.—(Special)—The newly organized Pelican Baseball League, which had its scheduled openers rained out last Sunday, will plunge into its slate tomorrow afternoon with games at Bush, Ogden, and Holly Ridge.

Openers tomorrow will have Wisner at Holly Ridge, Greer at Ogden, and Crowville at Bush.

The April 25 games, which would have been the league's openers at Wisner, Greer, and Crowville, will be made up later.

The league was organized here April 21 at the city hall with Walter A. Chachere, Crowville, being named as president. C. S. Simpson, Rayville, was named vice president, and W. A. Jones, Ogden, is secretary-treasurer.

Others chosen on the board of directors were A. C. Carrol, Rayville, W. Johnson, Bush, and Leo Wright, Wisner.

A school for the league's umpires and score keepers was conducted last Tuesday night at Crowville under the supervision of A. L. Kay, coach at Crowville High school, and W. A. Jones, well known in baseball circles of north Louisiana, having been once connected with the powerful Winnsboro Red Sox semi-pro club.

LEGION BALL NOTES

Commanding top attention on the district American Legion Junior baseball program right now will be the meeting here this afternoon of representatives of all posts in the Fifth District planning to compete in the summer campaign. Schedules of play must be adopted, certain district rules decided on, and umpires will also probably come up for discussion.

The indispensable part that American Legion Junior baseball plays in providing organized baseball with talent was never more vividly manifest than in the box score of the first scheduled game in the major leagues nearly two weeks ago.

When the Red Sox and Philadelphia squared off at Boston on Monday morning, April 19, for the inaugural clash of the new season 15 of the 18 men who began the game were Legion junior graduates. Further, three members of the Sox All-American Legion infield, Stan Spence, Vern Stephens, and Bobby Doerr, hit successive home runs in the second inning to tie a major league record. Philadelphia, winner 5-4, had former Legion players Joost, McCoskey, Fain, Majeskie, Chapman, Rosar, and Suder in the opening lineup, and the Red Sox had Di Maggio, Pesky, Williams, Spence, Stephens, Doerr, Tebbetts, and Dobson.

Legionnaire spectators at all Junior Baseball games should set a good example in the matter of sportsmanship and should quickly condemn all unsportsmanlike conduct on the part of the boys playing on the teams or adult coaches and managers. To this end, remember that:

1. A Legionnaire spectator represents his Post as does the boy playing on the team.
2. Recognize that the good name of The American Legion Post is more valuable than any baseball game won by unfair methods.
3. Get into the spirit of the game and support your team with enthusiasm, whether it be winning or losing. This will help to carry home to the boy one of the lessons of citizenship.
4. It is of paramount importance that Legionnaires in attendance at Junior Baseball games accept decisions of officials without question.
5. Express disapproval of rough play or poor statesmanship on the part of players representing your Post.
6. Express disapproval of any abusive remarks or profane language either from the sidelines or from boys on the team.
7. Recognize with applause any exhibition of good sportsmanship or playing ability on the part of visiting team.
8. See to it that courteous treatment is given to all members of the visiting team while in your city.
9. Familiarize yourself with state and national rules of eligibility and support their strict enforcement.
10. Encourage the full discussion of fair play and sportsmanship through every medium possible so as to bring home to the boys just what the Legion attempts in the Junior Baseball program.

CODE OF SPORTSMANSHIP

Keep the rules.
Keep faith with your comrade.
Keep your temper.
Keep yourself fit.
Keep a stout heart in defeat.
Keep your pride under in victory.
Keep a sound soul, a clean mind and a healthy body.

EX-BIG LEAGUERS RETURN FOR 2ND BATTLE TUESDAY

Barnstormers, At Winnsboro Tomorrow, Pound Out 22 Hits

Pounding out 22 hits and scoring in every inning except two, Max Lanier's barnstorming former major league All-Stars defeated the Monroe All-Stars, 16 to 1, here last night in the first of a two games series scheduled for Casino Park. Lanier's outfit, after a date in Winnsboro tomorrow night, returns to Monroe for another game Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

A capacity crowd jammed Casino's grandstand to see the ex-big leaguers in action, and the boys who are waiting out a five-year suspension for jumping to the Mexican League before being able to return to the majors treated the fans to some lusty hitting and fancy pitching.

Max Lanier, taking the mound for one inning, the eighth, thrilled the crowd with the fanciest pitching Casino Park has ever seen. He faced three batters and registered three strikeouts.

Fred Martin, former St. Louis Cardinal ace, started for the invaders and worked four innings, giving up only three hits. Sal Maglie, late of the New York Giants, then went three innings, permitting the lone run, scored by Frosty McReynolds, and gave up three hits. "Hoot" Gibson finished for the invaders, taking over after Lanier's stint. Gibson was tagged for two hits.

James Steiner, once with the Boston Red Sox, was the hitting star last night, banging out two doubles and two singles in six times at bat. Stan Beard, Lou Klein, and Harry Feldman connected for three hits each for Lanier's gang.

EVANGELINE LEAGUE

PELICANS EDGE STICKS

NEW IBERIA, La., May 1.—(AP)—New Iberia's Pelicans staged a six-run spludge in the fourth to whittle down the Baton Rouge Red Sticks 7-5 here tonight.

Only homer of the game was by big Art Thrasher of the Red Sticks, who parked the pill inside the lot in the third inning and shoved a player home in front of him.

Score by innings:

Baton Rouge	023	000	000—5 9 1
New Iberia	010	600	00x—7 5 1

Diebond, All and Theyman; King and Kinnamon.

ABBEVILLE STOPS GIANTS

ABBEVILLE, La., May 1.—(AP)—Abbeville's Athletics strengthened their runnerup spot in the Evangeline League by beating the Thibodaux Giants 6-5.

Manager Burkhardt of the Athletitcs belted a homer and Catcher Gipp collected two hits in three trips to the plate.

Abbeville jumped into an early three-run lead but stayed on top only by staving off a Giant ninth-inning uprising which netted two runs.

INDIANS SCALP ACES

HOUMA, La., May 1.—(AP)—Houma's Indians made it six straight tonight by turning back the Alexandria Aces 7-6, despite a powerful four-run rally by the losers in the final frame.

Floyd, Indians substitute catcher, saved the game with a single to right field with three men on in the last of the ninth.

Alexandria's threat in the ninth came after Hurler Thompson weakened and Tassin proved ineffective. McLeod had to finish the game on the mound for Houma.

Alexandria	010	000	014—6 7 0
Houma	300	200	002—7 12 3

C. Smith, Wagner and R. Smith; Thompson, Tassin, McLoed and Oglesby.

BERRIES WALLOP LAFAYETTE

LAFAYETTE, La., May 1.—(AP)—The Hammond Berries, loop leaders of the Evangeline League, had little difficulty tonight in defeating the Lafayette Brahmas 9-4.

The Berries belted Lafayettes hurler, Spears for 15 safeties and made good use of five Brahman errors.

Hammond	020	123	010—9 13 3

TIGER CINDERMEN USE FIELD POINTS TO DOWN TULANE

Greenies Stand Out On Track But Lose Meet, 71½ To 40½

BATON ROUGE, La., May 1.—(AP)—Louisiana State University's track team flashed overwhelming strength in the field events here today to defeat Tulane in their annual dual track meet, 71 1/2 to 40 1/2.

Tulane, paced by ace dash man Paul Bienz, distance specialist Spencer Johnson and a crack hurdle corps, took all but two of the track events. However, the Greenies' superiority left off there.

L. S. U.'s supremacy in the field was so complete the Bengals came within a hair's breath of sweeping that division. Warren Perkins saved Tulane from a shutout by nabbing a second place tie in the high jump.

Tom Dickey and Carroll Butler accounted for most of the Tiger total on the cinders by finishing one-two in both the 440 and 880 distances. Butler accounted for the day's biggest thrill when he came from far behind in the half-mile to nose out Tulane's Cobb for second place.

Tulane's Bienz accounted for the day's outstanding performance when he took advantage of a stiff tailwind to chalk up a 9.4 figure in the 100-yard dash. The chunky Greenie won also in the 220-yard sprint in 21.8 seconds.

The same breeze was a big factor in the javelin work of L. S. U.'s Bob Lowther, who tossed for 202 feet.

The summaries:

100-yard dash—won by Bienz (Tulane), time 9.4; second, Preston (L. S. U.); third, Kelly (L. S. U.)

220-yard dash—won by Bienz (Tulane), time 21.8; second, Preston; third, Correa (L. S. U.)

440-yard dash—won by Dickey (L. S. U.), time 49.3; second, Butler, (L. S. U.); third, Hudson (Tulane).

880-yard dash—won by Dickey (L. S. U.), time 1:55.7; second, Butler (L. S. U.); third, Cobb (Tulane.)

Mile run—won by Parsons (Tulane), time 4.40.2; second, Johnson (Tulane); third, Newsome (L. S. U.)

Two-mile run—won by Johnson (Tulane), time 10:18.7; second, Hall (L. S. U.); third, Jurey (L. S. U.)

120-yard high hurdles—won by Burge (Tulane), time 14.7; second, Liles, (Tulane); third, Allen (L. S. U.)

220-yard low hurdles—won by Burge (Tulane), time 24.7; second, Liles (Tulane); third, Gaudin (L. S. U).

Shot put—won by Graves (L. S. U.), 46 feet 5 3/4 inches; second, Voss, (L. S. U.), 44 feet 2 1/2 inches; third, Klein (Tulane), 42 feet 10 1/4 inches.

High jump—won by Knecht (L. S. U.), 6 feet 4 1/4 inches; second, tie between Johnson (L. S. U.) and Perkins (Tulane), 5 feet 10 1/4 inches.

Discus throw—won by Graves (L. S. U.), 144 feet 2 inches; second, Foti (L. S. U.), 132 feet 7 inches; third, Svendson (Tulane), 126 feet 10 inches.

Pole vault—won by Buster Lowther (L. S. U.), 12 feet 6 inches; second, Chapman (L. S. U.), 12 feet; third, Johnson (Tulane), 11 feet.

Broad jump—won by Avery (L. S. U.), 23 feet 4 inches; second, White (L. S. U.), 23 feet 2 1/2 inches; third, Perkins (Tulane), 22 feet 10 1/2 inches.

Javelin throw—won by Bobby Lowther (L. S. U.), 202 feet; second, Loflin (L. S. U.), 191 feet 4 1/2 inches; third, Bailey (Tulane), 189 feet 6 inches.

Only first and second places counted in the point totals.

LOUISIANA SHOOTERS WIN 5-WAY TOURNEY

SHREVEPORT, La., May 1.—(AP)—Louisiana trapshooters fired their way to first honors in a five-state tourney today, while Shreveporters cornered Louisiana events for the second straight day.

The Louisiana team broke 966 flying saucers of a possible 1,000 in the team chase to outpoint Texas, Oklahoma, Mississippi and Arkansas teams, who finished in that order.

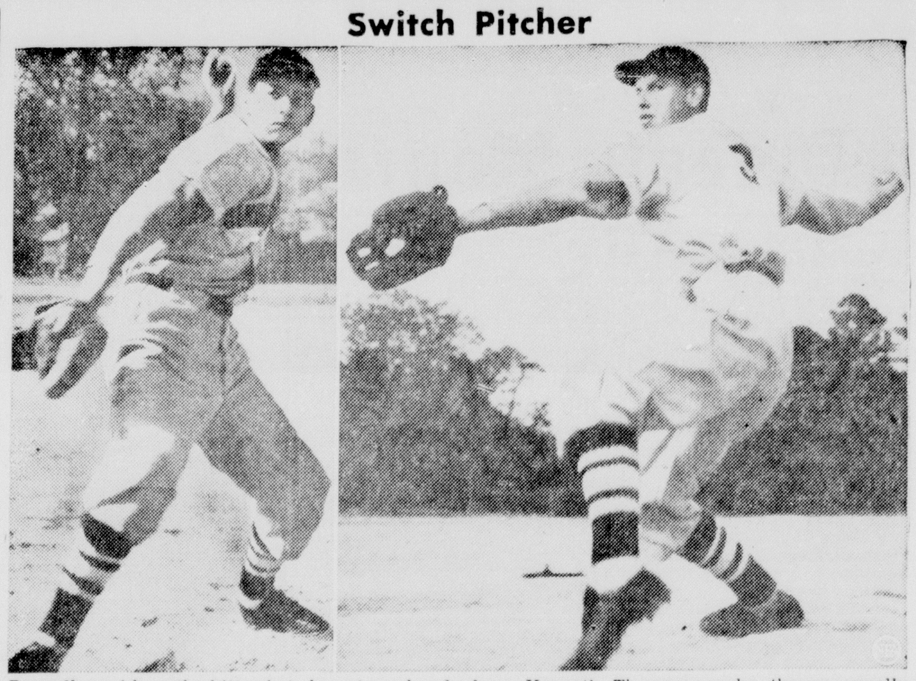
The five-state handicap will be fired tomorrow, as will the Louisiana doubles championship and the Calcutta auction.

For Louisiana shooters, Shreveport locals took the singles in men's, women's and juniors' divisions, and a five-man team captured the state team race.

E. W. Castanedo of Shreveport broke 198 of a possible 200 birds to pocket the men's state singles title.

Florence Wile with 75 out of 100 kept the women's crown, while R. L. Fleming, Jr., easily took the junior award by breaking 88 out of 100 birds.

Switch Pitcher



Regardless of how the hitter bats he gets no break from Kenneth Thompson, who throws equally well with his right or left hand, and switches with the batter, throwing right-handed to a right-hand hitter and left-handed to a left. The 16-year-old ambidextrous ace of Windsor, N. C., High this spring has yielded only five hits in 18 innings

Lake Providence

Mrs. Virginia Patton, district deputy grand matron of district No. 6, made her official visit to Providence Chapter No. 42, Order Eastern Star.

Mrs. Patton's talk was on "Give and Receive." A gift from the chapter was presented by Mrs. Earl Mitchell, and a unanimous vote made the deputy an honorary member of the chapter. Mrs. Walter Jacks, Mrs. H. S. Weaver, and Mrs. Whit Erwin, members of Madison Chapter No. 94, accompanied Mrs. Patton to Lake Providence.

Mrs. Earl Mitchell, chapter secretary, has been notified of her appointment to the Grand chapter committee on the International Temple Fund.

A card of sympathy was sent Mrs. S. R. Wall of Monroe, chapter member, in the loss of her father and motor accident of her son, Sidney Wall and family.

Mrs. A. A. Collins, member of Lorraine Chapter, of Opelousas, was a guest of the meeting.

Grady McDonald, worshipful master of Pecan Grove Lodge No. 222, was in Tallulah Monday night to take the second and third degrees of the Royal Arch.

Hugh Montgomery, of New Orleans, is here to spend the next several weeks with his sister, Mrs. Isabel Keene, and Senator Joseph E. Ransdell.

Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Myers and children were in Meridian to visit over the week-end with Mrs. Myers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. George McAfee.

Mrs. Tom Shields, of Alsatia, attended service at Grace Episcopal church on Sunday.

Mrs. J. N. Hill, Jr., in motoring to Greenville Tuesday to bring her sister, Mrs. Broughton Henderson, to Lake Providence, for a viist, had Mrs. J. H. Guernard and Mrs. Bessie B. Powell as guests for the trip.

S 1/c Roland Marcus has arrived in San Francisco and expects to leave there Wednesday or Thursday and arrive home this week-end.

Wedding anniversaries were celebrated April 26 by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Davis Schneider and Dr. and Mrs. B. R. Burgoyne.

Mr. and Mrs. Schneider celebrated their twenty-sixth anniversary, with the ceremony having been performed at Grace Episcopal Church, with Rev. Henry E. Spears, officiating.

Dr. and Mrs. Burgoyne celebrated their fourteenth anniversary, with the ceremony having been performed at 9:30 a. m. at Grace Episcopal church by the Rev. David E. Holt. Attendants were sister of the bride, Mrs. Field Montgomery, of Tallulah, and Dr. G. S. Hopkins.

R. P. Kennedy and sisters, Miss Katie Kennedy and Mrs. T. G. Wood, visited a few days last week in Jackson, Miss., with their niece, Mrs. S. P. Noble, who accompanied them home for a few days in her former home town.

Mrs. Noble, in returning to Jackson, was the guest of Mrs. Sam H. Houston, Jr., who is attending Draughons.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. DuBose are home after a delightful motor trip to Pensacola, Fla., and the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Judge and Mrs. W. H. Maben plan to attend the wedding of their niece, Miss Betty Bankston, in Raymond, Sunday.

Captain Jack Wyly, Norvel King, Mrs. Henry Winters and Mrs. H. O'Steen attended the district meeting of the Legion and Auxiliary, in Monroe, Sunday. Wyly, a Lake Providence attorney, was elected one of the area commanders, and Mrs. O'Steen was elected alternate for the district president of the auxiliary.

The Reverend and Mrs. A. A. Collins and children were visited by Mrs. Collins parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Speed, of Meridian, Miss.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Walsworth motored to Ruston Sunday for a visit with ther daughter, Miss Gwen Walsworth, a sophomore at Tech.

Mr. and Mrs. Delos Duhon are in Memphis that their infant son, Henry, might be in the care of specialists. Relatives and friends are deeply concerned over his critical condition.

AVERAGE COTTON PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, May 1.—(AP)—The average price of middling 15/16ths-inch cotton today at ten designated southern spot markets was $1.25 a bale lower at 37.39 cents a pound; average for the past thirty market days 37.01. Middling 7/8ths-inch average 34.96.

New York

NEW YORK, May 1.—(AP)—Cotton futures ended 50 cents to $1.35 a bale lower today after erratic price movements.

Prices dropped in early trading but came back for a while. New crop deliveries were favored partly because of the forecast of above-normal temperatures in Texas and Oklahoma.

In late dealings liquidating orders by New Orleans and commission houses uncovered stop-loss orders. Covering purchases stemmed the retreat.

May was sold throughout the session.

Futures closed 50 cents to $1.35 a bale lower than the previous close.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, May 1.—(AP)—Stocks extended their retreat today, ending the market's first losing week since the period ended March 13.

Selected oils and rails moved against the trend, some with sharp jumps to new highs for the year or longer.

Most pivotal shares, however, continued to back cautiously away from recent high levels under the influence of profit-taking and uneasiness over possible labor strikes.

Total transactions ran to around 500,000 shares, one of the slowest short sessions of the last several weeks.

Bonds were narrow and commodities uneven.

Ora Dealt Setbacks In Northeast Areas

Midstates Abandons Test West Of Auger; Mabee Venture South Of Oakland Plugged; Sklar, Carbons Consolidated Complete Producers

The future of Ora field's still unconfirmed northeast extension area was darkened considerably last week by failure of two wildcat projects and continued discouragement at a third.

Three miles north of production, C. M. Bagley and Jerry Cararas squeezed and reperforated the Auger No. 1, section 36-23-1W, after recementing the hole. Unofficial reports of a salt water flow with only a slight quantity of oil leaves the possibility of commercial production as much in doubt as ever.

Directly west of the Auger, Midstates Oil company and Lyons and Prentiss abandoned their Frost Lumber Industries No. 1, 2,117 feet after failing to find a second sand. Test in the Nacotoch earlier recovered a fluid of approximately 90 per cent salt water and only 10 per cent oil.

Also clouding the prospect of any large-scale development in the sector was the abandonment of Guy Mabee's Frost No. 1 in section 18-23-1W. The venture was located about a mile south of the Oakland area, close to the Davidson-Palmer Frost Johnson No. 1, one of the original wells in the now-depleted field.

Focal point of the Union parish development is Pan American Production company's Albritton No. 1, section 10-19-1E, where the operators are coring below 7,496 feet. Six miles to the north of the Downsville exploration, Pan American has staked location for a 3,000-foot core hole test on a Frost Lumber company tract in section 9-20-2E.

In the southwest extension of Ora, Carbons Consolidated brought in the third of its four initial ventures, the Anderson Johnson No. 4. The well was officially gauged at a pumping capacity of 198 barrels a day.

Only other completion for the week was Sam Sklar's Dykes No. 1, section 9-21-1W, rated at 119 barrels a day.

Three other casualties were Shell's G. H. Tucker No. 1, J. F. Tucker No. 4, both in section 34-22-1W, and Shell's Frost Lumber Industries 4-3, directly north of the discovery well in section 23-22-1W.

Elsewhere in the district, American Liberty Oil Company chalked up another setback in the Franklin parish South Delhi area where it abandoned the Holt No. 10, a proposed southwest extension test in section 15-16-8S. The company meanwhile has staked location for another field well, the H. M. Robinson No. 1, in section 12-16-8E.

Outside of Union parish, the sole other completion in the district was Arkansas Fuel Oil company's Urania Lumber N-10, section 35-10-1E of the LaSalle Little Creek field, brought in for a potential flow of 91 barrels a day.

STATES TO STUDY CURBS ON WASTE

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 1.—(Special)—State authorities will re-appraise their conservation programs and their ability to meet petroleum demands at the Interstate Oil Compact Commission spring quarterly meeting in the La Salle Hotel, Chicago, May 5-7.

Speakers, forum discussions and committees will review and analyze conservation progress and steps that may be taken to insure maximum crude oil production consistent with the states' waste prevention programs, Governor Beauford H. Jester of Texas, Compact chairman, announced today.

Opening the program, Governor Jester will discuss nationalization of the petroleum industry in other countries to determine the feasibility of such a policy in the United States.

B. A. Hardey, chairman of the Louisiana State Minerals Board, will weigh the advantages of state and federal regulation of the industry seeking to show which will best insure a readily available supply of consumer products.

Hiram M. Dow, Roswell, N. M., attorney and former Compact chairman, will trace conservation progress during the past 13 years and steps that may be taken to insure better utilization of our natural resources.

H. C. Fowler, supervising engineer of the Bureau of Mines petroleum experiment station at Bartlesville, Okla., will speak on "Secondary Recovery Research and the Bureau of Mines."

The Compacters will be welcomed to Illinois by Gov. Dwight H. Green who will review oil and gas development and conservation activities in that state.

Compact committees will meet on May 5 for study of various aspects of oil and gas conservation. The Regulatory Practices Committee will continue its survey of gas-oil ratios and will hear speakers on three phases of the subject, according to T. A. Morgan, Kansas conservation director, committee chairman.

Study of unitization and cooperative operation projects being conducted by the Research and Coordinating Committee will be reviewed, Jack K. Baumel, chief engineer of the Texas Railroad Commission, pointed out.

Reports on 1947 state conservation activities will be presented by members of the Legal committee, which also is revising the Compact's forms for oil and gas conservation laws.

The Engineering committee will hear report of its editorial sub-committee which is compiling a manuscript for a book on the best oil and gas production practices. The volumn will be published by the Commission. Dr. E. DeGolyer, Dallas engineer, is committee chairman, and W. H. Carson, engineering dean, University of Oklahoma, heads the editorial group.

Based on its study of trends in the petroleum supply and demand situation, the Economics Advisory committee will present a review of the past record and forecast of future demand. R. J. Gonzalez, committee chairman, has called the group to meet on May 3 in order to allow time for completion of its report.

The afternoon of May 7 will be devoted to presentation of reports and discussion of secondary recovery research and methods, with emphasis on possible recoveries through injection projects to augment the nation's petroleum supply. Secondary Recovery committee of which Paul D. Torrey, Houston engineer, is chairman, will present its report and there will be a forum discussion of the subject.

REEN ELECTED HEAD OF PEACE OFFICERS

NEW ORLEANS, May 1.—(AP)—John H. Green of Baton Rouge, head of the State Drivers' License Bureau, today was elected president of the Louisiana Peace Officers' Association.

Other officers selected at the closing session of the organization's annual convention were Prentis M. Oakley, Arcadia, first vice-president; P. J. O'Neil, Thibodaux, second vice-president; Leslie Broussard, Houma, third vice president and Lt. Robert J. Derbes, New Orleans, sergeant-at-arms.

The association adopted 14 resolutions brought up by its resolutions committee.

The motions urged retention of the civil service laws insofar as they apply to peace officers; favored wage-hour sales for peace officers; pledged help in wiping out Communsm in the state; urged new laws to strengthen the New Orleans police pension fund, and urged repeal of the state law which makes $1 the maximum fine for parking violations.

The Rev. Vincent O'Connell, S. M., praised the work of organized labor in exposing Communists in the state.

"There is no group in the state of Louisiana," Father O'Connell said in an address, "which has done more to expose and bring out into the open Communists than organized labor."

He said that Communists "are doing a great job" in the universities of the state "and are using students and faculty members for their tools."

RADIO FORUM ASKS CHILDREN DISLIKES

COLUMBUS, O., May 1—(AP)—The radio industry—target of worried parents for years—finally got around today to asking the children themselves what they would like to hear.

They got a few shocks. For instance—

Murder mysteries and 10-year-old David Binau don't get along. The chillers make him toss and turn in bed at night, and his school grades drop.

"I know why my mother doesn't want me to listen to mysteries," said David calmly. I know because I heard her talking to Daddy one night. She didn't know I heard, though."

"She said they cause me to toss in my sleep and once in a while the covers get tangled, and I get so uncomfortable I yell. Well, the next day in school my grades aren't so good."

The whole thing began on a panel discussion of children's programs at the 18th institute for education by radio, where the industry's top names are conducting their yearly appraisal of broadcasting.

Five experts from radio set out to find what 11 children from the Indianola Avenue Elementary school in Columbus liked.

The kids have personal preferences just like adults, the panel found.

Murder mysteries don't bother 12-year-old Diane Iles. But, those soap operas. They're just too deep. She doesn't like "all that love stuff."

DEATHS

MRS. W. L. DARK

DOROTHY DIX

Husband-Snatchers

Woman Wants Suitor's Wife To Surrender Him And Leave Town

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a well thought of young woman in my thirties and am in love with a married man whose wife refuses to divorce him. His wife is a respected and nice person, but I feel she is only a hag to continue living with the man I want. She knows about our affair, but seems utterly unmindful of it and continues to hold her head high, and she and her sons ignore me with perfect graciousness.

I make insulting remarks about her to my friends and tell things about her that are not true, but I know my friends don't believe what I say, and this humiliates me.

DOROTHY DIX

Will you please write an article telling this woman that if she loves her husband as she pretends she does, she will divorce him, break up her home and go out of town and live with her married son so her husband can marry me and we can enjoy a happy and wholesome life together.

DESPERATE

ANSWER: If you think that you can establish a "happy and wholesome" marriage by stealing another woman's husband, breaking up her home and half-orphaning her children, you are making a fatal mistake. It is one of the things that can't be done, because those who go into marriage and make a success of it have to have clean hands and a clear conscience.

FOOLING YOURSELF

If you are in your thirties, you have cut your wisdom teeth and you know well enough how the world looks on the husband-snatchers. It rates them among the most dangerous of the petty thieves. Nor do wives see any beautiful romance in their husbands' little affairs with other women. So you deceive yourself if you think you are still admired and respected. Everybody has your number and it isn't good for admission into the best homes.

And your idea that it is the duty of a wife to present her husband to you on a silver salver because you happen to fancy him, and give up her home because you want it, and even move out of the town she lives in and where her children are, bcause it will be less embarrassing to you, is so fantastic as to be funny. Just think of what a mess the world would be in if it were filled with the kind of "happy and wholesome" homes that you plan to establish!

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a happily married woman with two fine children and a good husband. Everything is okay with me, except that I have Ma-in-law trouble. My husband's mother has come to live with us and she cannot speak one word of English, and she claims that if I love my husband I should learn to speak his language.

My husband and I continually fight about this, for he thinks it is a fine thing for people, and especially children, to learn different languages. Please tell me what you think I should do. Should I sit pat and let Mother-in-law jabber her own lingo, or should I tell her to go and live somewhere else, as she has an allowance and is not dependent on us? Or should I just ignore her? Maybe I am selfish.

MRS. P. S.

ANSWER: Whether you are selfish or not, you are certainly making a very great mistake and one that is going to react badly on your children by forbidding them to learn a foreign language.

Consider the situation from this point of view—that the children's grandmother is offering them a great advantage in wanting to teach them her language, and you are blocking their way to receive it. Every foreign language is another tool with which a man or woman has to work, and the more they have, the better chances of success they have. It is a matter of dollars and cents to be a fluent linguist. I have known many men and women of very ordinary abilities otherwise, who held positions of high importance simply because they spoke in many tongues.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a young man and recently I took a young lady to a college game. During the evening when I noticed her shiver I asked if she were cold. To my amazement she answered: "No, just lonesome."

Now what is wrong with me to get such a reaction, and what can I do about it?

IN A QUANDARY

ANSWER: It is a poser, but evidently the young lady didn't fall for your line of attractions. My diagnosis of the situation is that your love-making wasn't hot enough. She wasn't interested in your telling her all about what a fine record you are making in college. She wanted to be told how beautiful and wonderful she is, and how you adore her. No girl ever gets lonesome as long as she has the spotlight turned on her.

HIGH FLYING DIPLOMATS GET WINGS CLIPPED BY RUSSIANS

Communist Rulers Of Western Area Doesn't Like Flying Americans

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(AP)—America's high flying diplomats in eastern Europe have had their wings pretty well clipped by the Communist rulers of that vast area, U. S. officials said today.

The latest American envoy who has been compelled to give up his official air carrier is Ambassador Cavendish W. Cannon at Belgrade, Yugoslavia.

Cannon's grounding prompted state department officials here to look at the record, and this is what they found:

Russia—Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith has a plane assigned to him but leaves it at Berlin. It is used not only to transport Smith and other embassy personnel but also to haul special food and supplies into the Russian capital. Each trip requires special arrangements with the Russian government and the plane has to travel along a designated narrow corridor.

Poland—Ambassador Stanton Griffis has plane facilities comparable to those assigned Ambassador Smith at Moscow. Griffis now uses the plane only when he calls it in from Berlin, normally to haul supplies and personnel in or out of the country.

Yugoslavia — Ambassador Cannon agreed just a few days ago to give up his personally assigned official plane. The Yugoslav government, in making the request, insisted regular transportation facilities are now available to the American envoy and members of his staff.

Romania — Minister Rudolph E. Schoenfeld still has his official airplane at Bucharest but it has been grounded by the government there since December.

Bulgaria—Minister Donald R. Heath is reported to be in danger of losing his plane which is still at Sofia. The Bulgarian government is considering denying him the right to use it.

Hungary—Minister Seiden Chapin has no plane at Budapest.

This review covers the principal points except for Czechoslovakia which fell under Communist control last February. Officials said that they had no word of any difficulties encountered by Ambassador Laurence A. Steinhardt.

Officials here said that in general throughout eastern Europe a diplomat who wants to use a plane to get himself or other important people in or out of the country can normally arrange for a special flight. Although it sometimes involves considerable red tape.

In the first year or two after the war, however, it was a common practice for American diplomats to fly pretty much at will. It was a handy way of hopping about a country to find out what was going on, and enabled the Americans to visit sections sometimes almost inaccessible by either train or automobile.

State department officials said the United States had sought to retain flying privileges for its diplomats and had offered to let ambassadors and ministers from other countries maintain airplanes in the United States. The officials conceded, however, that few other countries have the resources to make that kind of transportation available to their diplomats.

Officials here attributed the restrictions on American planes in eastern Europe to the determination of Communist leaders (1) To prevent outsiders from observing what goes on there and (2) to minimize contracts between the local population and people from the rest of the world.

CUBANS CLOSE COMMUNIST BROADCASTING STATION

HAVANA, Cuba, May 1.—(AP)—The Ministry of Communications closed a Communist radio station today and ended a series of fiery speeches attacking the government.

The ministry said the station was suspended for 10 days "for technical reasons."

Meanwhile, thousands of Cuban anti-Communist workers paraded along Havana's magnificent Prado Boulevard, shouting "down with Communism." Communists stayed out of the parade and were not allowed to hold a separate one.

NEGRO KNIFED BY COMMON-LAW WIFE

A Negro was knifed to death late yesterday afternoon by his comon-law wife who was booked by West Monroe police officers on charges of murder, police reported last night.

The slain Negro, Joe Young, 50, of 901 Railroad avenue, West Monroe, was employed by the West Monroe street department.

Booked for murder and being held in the parish prison is Sally Houston, 56, also of 901 Railroad avenue.

West Monroe Police Officers R. L. Knowles and S. S. Antley quoted witnesses as saying that Young struck the woman with a bottle. She drew a knife and slashed him about the throat and chest, the officers said.

According to Ouachita Parish Coroner Dr. J. T. French, the Negro died of a severed left juglar vein. A Mulhearn ambulance took him to the St. Francis Sanitarium where he died shortly after his arrival.

Dr. French said an inquest would be held this afternoon.

N. J. C. PLAYED HOST TO CROWD

Fully 900 Present For Annual High School Senior Day

Northeast Junior College was host to over 900 seniors, principals and class sponsors from high schools throughout this section of the state Friday. The occasion was the fourth annual Senior Day celebration at the local institution. This year's list of visitors surpassed that of former years and the 26 high schools represented comprised the greatest number to be included in Senior Day activities.

The day's program under chairmanship of A. S. Huffman, head of the health and physical education department, was effected by faculty, staff and members of student organizations.

Events opened at 10 a. m. in Brown Hall auditorium with a program at which George Franklin, Jr., president of the student body, presided. Following selections by the college band, directed by Francis Burke, visitors were welcomed by Dean Rodney Cline. Entertainment which followed included: two dance numbers from "Redskins on Parade," student variety show given in March; a one-act play, "The Fallen Bough," presented by Delta Psi Omega and the Wig and Mask Club; and vocal selections by the male octet, directed by Miss Gertrude Sandrock.

The next phase of the program included displays prepared by various departments: fine arts, library, languages, commerce, agriculture, and sciences.

On the military side was a demonstration at the stadium by the college R. O. T. C. under command of Maj. Joseph A. Murphy. Spectators were given a colorful show in the form of a battalian retreat parade and a demonstration by the crack drill team of the unit.

During the noon hour lunch was served at the stadium by students of home economics under supervision of L. L. Price, head of the agriculture department, and Miss Frances Kelso, assistant professor of home economics. A variety of typical picnic food appropriate for the gala occasion was provided by the education committee of the local Chamber of Commerce with T. H. Scott as chairman. Adding merriment to noon events were musical numbers given by seniors from several high schools. Vocal solos, accordion selections, guitar duets and other selections combined to add to variety of the day. Joe Pearce was master of ceremonies of this special feature. Music included numbers played by the Ouachita Parish High School band in a broadcast program from the college auditorium from 1-1:30 p. m.

The rest of the afternoon was planned with a view toward offering entertainment to suit everyone's taste. The calendar of activities included a tea dance in the student center, contests and games in varied sports, a music recital in the Fine Arts building, and a film showing by the R. O. T. C. activities club. Two special meetings were held: one devoted to a discussion of college curricula and credits by B. S. Hamner, N. J. C. registrar, another for principals and class sponsors with Dean Cline.

Chairmen of committees for Senior Day comprise the following: Invitation, Miss May Read; program, Dr. W. R. Hammond; registration, W. L. Perkins; public address, M/Sgt. H. C. Jolley; information, A. L. Tatum; department displays, P. A. Duet; assembly program, Miss Gertrude Sandrock; recreational games, Miss Ada Bess Hart; traffic and parking, R. B. Kitchingham, construction and furniture, H. M. Moak; financial, Dean Rodney Cline; tea dance, Mrs. Eloise Calhoun Stanhope; library, Miss Mary Clay; luncheon, L. L. Price; program during the lunch period, Miss Hazel Mitchell.

The local college on Friday entertained high school seniors, principals, teachers and class sponsors from the Fifth district. Over 900 came and inspected the institution, enjoyed the dinner served them, and were entertained by stunts in the stadium. The assemblage is shown above as they amused themselves.

OPTIMISTS HAVE LIVELY ELECTION

Last Friday was an exciting day for the Optimist Club of Greater Monroe and West Monroe. It was their annual election of officers and it turned out to be one of the hottest elections ever staged in the Optimist Club.

Carl Davis was elected president to succeed out-going President Jack Howard. President-elect Carl Davis stated that if the same enthusiasm shown during the election of officers will continue, then the Optimist Club of Monroe and West Monroe will rise to such heights that even the most optimistic will be surprised.

Other officers elected at Friday's luncheon, were C. R. Tillman, first vice-president; Sylvan Masur, second vice-president; Jimmie Newburn, treasurer; O. J. Williams, parliamentarian; Ivey McDonald, two year member of the board; and George Taylor, Merlin Milstead, Robert Rainwater, and C. C. Bell were elected on the board of governors.

President Jack Howard stated that the installation of officers would be held at a night banquet, the time and place would be designated at a later date.

IN MOVIELAND

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD, May 1.—(AP)—It has been a hard, 14-year pull up the comeback trail, but Monte Blue is finally hitting his stride.

Monte has just signed a featured player contract with Warner Brothers, where he once reigned as one of the great stars of the silent era. The event was another milestone in an amazing career that has ranged from the heights of fame to the rank of an extra player.

Monte, a ruggedly handsome Indianapolis orphan, spent an exciting youth as a reporter, miner, circus bareback rider, locomotive fireman, cowhand and seaman. His wanderings finally led him to Hollywood where he landed a job with D. W. Griffith—as a laborer.

One day Monte got into a fight with four other men. The battle ended with only one of the other men standing, and Griffith was impressed with the performance. He gave Blue his first acting job—quelling a mob in "The Absentee."

Blue stayed five years with Griffith as stunt man, then got his first breaks in films for Mary Pickford and Cecile B. DeMille. In 1922, he went to Warner Brothers, then a made-over livery stable in a Barley field on Sunset Blvd. He was a top star for Warners during the twenties.

Monte was a casualty of sound. He tells a story about his year's stay in Tahiti for "White Shadows of the South Seas." One scene showed him hallooing across a lagoon. In Hollywood, a tenor's voice was dubbed in. The industry thought he was unfit for sound.

"I made a few sound films," he says, "but the first talkies were technically crude. Players were being crucified on the altar of experimentation."

He retired from films in 1931, took a world cruise and returned to find his savings wiped out in a bank crash. He took a whirl at the stage, then returned to Hollywood.

"I looked in the mirror and saw I was no Little Lord Fauntleroy anymore," he remarked on the set of "Smart Money," his current picture. "I decided to build my new career on rock instead of sand. So I started at the bottom as an extra. I was in that awkward stage, between stardom and character parts."

He rose to bit parts and in 1942 went back to Warners, where he has been ever since. He's very happy with his new status as featured player.

"It's good to be free of the envy and jealousy that plague players in competition for star roles," he sighed. "I don't aspire to glory—I've had mine."

His credo is Lewis Stone's advice when Monte was returning to films as a character actor:

"Monte, don't aim for glory; stay just this side of it."

Peach halves, filled with cottage cheese, may be served on a bed of salad greens and dessert may be omitted from the meal. A good mayonnaise or mayonnaise-type salad dressing should be served with this salad.

A jar of cocoa or chocolate syrup kept ready in the refrigerator may be used in cold drinks, over simple cakes or ice cream. A drop or two of peppermint extract may be added to the syrup on occasion for a taste-change.

NURSERY FOR CHURCH UNIQUE

College Place Baptists Get Recognition By Convention

The nursery department of the Sunday School of the College Place Baptist church has recently been recognized by the Southern Baptist convention for its unique organization and program, according to Mrs. L. L. Price, superintendent of the department.

The department, working with children under four years of age has been awarded the standard of excellence certificate for the past two years. It has eight workers who supervise the different centers of interest during the Sunday school period. The organization of the teaching period around these different centers was what won for the department this recognition.

Each center is well equipped for teaching a specific type of lesson. Some of the centers are: worship center, housekeeping center, reading center, Nature center, block center and story center. Each type of activity has been photographed by request of the Sunday school board in Nashville, Tennessee, to be used during the annual meeting this summer at Ridgecrest, North Carolina. The workers, besides Mrs. Price are Mrs. E. J. Foster, H. Fairchild, L. A. West, Buddy Blair, Steven Svoran, H. L. Hales, and J. Y. Brooks.

Rev. C. S. Cadwallader, Jr., pastor of the College Place Baptist church, stated that the Sunday School was standard with several of its departments standard, and that the record made by the nursery department was indicative of the kind of work being done by the entire Sunday school.

CIVITANS PLAN ON CHARTER NIGHT

The Civitan Club, newest luncheon club in the Twin Cities, is now meeting each Thursday night in the La Casa, 900 North Third Street. Officers have been elected, headed by William (Billy) Gannaway, president.

At the meeting held last Thursday it was voted to have charter night on May 22 when Civitan Club members from Shreveport are expected to attend. Also an interesting program is planned. The club anticipates an attendance of 80 for charter night and it will be held in the La Casa Tea Room.

Bill Stevenson, field representative, member of the Shreveport Civitan Club, will come to Monroe to attend the next meeting and will aid in arranging for the charter night affair.

About three million people left American farms for cities between 1940 and 1947.

'PHANTOM BARBER' SEEKING PARDON

Pascagoula Sheriff Says He Believes Man Innocent Of Attack

JACKSON, Miss., May 1.—(AP)—Governor Fielding Wright tonight took under advisement a petition for pardon for William A. Dolan of Pascagoula, now serving a ten year sentence on a charge of assault with intent to murder.

The governor had just heard several witnesses both for and against Dolan, who was convicted in 1942 as the "phantom barber" who attacked Mr. and Mrs. Terrell Heidelberg as they slept in their Pascagoula home.

After the hearing, Gov. Wright told newsmen that "Dolan has a long criminal record and his conduct in the state penitentiary has not been good. However, my decision on this petition will be made solely on whether or not I believe him guilty of the crime for which he was convicted."

Among the witnesses in Dolan's behalf was Sheriff Guy Krebs of Pascagoula, who told the governor that "not only do I consider Dolan innocent, but I believe I know the man in Pascagoula who committed crime."

Mrs. Dolan, R. H. Broaddus, a Pascagoula policeman, and Howard McDonnell of Biloxi, attorney, were other witnesses who asked Gov. Wright to pardon Dolan.

H. P. Heidelberg, father of the young man suffering the "phantom barber" attack, and Barrett Jones, Jackson attorney, opposed granting clemency.

TALIAFERRO ON PROGRAM

JONESVILLE, La., May 1.—(Special)—Henry G. Taliaferro of Jonesville will be on the program of the annual Louisiana College Alumni Association banquet May 22 in Alexandria. Taliaferro, a 1935 graduate, will deliver the welcome to the 1948 graduating class. He presently is employed as supervisor of public schools in Catahoula parish.

Green peppers are more plentiful right now than they have been for some time. They are excellent in salads and when used raw are rich in vitamin C.

The sentimental season has arrived and interesting announcements of betrothals foretelling June weddings are being made daily.

Claiming interest today is the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. Francis Nelson Steele of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Roberta Jane Steele, upper left, to Mr. John Ralph Eunson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Eunson of Sterlington.

Another announcement of interest is made today by Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Monroe James whose daughter, Miss Billie Jacqueline James, upper center, will become the bride of Mr. Eugene William Biegenwald of Pittsburgh, Pa., June 25.

Foretelling a June wedding of prominence is the announcement made today by Mr. and Mrs. John Edward Godfrey of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Cleta Slagle Godfrey, upper right, to Mr. Carl Otis Murray, Jr., of Crockett, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Worley of Fairbanks, La., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Kathryn Louise Worley, lower left, to Mr. Eugene Charles Bellew, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Bellew of Bastrop, La. The wedding will take place June 1.

Mrs. Leroy Godwin and son, Al, of Quincey, Fla. are seen in the garden of the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Buckner of this city. Mrs. Godwin was formerly Miss Nan Buckner. Lower center.

Miss Velma Nichols, lower right, prominent in musical circles, will direct the Ouachita Parish High School choir concert next Thursday night.

WEDDING IN FARMERVILLE IS OF INTEREST TO MANY FRIENDS

In a beautiful double-ring ceremony characterized by simplicity at the First Baptist Church of Farmerville on Tuesday afternoon, April 22, at 5 o'clock, Miss Billie Jean Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Broadus Taylor of Farmerville, became the bride of Mr. William Davis Clinton, Jr., son of Mrs. John Wendell and the late Mr. Clinton of Clay, with the Rev. Luther B. Hall, pastor of the church, officiating.

An attractive arrangement of calla lillies and fern in baskets and tall floor standards, with a background of Southern smilax graced the dignified edifice. The same evergreens were used to bank the chancel railing, where white tapers gleamed at regular intervals. Cathedral tapers burning in branched candelabra of graduated lengths, shed a soft glow over the artistic setting.

The pews reserved for the family and intimate friends were marked with a cluster of evergreens tied with white satin ribbons.

After the guests were seated by the ushers, Mr. Ray Booth of East Point, La., and Mr. J. T. Parker of Birmingham, Ala., Mrs. Carroll Mitcham, of Bernice, cousin of the bride, wearing a model of ice blue crepe and corsage of pink carnations, lighted the candles.

Preceeding the ceremony a prenuptial concert was rendered. Mr. Green accompanied the soloist, Miss Faydelle Davis, of Kansas City, Mo., who sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

The Bridal Chorus from Wagner's "Lohengrin" was played as processional and "Mendelssohn's Wedding March" as recessional. During the exchanging of vows, "To A Wild Rose" was softly played.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Charles Dupuy of Dallas, Texas, who wore a model of azure blue crepe with small white straw hat, white accessories and shoulder corsage of pink roses. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an original model of blush pink crepe, fashioned with a draped skirt and square neck-line, trimmed with bows of self material. Her halo hat was of blue and pink feathers. She wore an exquisite string of pearls, a gift of the groom, and carried a white Bible, surmounted with white orchids showered with tuberoses and satin ribbons.

The groom's brother, Mr. Jimmy Clinton, of Clay, served as best man.

Mrs. Taylor chose for her daughter's wedding, a coco print with green accessories and corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Kendell was becomingly dressed in poudre blue crepe and a corsage of white carnations.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held in the Men's Bible class room, attractively decorated with pink carnations, pink radiance roses and painted daisies.

The bride's table, covered with pink satin overlaid with a handsome lace cloth, had for central decor, a crystal bowl of pink roses resting on a mirrored plaque. On either side white tapers burned in crystal candelabra. At one end of the table was the three tiered wedding cake, a gorgeous confection, embossed in spun sugar gardenias and surmounted with bride and groom figurines. The cake was served by Miss Billie June Sanderson of El Dorado, after the bride and groom cut the first slice. At the other end, was a large punch bowl, presided over by Mrs. Palmer Dean. Pink satin streamers extended over the edge of the table. Miss Eilene Stephenson of Jena, presided over the bride's book. Mrs. Jack Hammonds, Mrs. E. L. Mitchell and Mrs. Henry B. Smith assisted in extending charming hospitality.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton left immediately for a short wedding trip to New Orleans, upon their return they will reside at Choudrant, where Mr. Clinton is coach at the Choudrant High School.

Mrs. Clinton traveled in a white summer wool suit, pink hat and gloves, coco bag and shoes and corsage of white orchids.

Mrs. Clinton majored in English at Louisiana Tech and is a member of Phi Mu Sorority. Mr. Clinton majored in Physical Education also at Tech, and is a member of Pi K A fraternity.

Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Yarberry, Ruston; Mrs. Curtis Cook, Monroe; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kavanaugh of Belcher; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Kavanaugh of Bunkie; Mr. and Mrs. Duke Clinton of Ruston; Mrs. L. J. Ralf, of Clay; Mrs. Theo Reed, of Magnolia; Miss Eloise Brown of Delhi; Miss Orrabelle Clinton, of Shreveport; Mr. John Kendell of Clay; Miss Jane Clinton and Mr. Johnny Clinton of Clay; Miss Ann Butler of Bunkie; Mr. James Kanavaugh of Clay, Mr. Carroll Mitcham of Bernice and Mr. Earl Bennett of Ruston.

JOSEPH-EMBANATO WEDDING ATTENDANTS

DANCING IN THE MOONLIGHT IS PLEASANT EXPERIENCE FOR MEMBERS OF THE YOUNGER SET

These early summer nights were made for dancing and gayety and members of the younger set have planned several gala affairs. One of the most recent took place at the home of Miss Mary Wilton McHenry where dancing was enjoyed out-of-doors on the tennis court with a radiant moon giving a romantic touch.

Members of Delta Beta Sigma sorority and Delta Sigma fraternity entertained at this time. An orchestra supplied the music for the occasion. In the rose arbor, one of the many beauty spots in the Carl McHenry gardens, sandwiches and iced drinks were served by Delta Beta Sigma pledges.

Those present were:

Miss Martha McDonald and Stewart Scott, Miss Mary Coates and Graham Hughes, Miss Ginger Coats and George Eyre, Miss Anna Lois Sackett and Joe Ham, Miss Barbara Buce and Skeeky Aden, Miss Alice Perry and Bert DeLoach, Miss Helen Prothro and Sonny Richards, Miss Ann Minefee and Ray Hicks, Miss Jo Ann Meredith and Glen Brown, Miss Jan Snelling and Toby Bancroft, Miss Joan Parker and Dan Caldwell, Miss Phyllis Hubbs and Loyd Voorhees, Miss Jane Steed and Joe Downing, Miss Alice O'Kelly and David Kahn, Miss Libby Butler and Bobby Fife, Miss Billie Harper and Harold Woods, Miss Jean Phelps and Bud Marx, Miss Nancy Beasley and Earl Tarver, Miss Evelyn Steen and John Turner, Miss Betty Cruthirds and Foster Bond, Miss Lydia Jarmen and Bill Rhodes, Miss Jo Ann Ransom and Dick Pipes, Miss Mary McHenry and Mickey Serex, Miss Betty Bennett and Paul Davey, Miss Clara Munholland and Jack Baugh, Miss Betty Sue Scott and Jack Herrick, Miss Evelyn Mims and K. Officers Of St. Matthew's P.-T. A. Are Elected

At the regular meeting the St. Matthew's P.-T. A. members elected their new officers for the coming year:

President, Mrs. Charles P. Brogan; first vice-president, Mrs. Joseph Maggio, second vice-president, Mrs. Ralph Norman; secretary, Mrs. Leo Ritter; treasurer, Mrs. George Tonore.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Sister Elizabeth, and presided over by Mrs. Thomas Mulhearn, first vice-president, in the absence of Mrs. Stanley Hodges. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. R. L. Esdorn in the absence of Mrs. Brogan, and the treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Tonore in the absence of Mrs. John Spatafora. The absent officers were attending the state P.-T. A. convention in Lafayette, La.

A musical program was presented by the first, second and third grades.

Mrs. Mulhearn announced that plans for the summer round-up had been made for May 14.

Plans for the annual banquet for the seniors were made for May 27 with the following committee appointed:

Chairman, Mrs. Leo Ritter; Mrs. John Spatafora, Mrs. Stanley Hodges, Mrs. D. M. Obermeir, Mrs. Edwin P. Jenevein, Mrs. James Scalia and Mrs. Joseph Maggio.

Report on the local safety poster and essay contest were announced as follows:

Safety essay—First place, Pat Jenevein; second place, Theo DeGruy; third place, Patzy Miller.

Poster contest—First place, Frank Scalia; second place, Beatrice Varino; third place, Marbury Fluitt.

Monsignor Marsh outlined the plans for the new gymnasium for the school, which were enthusiastically received by all the members.

At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served by the hospitality committee, Mrs. Lawrence McCarthy, Mrs. R. J. Duran, Mrs. J. P. McDonald, and a delightful social hour was enjoyed.

STAMP COLLECTORS FROM THIS CITY AND SHREVEPORT ARE ENTERTAINED

A group of enthusiastic stamp collectors from Monroe and Shreveport motored to Columbia, La., where they were welcomed in the hospitable home of Mr. H. W. Blanks, who is also an ardent stamp collector.

Mr. Blanks first took his guests on a tour of his beautiful garden and then invited them indoors where delicious refreshments were served, buffet style from a beautifully appointed table. The central decor was quite novel . . . an immense cake decorated with spun sugar stamps of all nations.

Mr. Blanks was assisted in the courtesies by his wife and his daughter, Mrs. Woodrow Turner and Mr. Turner.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to impromptu talks. An auction of stamps resulted in a nice sum being realized for the fund, "Stamps for the Wounded."

E. M. Freeman, president of the Shreveport Philatelic Society, gave an interesting talk on "Stamp Collecting as a Hobby." He said he likes to travel around the world on the stamp route because it is much easier and less costly. He stated that there is no limit to the manner in which a person can collect stamps. He said a person can learn much about paper manufacture, manufacture of inks, and the various types of printing used in stamp manufacture. One will learn history, geography, and numerous other things about the world through stamps and will even find that stamps publicize civic and fraternal organizations.

He said that some people make their work their hobby but definitely work, in any form, was not his hobby. His preference was stamp collecting. He exhibited a few frames of outstanding covers from his extensive cover collection among which were several very rare items and also a frame of the very popular Roosevelt commemorative sets.

Maurice Glazer, president of the Ouachita Stamp Club of Monroe, exhibited some of his beautifully mounted stamps and explained that through his system of mounting stamps, a person can add distinctiveness, art, and beauty to their collections. Mr. Glazer hinges each stamp on a different piece of art paper using different shapes and colors for each set and uses art craft corner mounts to fasten the colored paper to the album sheet. In this way he can make an ordinary, drab set of stamps look beautiful because he cuts the paper in different designs to help explain what the stamps commemorate. By using this system a person mounts each set as he gets it and avoids the pitfalls of just trying to fill space. Filling space has caused many people to soon lose interest in the hobby. When a person gets a new set of stamps and mounts it on a beautifully arranged page interest is always high and they seldom give up the hobby. This way each set is mounted as it comes out and a person does not have to wait several months to get pages to mount their stamps."

George Buckner, of the Ouachita Stamp Club, exhibited several pages from his Louisiana Stampless Covers and explained that these were used prior to the time of the postage stamp and afterwards due to poor distribution of the first stamp in 1847. He pointed out that several errors in recorded history have been discovered through stampless covers in the collections throughout the country and that new historical facts are being discovered every day. He also noted that many humorous incidents are found recorded in these letters written a hundred or more years ago.

Shreveport was represented by E. M. Freeman, president of the Shreveport Philatelic Society, and Mrs. Freeman and daughter, Patsy; A. L. McClellan, secretary-treasurer-elect, and Mrs. McClellan and son, Joe Brown; Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Haynes and children, Mary and Richard; E. L. Pelham, J. B. Corbin; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Greenwood, Jr.; F. L. Couvillion; W. L. Lang; Mr. and Mrs. Larry D. Bartell and son, Charles; Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Pembleton; Mrs. R. J. Naegele; Pfc. R. S. Rooy and Pfc. and Mrs. P. S. Chaplik of Barksdale Field; and Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Hull of Carthage, Texas, who are members of the Shreveport club.

Monroe was represented by Maurice Glazer, president of the Ouachita Stamp Club, and Mrs. Glazer, Thomas Truitt, vice-pres., and George Buckner.

MISS MARY JO GAUTREAUX

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Mary Jo Gautreaux, daughter of Mrs. Mary Ella Gautreaux and the late Joseph Alexander Gautreaux of White Castle, La., to Chester Winfield O'Quin, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Winfield O'Quin of Alexandria, La., is announced by the bride-elect's mother. The wedding will take place May 30, in the Jonesboro Baptist Church, Jonesboro, La.

AFTERNOON TEA ATTRACTS GUESTS FROM THIS CITY AND THROUGHOUT THE COMMUNITY

Beautiful gift flowers, roses, iris, lilies and daisies, arranged in artistic profusion, banked the lower floor of the La Casa when the hostesses, Mrs. Minnie Boughton, Mrs. Belle Abel and Mrs. Roberta Bondy entertained with one of the most elaborate teas of the season.

Hundreds of guests called during the receiving hours and were welcomed by Miss Maible Hood who wore an afternoon model of black with deep yoke of sequins.

Mrs. Boughton wearing a black crepe model, Mrs. Bondy wearing a flowered crepe model and Mrs. Abel in black crepe, stood in the spacious reception suite against a background of roses and magnolias. The mantel was banked with magnolias and shining green leaves.

Lights were lowered in the dining room where candles gleamed on the beautifully appointed, lace covered table. Yellow Peace roses of pronounced beauty were arranged in a pyramid in the center of the table and at either end handsome silver coffee services were presided over by Mrs. W. P. Renwick, Mrs. Dan Files, Miss Minnie Barr Boughton and Mrs. Joe Fuller.

Throughout the afternoon a variety of delicious confections were served. Miss Nell Rainey, at the piano, played continuously during the receiving hours.

MISS MARJORIE OLIVER IS SPEAKER AT P.-T. A. MEETING

Miss Marjorie Oliver talked on guest speaker at the April meeting of St. Matthew's P.-T. A. talked on the subject of "Meeting the Emotional Needs Of Our Children," she said:

"Behavior in a child grows out of a series of past experiences, and too often we are prone to treat the behavior itself, the symptom, that is—instead of searching deeper to find the cause. Dealing fact and loose with the emotions of children can be very damaging. We know more today about how children grown and how they "grow up," than we have ever known before.

It behooves parents and teachers to study the findings that have been made recently and to rely more on these very revealing scientific facts, than merely to depend on the sentimental.

Causes for emotional disturbances are many, there are several areas of the child's life that we should strive to understand.

The child regarded by his parents as a nuisance finds that he has to fight back and that he must be tough.

Parents who neglect the child make the world a neutral and cold hardened place to live.

Parents that are too domineering make the child aggressive with other children.

The child from birth needs to be given the sense of belonging and he needs to feel that he is valuable. Adolescents need much affection but it must be in a "hand off" fashion.

A third very important phase of the child's life is his relationship with his group—with his peers. This is an area that adults fail so often to understand. Every boy and girl above all else in the world wants to win for herself a place in the group. They do organize themselves into clubs, gangs, cliques. The child is born into an adult organized society, he wants an organization of his own, so all of a sudden the boys or the girls decide to form a club. Activities are unimportant but tremendously important is the task of finding a meeting place—a secluded spot, a name, a password, handshake, badge or symbol of membership and a SECRET, which usually has some connection with the thing that the parent has been trying to keep from them. This impulse to stress secrecy often causes parents to suspect something unwholesome is taking place, etc. They are going to have these secret organizations and there is not a thing you or I can do about it, nor do we want to do anything about it. This is their way of learning

Teach your child habits and ways to make him a lovable person, one who will conform to society, and the best time is the first few years of his life.

Parents should read current magazines such as the Parents Magazine, the P.-T. A. Magazine for parents, and books on child behavior that may be found in the public library. Angelo Patri's articles are excellent.

SOCIAL AFFAIRS REVOLVED LAST WEEK AROUND MISS JEAN HALE

Several weeks of elaborate entertaining for Miss Jean Hale climaxed on Saturday when she became the bride of Garland Hammons in an impressive ceremony at the First Methodist Church.

Among the last minute courtesies was the luncheon at the La Casa with Miss Martha Ann Moore, Miss Florence Fluker, Mrs. Courtney Oliver and Mrs. Gladys Slack, hostesses. The decor was distinctive and the three course luncheon unusually delicious. Beautiful flowers banked the silver serviced table.

The seated tea given by Mrs. O. L. Holloway and Mrs. Fred Coon was another gracious compliment. Miss Hale wore a crisp, cool, model of blue chambray with blue accessories.

The hostesses were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Walter Rhodes and Mrs. Fred Coon, Jr.

Breakfast at the La Casa with Mrs. C. E. McKenzie, Mrs. H. John Sherrouse, Jr., and Mrs. Hollis Venable, hostesses was on the side of things charming.

Miss Hale was wearing a lovely print model with wide brimmed hat and all accessories of brown. She received from her hostesses a beautiful sterling silver bread tray.

Magnolias formed the ornamental decor of the breakfast table. Three delicious courses were served to the hostesses, the guest of honor and: Mrs. Guy Campbell, Mrs. Ray Haines, Mrs. Floyd Stone, Mrs. Harry Stone, Mrs. Roy Hale, Miss Annie Lee Russell, Mrs. Harold Mouk, Mrs. Brodger Thornhill, Mrs. James Phelps and Mrs. A. M. Serex.

Cocktails and a variety of hors d' oeuvres were served in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Stone to Miss Hale and Mr. Hammons and members of their wedding party last Tuesday night. Mr. Mac Ward was co-host on this occasion.

The buffet in the dining room was beautifully appointed and florally adorned with a wide spreading plaque of pink and white roses.

Mrs. R. A. Evans, was made happy Saturday afternoon, when her daughter, Mrs. Grace Kirby, assisted by her Sunday School class of the Emmanuel Baptist Church, held open house in celebration of her 79th birthday.

The reception suite was decorated with pink radiance roses and shasta daisies.

Throughout the afternoon and evening guests called to extend their best wishes to Mrs. Evans, who looked lovely in a gown of blue and white and corsage of pastel flowers presented by Mrs. J. O. McCormick.

The dining table, overlaid with lace was centered with a beautiful birthday cake in white and embossed in pink sweet peas, with "Happy Birthday" traced across the top. The cake placed on a reflector, was encircled with pink rosebuds and daisies. Punch and confections were served.

The celebrant was the recipient of many lovely gifts. Cut flowers were received, as well as numerous telegrams from friends in Florida, California, Texas, and other states.

Among those attending was Mrs. Evans' only sister, Mrs. J. R. Bransford of Ruston.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Miss Joyce Kyle Litton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kyle Litton, whose engagement to Mr. Anson David Foreman, III, son of Dr. and Mrs. A. D. Foreman, Jr., of Amarillo, Texas, is announced today. The wedding will take place June 24.

BONO NOSTRORUM CLUB

Members of the Bono Nostrorum Club and guests were entertained in the home of Mrs. Mable Nash for the April meeting. Mrs. B. N. Hixon was co-hostess. The president, Mrs. F. C. Sheppard presided. The subject "Flower Culture" was ably presented by three of the club members. Miss Ethel Watson spoke on "Azaleas." She emphasized the beauty of those growing in the long leaf pine belt around Mobile, however she said there are about 50 species found in North America from Canada to Florida and westward to Texas and since the secret of successful culture of azaleas has been made known to every gardener, the popularity of the Azalea has grown by leaps and bounds. She gave some valuable information as to the preparation of the soil of this beautiful plant.

Mrs. Lida Taylor, a Camellia enthusiast, described the Camellia Japonica as the "Aristocrat of Southern Gardens". She said that while we do not know when or how the Camellia was introduced in the South, we do know that travelers in the early years of the settlement of the south brought plants with them from the "Old Country" and very early in the development of the country specimens of Camellia Japonicas were found in the vicinity of Charleston, Augusta, Pensacola, Mobile, New Orleans, Natchez and other centers of wealth and culture. She explained that most of the camellias grown in the south are either of the Japonica or Sasanqua variety. Although for a period during the last half of the last century the Camellia reached a high point in public favor, for a number of years for reasons not quite clear, interest in the plant lagged, however it was in the early part of the current century specialists, nurserymen and gardeners suddenly awaked to the tremendous horticultural value, the exquisite beauty, rare charm and usefulness of the Camellia. She gave helpful information concerning preparation of the soil, feeding, drainage, propagation, control of insects and diseases.

EXCHANGE TEACHER FROM WALES TELLS OF NATIONAL EISTEDDFOD

Women from this city who attended the Louisiana Parent-Teacher Silver Jubilee convention in Lafayette have returned with glowing accounts of the splendid program and especially the talk made by Miss Sybil Davies, exchange teacher of Heath, South Wales. She told those who were present at the president's luncheon about the national literary and musical festival of Wales.

The speaker gave a vivid description of the national Eisteddfod which has had tremendous influence upon Welsh life, culture and education. Peculiar to Wales alone, some of the festival's traditions have been handed down from the ancient Druids. The Eisteddfod did not begin to take its present form, however, until the Tudor Queen Elizabeth gave permission for it to be carried on after it had been suppressed for many years, Miss Davies explained.

The national celebration is held every year during the first week of August. Any town, or even village, is eligible to entertain it as long as the citizens guarantee to cover the expenses if it should not prove to be a success. Towns wishing to hold the festival must apply to the Eisteddfod committee two years in advance, the speaker asserted.

The year preceding the celebration is a busy one, with various committees working hard to arrange literary, and music events, publicity and other essential items. The pavilion committee sees to the building of a large wooden pavilion capable of seating about 32,000 people, and putting up marquees. The literary committee chooses subjects for various competitions, and the group in charge of music, in addition to competitions, begins the training of a choir comprising from 800-1,000 voices for evening concerts. The general committee selects judges and an orchestra for the evening musical treats. The London Symphony Orchestra has been chosen for several years.

A president is chosen for each morning and afternoon session. The Prime Minister often presides, and the Royal family have at various times served as president. Princess Elizabeth was president at one session last year, and was initiated with a bardic title.

Proceedings start on Monday morning with a ceremony at the bardic circle, a procession led by a herald on horseback and setting out from one of the local churches. He is followed by two bards—one carrying a sheathed sword and the other a very large blue and silver horn known as the Horn of Plenty. The chief bard in handsome white robes follows. Then comes the bards, also in white, and the novitiates in green.

The archdruid stands on the two center stones and others are grouped within the bardic circle. He begins the proceedings with the Yorsedd prayer and the traditional Yorsedd hymn. Then the horn of plenty is handed to the archdruid who receives the novitiates. They pledge loyalty to the traditions of Wales, and are finally initiated with a bardic title.

The chief herald then blows the horn to the four corners of the earth, and the archdruid unsheaths the sword of peace, crying, "The voice cries—is there peace?" Then the answer comes from the crowd, "Peace." Next, the procession moves to the Eisteddfod pavilion, which is always placed in a large open space. As one enters this field he will see the stalwarts of the Eisteddfod, known among the Welsh as the Eisteddfodwr. They usually are the elderly men and women who attend the festival no matter where it is held. They make note of persons entering the pavilion, discuss singers, conductors and adjudicators, and compare them with those of the past. These are the loyalist diehards of the Eisteddfod, which would not be complete without them, Miss Davies humorously commented.

Chief rivalry on Monday is that of the brass bands. Almost every village in Wales has such an organization, and competition is keen, Miss Davies said.

Tuesday is children's day, and also one of the important ceremonies—the crowning of the bard.

On this day also comes the highlight of the big celebration, music by the chief choir of 150 voices. The pavilion is always crowded on this afternoon, Miss Davies said, and "very proud, indeed, is the winning choir."

Thursday is the peak of interest for most Welsh people. The winning poem in Welsh is announced. The stage is cleared of all but the archdruid and his bards. They hold a ceremony somewhat like that of the Yorsedd, but before it begins they call the name (nom de plume) of the winning poet. When he stands, (he has not been informed and is usually seated with the audience) the bard walks to him and clothes him in the green robes of the novitiate. Then he is escorted to the stage to be installed with great ceremony in the bardic chair of carved oak, which frequently is presented by a British dominion or colony. The charing song is given by the Eisteddfod singer, then each bard comes up in turn to greet him with witty verse, to the bardic circle.

Another important phase of the Eisteddfod are art and craft competitions. Competition includes Welsh dramas held at local halls during the evening.

To obtain the proper atmosphere of the Eisteddfod, the speaker asserted that one should spend the entire week, from morning until evening, seeing and hearing all the production. Miss Davies said "Wales gives you a hearty invitation to visit her and enjoy these things with her people." Before the war many Americans included the Eisteddfod in their tour calendar.

A wedding widely attended took place at St. Matthew's Church at nine o'clock in the morning, April 29 when Miss Loretta Teresa Embanato, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Embanato and Mr. Frank Joseph, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Joseph were united in marriage with Monsignor John Marsh, officiating.

While the guests were being seated by the ushers, Mr. A. L. Embanato and Mr. John Luffey, Mrs. Della Williamson, organist, rendered a pre-nuptial concert and accompanied Miss Mary Margaret Comrato who sang "Ave Maria" and "Panos Angelius."

The maid of honor, Miss Rosemary Ellis; the matron, the bride's sister, Mrs. Joe Zarro; and bridesmaid, Miss Virginia Comrato all wore rustling taffeta gowns of ice blue taffeta. The junior bridesmaids, Misses Mary Anna Embanato and Barbara Ann Worley wore gowns of pink taffeta. They were fashioned with a drop shoulder effect with tight fitting basques and a draped skirt. They wore shoulder length veils adorned with flowers forming a halo. They wore long gloves of the same shade and carried exquisite bouquets of roses and carnations.

The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Alfred Joseph, Mr. Philip Embanato and Mr. Joe Zerro.

Bride Wears White Satin

The bride walking to the altar with her father, wore a wedding gown of white satin which featured a marquisette yoke outlined with a satin fold. The sleeves were long and tight fitting, slightly puffed at shoulders and forming points over the hands. The fingertip veil of white illusion was caught to halo shaped crown and was worn over the face and later thrown back in traditional manner. The bride's wedding raiment was designed and made by her sister, Mrs. Joe Zarro. She also made the attendants dresses, headdresses, and gloves.

The bride carried a white satin bound prayer book adorned with tuberoses and white orchids sent from Hawaii via airline from her sister, Mrs. Leo Ticheli.

The reception following the ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents in Edgewater Gardens. The wedding party stood to receive the guests.

Mrs. Joe Embanato, the bride's mother, wore a black and white spring model and a white carnation corsage.

The bride's table, overlaid with handsome imported lace, was centered with a magnificent three-tiered wedding cake embossed in white roses. The guests were served sandwiches and confections.

The bride changed her wedding raiment for a smart tailleur of gray with green accessories. Her corsage was of white orchids.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph spent their honeymoon in Port Arthur and Beaumont, Texas. They are now at home to their friends at 2410 Grammont.

MRS. FRANK JOSEPH

Mrs. Joseph, bride of recent date, was formerly Miss Loretta Teresa Embanato, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Embanato.

FIVE HUNDRED GUESTS ATTEND THE ANNUAL ART EXHIBIT AT OUACHITA PARISH HIGH SCHOOL

More than five-hundred guests attended the annual art exhibit opened to the public last Thursday night at the Ouachita Parish High School by the art students and their instructor, Miss Birdie Hatton.

On display at the exhibit was art work done in a variety of mediums. The visitors were impressed by the variety as well as quality of the work on display. The variety of work is the results of Miss Hatton's method of instructions. She feels that each student taking art should have a chance to enjoy and find self expression in his work. She encourages initiative and self planning by the students as she feels that this is the basis of creative work.

Displayed on the walls were many beautiful and expressive oil paintings which the students framed as part of their art work. Most expressive of the oil paintings was a piece of work done by Della Guillory entitled "The Divine Weeps Over Man". This painting showed the all seeing eye symbolizing, the Divine weeping over what man does to man through war.

There were many pastels and tempera paintings, pencil drawings and pen and ink work. The chief attraction of the pencil drawing was a portrait of the principal, Mr. Jack Hayes. The drawing was done by Herman De Loach, who shows promise in the field of portraiture.

The long table covered with a great variety of craft work drew much attention and favorable comments as did the wall display. One of the added features of craft work this year was paper sculpture. The chief attraction in this type of work was an old-fashioned schoolhouse with Mary and the lamb which followed her to school. This project was done by Carla Beth McKenzie and Laura Russ.

Frank Stevens, who placed first in sculpture at the state high school art contest last year, had on display at the exhibit a piece of work that attracted much interest. "The Fall Of Man" was the title of this piece of sculpture. It showed a man and woman bound by the coils of a serpent which symbolized man's enslavement to sensation in the material world, which shuts him off from the spiritual, leads to his separation in consciousness from God and leads to his fall from the spiritual side of life.

Seven fine pieces of art work were not on display because they were away as entries at the national high school art contest. These pieces of work merited right to be sent to national contest by placing at state regional division at New Orleans. Alwyn Bates, Della Guillory, Nell Hazilit, John Harris, Jerry Haynes and Anne Robinson are the students whose work placed first at the state and has now been entered in the national high school art contest. Other outstanding work done by the art students under Miss Hatton's direction, beside the exhibit were such projects as the stage scenery for Christmas play, floats for football parades, decoration and favors for the Lionette banquet, pin and ink drawings for the school annual, and menu covers for the National Red Cross convention. The students also entered posters in the poster contest sponsored by the Woman's Temperance League on the evils of alcohol. Jerry Haynes had the winning poster for Ouachita Parish High School. This group of posters was on display at the art exhibit and borrowed by Rev. Robinson for display in his work.

The art instructor and students appreciate the public interest in their work as shown by the large number of visitors to the exhibit. Many parents expressed their gratitude over the fact that their children had these art opportunities available at Ouachita. J. R. Broussard, director Louisiana Art Commission, states that only a few parishes in Louisiana offer art instructions. The patrons of O. P. H. S. are glad that their school is one of the few that does offer art instructions as they feel that beauty is a force for better living and art appreciation and education for their children has much to contribute to the American way of life.

Students who acted as hostesses and served refreshments to the visitors were; Della Guillory, Willee Jo Bruce, Johnnie Mae Whitlock, Corla Beth McKenzie, Charline Cloyd, Betty Sue Scott, Laura Russ, Betty Sue Dixon and Virginia Kenley.

WILL BE JUNE BRIDE

Miss Addie Butler, daughter of Mrs. Hansford R. Butler of Winnsboro, La., whose engagement to Mr. Dwight MacCurdy, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. MacCurdy, is announced today. The wedding will take place early in June at the First Baptist Church in Winnsboro.

We have just completed the installation of the most up-to-date equipment available so that we might give our customers the best in

HOMOGENIZED MILK

To appreciate the truly rich flavor of this wholesome milk you need only try a bottle. You will be amazed at the difference homogenization makes.

Some of the advantages of Homogenized Milk are:

1. The fat is finely divided and remains uniformly distributed. In this manner each member of the family is assured his or her share of the cream.

2. It is easier to digest due to the breaking down of the fats and proteins under high pressures.

3. The flavor and color are richer.

4. It produces superior results in cookery.

"Awaken- Engleman) was the number ren- during the candle lighting by J. lhite, Jr., and Roy Edminston. Promise Me," was rendered by Bramlett. Lohengrin's march ded the bridal party. The reces- l was "Schubert's Serenade."

Mrs. Roy Edminston, of Bossier City, matron of honor, wore a gown of pink with short, gathered sleeves, sweetheart neckline, and skirt fulness falling from double ruching at the hipline.

Mrs. John Pearson, Jr., of Shreveport, bridesmaid, was gowned in gold net over satin, with the skirt flounces headed with self material.

Miss Virginia Dare Reese of Ruston, wore a model of pink, gold sequin trimmed on the deep ruffle of the low, rounded neckline and around the hips.

Miss Anne Harris, of Ruston, wore blue with shoulder draping to mark the neckline. A bustle sash decorated the back of the bouffant skirt.

All carried arm bouquets of roses in colors harmonizing with their gowns.

Nancy Jane Harmon, of Arcadia, flower girl, wore a floor length model of pink with short bodice separating the full skirt with lace beading, threaded with blue ribbon. She carried a basket filled with rose petals.

George Wayne Braswell, young son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Braswell, was the ring bearer.

The bride wore a beautiful wedding gown of white with eyelet satin bodice and bouffant net skirt that fell into a long train. A single strand of pearls was her only ornament. The lace edged veil fell from a tiara of seed pearls. Her arm bouquet was of white brides' roses.

The groomsmen were, Billy Wilhite, Talmadge Pearson and Roy Sullivan. Mr. John Pearson, Jr., of Shreveport served his brother as best man.

The bride was graduated from the Lake Providence High School, class of 1947.

The groom served two years as motor machinist mate 3/c at the naval air bases in San Diego, San Francisco, and the Philippines.

MRS. PONDER AND SON, JACK

Mrs. Charles Ponder reads the letter received from Betty Crocker informing her that she has been selected "Mother Of The Year" and will be given a trip to New York City where she will be the guest of General Mills and will be entertained in lavish manner. The program, "Magazine Of The Air," will be broadcast over ABC Wednesday morning, May 5. Mrs. Ponder and her son, Jack, a student at the Ouachita Parish High School, will leave their home in West Monroe this evening for New York City. It was Jack's letter telling of his mother's many virtues that won over thousands of contestants.

CLUB MEETING AT THE LOTUS CLUB WITH MRS. NIXON AS HONOR GUEST

Beautiful flowers were placed in the lounge of the Lotus club by Mrs. Richard Whitehurst and Mrs. Leola Nixon when they entertained members of the Welcome Branch Book club.

Mrs. E. A. Porter presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. A. J. Speer. Plans were completed for the tea at the Y. W. C. A. Sunday afternoon, honoring Mrs. Leola Nixon who was recently named "Louisiana Mother." Mrs. Nixon was present on this occasion and addressed club members in inimitable manner. She told of the messages received from friends all over the state who expressed their delight over the honor conferred upon her.

A report from the Public Safety chairman was given by Mrs. Tom Jett. The District meeting report was given in interesting manner by Mrs. Zell Smith, Mrs. W. B. Wheelis, Mrs. W. B. McGee, Jr

The program chairman introduced Mrs. F. E. Black who reviewed the book "The Rediscovery of Morals" by Henry C. Link, Ph. D. "This book is Dr. Link's answer to the question being asked by people everywhere: "What is wrong with the world and the people today and what can be done about it?"

Here is a theory of races and class conflict bound to cause controversy for its blunt indictment of certain aspects of the modern political and economic scenes, as well as for its point of view concerning the role of religion and education in the world today.

Tracing present day intolerance in the United States back to the days of slavery. Dr. Link sees a promise of increasingly violent and dangerous race and class hatred in the future.

In a discusison of the reasons for this frightening outlook, labor and anti-discrimination laws are attacked as a means of perpetuating inequalities which could be eliminated through moral rather than legislative means, according to the author.

"Christian Century Magazine," gives the following comment: "This book will be hailed as epoch making; cursed as reactionary, praised as profound and scorned as superficial. Paradoxically enough it has all these virtues and faults. The net impact upon the reader though is good. This is a book that needed to be written and therefore deserves to be read."

Mrs. George Phebus gave an article taken from the "Bulletin of the Pan American Union." Rotary International in Brazil, Rio De Janeiro will be host to Rotarians from all parts of the globe when the 39th annual convention of Rotary International, a world-wide organization, convenes in the famous capital of Brazil from May 16 to 20. The theme is solidarity through friendship. The first Rotary convention to be held south of the equator, it will bring to Rio more than 5000 Rotarians and members of their families from North, South and Central America, from Europe, Asia and Africa and from the islands of the Pacific.

These Rotarians representing 80 different countries and geographical regions of the world have a serious purpose in the administrative work of the Rotary organization and in the presentation of important addresses. The principal Rotary activities in Latin America include general community betterment understandings work for crippled and underprivileged children, the establishment and supervision of camps for boys and girls, assistance to students through scholarships and student loan funds, the promotion of high standards in businesses and professions and the development of international good will and understanding.

Delicious refreshments were served to the following members: Mesdames F. E. Black, Henson Coon, J. Norman, A. R. Doughty, R. H. Dollar, V. S. Garnett, E. C. Gibson, R. R. Griffith, A. S. Gunter, M. H. Hausherr, J. G. Hicks, Robert Irby, Tom Jett, E. E. Lawson, J. E. McConnell, Morris Miller, Leola Nixon, J. D. Petty, George Phebus, E. A. Porter, T. H. Scott, Dean Selig, Zell Smith, A. C. Warner, W. B. Wheelis, J. R. White, Richard Whitehurst, E. J. Whitman, A. C. Polk.

MUSICAL EVENT IS ATTRACTING ATTENTION OF PUBLIC GENERALLY

The Ouachita Parish High School Choir, under the direction of Miss Velma Nichols, will present its spring concert Thursday, May 6, at 8:15 o'clock in the Ouachita Parish High School auditorium.

The roster of the choir now numbers seventy-nine. An "inner choir" of the better voices, numbering about sixteen, seated in center of the group, serves as an aid to intonation and also is very useful for special effects, contrasts and more delicate passages. This "inner choir" known as the vocal ensemble also sings light popular numbers.

This choir has been recognized by outstanding musicians throughout the United States as a highly professionalized choir, and in turn has brought prestige to the twin cities. They have given numerous performances for various civic organizations and churches in Monroe and West Monroe—each time they have been a source of pride and pleasure to their audiences.

During the middle of May the group plans to present several concerts in other cities of our state. In Lafayette they will appear at Southwestern, May 14, in Burke Hall Theatre at 8:15 p. m. On May 15, the Morgan City Rotary Club is sponsoring a concert in Morgan City. The next performance will be at the Rayne Memorial Methodist Church in New Orleans on May 16 at 8:00 p. m.

The program follows:

"Lord of Hosts"—(Wennerberg); "Awake!", Chorale from Die Meistersinger—(Wagner); "Agnus Dei"—(Thomas Morley); "Plorate Filii Israel," from Jephtah—(Giacomo Carissimi; "Hark, Now, O Shepherds"—(Moravian Melody); "From Heaven Above"—F. M. Christiansen—Recitative, Beryl DeLoach; solo, Patricia Rector.

Choir.

Intermission.

"Country Style"—(James Van Heusen; "Erie Canal"—(Early American Work Song); "Comin' Through the Rye"—(Old Folk Tune)—Beryl DeLoach, soloist.

"Louisiana Hayride"—(Arthur Schwartz); "Old Smokey"—(Traditional); "Jalousie"—(Gade).

"Irish Medley"—Beryl DeLoach, Anne Mulhern, Patricia Rector, soloists; "Set Down Servant"—(Negro Spiritual)—Willoughby Thomas, Floyd Fisher, soloist; "My Bonnie Lies Over the Ocean"—(Old Folk Tune); "Skip To My Lou"—(Harry R. Wilson)—Ensemble.

"In Heaven Above"—(Norwegian Folk Song)—John Anne Lewis, soloist; "Praise to the Lord"—(F. M. Christiansen); "I Beheld Her, Beautiful As a Dove"—(Healey Willan); "Advent Motet"—(Gustav Schreck); "Beautiful Savior"—(Melody from 12th Century)—Choir.

MEMBERS OF O. P. H. S. GIRL'S ENSEMBLE

Miss Cullop Is The Bride Of Warren Rodgers

The wedding of Miss Virginia Cullop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Yates of Alexandria, La., and Mr. Warren Rogers, son of Mrs. Vina Rodgers, Monroe, La., was solemnized in the home of the groom's sister, Mrs. Aubrey Wallace of Monroe.

The bride, wore a two-piece model of pale blue, with pink accessories. Her flowers were variegated pink and white carnations.

Mrs. W. W. Rodgers, matron of honor, was becomingly attired in a pink and black printed silk with black accessories. She wore a shoulder corsage of white roses.

Mr. W. W. Rodgers, brother of the groom, served as best man.

After the guests arrived, candles were lighted by Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Fisher, while Claire de Lune was softly played, continuing throughout the double-ring ceremony, performed by Rev. I. L. Yeager.

Following the ceremony a reception was given for the bride and groom.

White gladioli were placed at vantage points throughout the living room and English ivy was entwined gracefully about the candelabra. The dining table held a three-tiered cake encircled with white roses and surmounted by a miniature bride and groom. Double white tapers burned at each end of the table. The punch bowl was presided over by Mrs. Arnold Fisher and cake was served by Mrs. Jimmy Keith.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Rodgers, Clarks, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Fisher, Ruston, La.; Misses McDonald and Robertson, and Mr. Wardenoff, of Montgomery, La.

HOLLIS-SIMPSON WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Hollis, of Spearsville, La., announce the marriage of their youngest daughter, Dorothy, to John W. Simpson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Minor Simpson, of El Dorado. The wedding was solemnized in the presence of friends and relatives at the Church of Christ in Spearsville on the afternoon of April 25 at 4 o'clock. Evangelist Sterl Watson, of Haynesville, performed the ceremony before a background of vines, greenery and spring blossoms.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Elizabeth Ware, Mrs. Donald Crawford and Mrs. Clyde Pugh sang "I Love You Truly" and "Let Me Dream Again."

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Laveda Hollis, of El Dorado. She wore a beige silk shantung model with a matching hat and a shoulder corsage of pink carnations. Her shoes were Kelley green.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white crepe model with black accessories. She carried a white Bible surmounted with sweetheart roses and white ribbon streamers.

After their honeymoon, the couple will be at home at 427 West Main, El Dorado.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
St. John And Grammont Streets
L. T. Hastings, Pastor
B. B. Fields, Music And Education

Our observance of "Christian Home Week" should get under way at the Sunday school with fathers and mothers bringing all the family to Sunday school and remaining for the worship service to hear the pastor on "Guided Lives vs. Guided Missiles." With 758 in Sunday school last Sunday it ought not to be too hard to get 800 out this Sunday. We wish families would sit together at the morning worship. The Training Union is also taking a vital part in Christian Home Week. The Brotherhood and W. M. U. are vital factors too.

Be sure to tune in KNOE, 1:45 to 2 and KMLB 4 to 4:15 each afternoon Monday through Friday for special programs on the home. Our dramatics department, Mrs. B. B. Fields, director, will present a playlet, "Christian Family Brown," Wednesday night at the prayer meeting hour.

Hear the pastor at the Sunday night service on "Does the Palestine Situation Mean That the Predicted Time of Jacob's Trouble Has Come?"

N. T. Smith, Pastor
B. C. Smith, Music Director

Sunday is Intermediate day. Harry Fox, our Intermediate department superintendent, has asked that this Sunday be Intermediate Sunday. This group will have charge of the Sunday school hour and at morning worship. Intermediates will teach all classes, have charge of the choir, act as deacons and ushers throughout the day. Ladies of the church will entertain them in their homes for lunch.

The pastor's morning topic: "Our Youth of Today and Tomorrow." The evening service will be led in both the B. T. U. and Brotherhood by Intermediates who also will have charge of the music at the 8 p. m. worship hour. At this time the pastor's topic will be: "The Glory Land."

Meeting places for the W. M. S. will be announced from the pulpit Sunday.

Our mid-week service, Wednesday night, is always well attended, but there is room for still many more.

A nursery is provided for the babies with a trained attendant. If you are hungry for the old-time gospel to be preached, visit us today. Our services are not streamlined, nor dolled up. Just the old-time gospel preached in the old-time way.

Grammont At Catalpa
Ernest D. Holloway, Minister

May 2-9 is Family Week. On the evening of Wednesday, May 5, we are to observe Family Night. Each family is asked to bring a covered dish which will provide the meal. The hour of the gathering is 7 o'clock. An interesting program has been prepared which will consist of song, Scriptures reading and exposition, and fellowship. It is the earnest hope of the committee in charge that a large number will be present.

"Religion in the Home" is the subject of the morning message. It will deal with the facts of a vital home religion, the value thereof, and the results.

"How to be Happy" is the theme of the evening sermon. It is based on the observation of the Psalmist, Psalm 34. The passage is incorporated in 1 Peter, chapter three.

A hearty welcome awaits you at all hours of worship.

Sunday services:

Sunday School at 10:15 a.m.

Morning worship at 11:15 a.m.

Evening fellowship at 7:30.

Worship hour at 8:00 p.m.

The Pleasant Hill congregation is rejoicing greatly in their new building. After two years of unsettled meeting places while building, it was with joy and thanksgiving that on Easter day we were privileged again to worship in our own sanctuary. God has been very gracious and good unto us.

We are pleased to announce that on next Sunday we will have as our guest speaker, Miss Ione Catton, research associate for the mission council for the Congregational Christian Churches of New York City. She comes bringing a message of interest for everyone in our community, and will speak at both the morning and evening services. All are cordially invited to attend.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES
224 Auburn Ave.

"Everlasting Punishment" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, May 2, 1948.

The Golden Text is: "Evil shall slay the wicked: and they that hate the righteous shall be desolate. The Lord redeemeth the soul of his servants: and none of them that trust in him shall be desolate" (Ps. 34:21, 22).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Know ye not, that to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey: whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness" (Rom. 6:16)?

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Let Truth uncover and destroy error in God's own way, and let human justice pattern the divine" (p. 542).

other's Day will hold special significance this year for Mrs. Charles der who is en route today to New k City where she will be the guest General Mills and will be introed over the ABC networks as Mother of the Year". Mrs. Ponder's , Jack, member of the senior class Ouachita Parish High School, subted a letter to General Mill's telling y his mother deserved this high or. Thousands of letters were reved from sons and daughters all r the country but this letter was epted over all the others. Charles l of his mother's great strength of racter, her enduring faith and her ggle to care for her three small s after her husband passed away. his letter will be read over the C network Friday, May 7 and Mrs. der and her son will be in the dio at this time. Their expenses be paid while they are in New k and they will be elaborately rtained during their visit. Mrs. der will be joined by another son, liam, who is stationed in Boston, s., with the U. S. navy. Charles, the eldest son is a student at Louisiana Tech.

The greatest compliment a woman can receive is to have her son call her a "wonderful mother." Mrs. Ponder well deserves this tribute according to friends who speak of her in endearing terms and quite agree with Jack that she is a "wonderful mother."

Only twelve girls in the United States are accepted each year for graduate work at Yale University and one of these twelve happens to be a Monroe girl, Miss Martha Grety Thompson who is doing special art work in Nashville and graduate work at Vanderbilt and Peabody. She will arrive home the first of the month to spend the summer with her parents and will leave in September to enter Yale University.

Monroe women are certainly placing this city on the map. Attention was focused on Monroe last week in Washington, D. C. where the 57 Continental Congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution was held. Each year prizes are awarded at the President's General's banquet in the Mayflower Hotel for the most realistic theme reflecting the individual states. Delegates from all the 48 states occupy the tables set apart for them. The second prize this year went to Louisiana and Monroe instantly leaped into the limelight as Mrs. James C. Liner, regent of Fort Miro chapter and state vice-regent of the D. A. R. was responsible for the clever theme. The table set for twelve, was developed in the Mardi Gras colors and centrally adorned with a gold and purple float depicting King Rex in gorgeous robe and jeweled studded crown. Aides wearing gold tunics were placed on either side of the float drawn by black horses wearing white mantels. A white clad Negro boy carried a banner inscribed with "Rex".

At the extreme end of the table a tall gold vase overflowing with yellow flowers was flanked with two false faces, one of a man and one of a woman. Tall gold cups filled with flowers completely encircled the table.

The prize awarded the Louisiana table was six hand colored copies of the famous Wythe House Floral prints from the Williamsburg Restoration reproductions of the twelve original Eighteenth Century prints, one for each month of the year published in 1730 by Robert Furber, gardener in Kensington Palace, England. The copies are as rare and lovely as the originals which were dedicated to his Royal Highness, Frederick Prince of Wales and to the Princess Royal.

The first prize went to West Virginia with its Colonial Dames Theme, the third to the District of Columbia with a May Pole.

Tennessee had an honorable mention for a miniature reproduction of their state chapter house near Memphis. Oregon also had honorable mention—a covered wagon and a group of leather teepees. Florida was mentioned for the coral and sea shell decorations.

Next to the Louisiana table sat two of the artists whose piano selections were part of the program, Madame Camille Chautemps and her daughter Mademoiselle Antoinette Chautemps of Paris. They were extremely interested in the Mardi Gras theme.

The address of the evening was by H. R. Baukhage, noted commentator and news analyst.

The League of Women Voters will be hostesses at dinner at the La Casa on Tuesday night at 6:30, honoring Mrs. A. D. Tisdale, state president, and Mrs. M. R. Hausherr, state secretary, both members of the local group of League of Women Voters.

Reports will be given on the national convention which was held in Grand Rapids, Mich., last week. Mrs Tisdale and Miss Myrtle Rogers, president of the local organization, attended as delegates.

All members are urged to attend, and bring with them guests interested in the League. For reservations contact Mrs. H. S. Chilton, telephone 3059-M, not later than Monday.

People You Know--

Miss Barbara Faulk will leave today for Shreveport to attend the wedding of her cousin, Miss Marion Crawford whose marriage to Mr. Claude Cunningham will be a prominent event of Tuesday. Miss Faulk will be one of the bridal attendants. Others attending the wedding from this city will be Mr. and Mrs. Francis Faulk and Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Frazier.

Mrs. Ivy McDonald, chairman for the summer roundup for W. R. Mitchell P. T. A., announces that the round up with be held on Monday, May 10, at 1 p. m., with Dr. Katherine Foster serving as the examining physician. Parents of pre-school age children are requested to bring their children at this time.

Friends will regret to know that Mrs. Stella Courtnery is a patient in St. Francis sanitarium.

Mrs. David Jones left for Arlington, Texas last week to be at the bedside of her sister who is critically ill. Mrs. Jones was accompanied by her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Jones, and Mr. and Mrs. Franklin H. Jones.

Dr. and Mrs. H. V. Collins left last week for a month's visit in St. Petersburg, Fla.

George Harrell Mills, son of Mrs. H. B. Mills, was graduated from the Naval Air Technical Training Center, Memphis, Tenn., April 23 and left last week for Washington, D. C. to complete his two year training period.

Mrs. S. C. Evans completed a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Hampton Goodwin and Mr. Goodwin, and returned last week to her home in Orlando, Fla.

VALUABLE INFORMATION FOUND IN ARTICLE GIVEN BY MISS RODGERS

Women who are interested in the Marshall plan will find some valuable information in the following article given by Miss Myrtle Rodgers, local president of the League of Women Voters, when she addressed members of the Current Literature club in the home of Mrs. Louis Peters. She said:

The European recovery plan is the cooperation of sixteen European nations with ours for the purpose of rebuilding these nations. The purpose is reconstruction, not relief. These sixteen European nations come first for the United States because we share with them certain ideas and ideals and a way of living. They also come first because it is a necessary step toward world recovery. The countries are: Austria, Belgium, Denmark, France, Greece, Iceland, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, Netherlands, Norway, Portugual, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey, United Kingdom, (western Germany is also included in this plan.)

The ERP rests on the fourfold basis of the committee of European Economic Cooperation report: 1. An intense production effort; 2. Financial stability; 3. Economic cooperation; 4. Overcoming the trade deficit.

The president has proposed six additional criteria which should govern the program: 1. The U. S. must provide enough funds, with sufficient flexibility, to make the program one of recovery, not mere relief; 2. U. S. funds and goods must be controlled to see that they go where they are intended; 3. The program should be carried out at the lowest possible cost to the U. S. but should avoid making unreasonable demands for repayment on the countries; 4. Should cause the least possible dislocation in the U. S. economy; 5. Should be consistent with the U. S. policy throughout the world; 6. The administration of the U. S. effort should be sound, with sufficient power and flexibility to carry out the program.

The program is to be administered by a business man, Paul Huffman. He was appointed by the president with advice of the state department. He will be responsible to the president but take advice from the secretary of state on matters of foreign policy.

After the program, delicious refreshments were served to the following members and guests: Mrs. W. A. Cotton, Mrs. Gene Demmary, Mrs. Dan Dennett, Mrs. Leon Dennis, Mrs. L. M. Frey, Mrs. Walter Knapp, Mrs. H. C. Menuet, Mrs. E. A. Porter, Jr., Mrs. R. F. Seiler, Mrs. Earl Stovall, Mrs. L. A. West, Mrs. Jerry Whitledge, Mrs. Jack M. Wyatt, and Mrs. Carlton Salley.

Miss Frances Flanders, librarian at the Ouachita Parish Public Library has listed several new books recently placed on the library shelves. They are:

"Vain Shadow," Hartzel Spence; "The Quarry," Mildred Walker; "Red Plush," Guy McCrone; "Bittersweet," Martha B. Harper; "King's Men," C. M. Edmondston; "Discovery," Virginia Chase; "Days of Promise," Louis Stevens; "The Proud Way," Shirley Seifert; "That Winter," Merle Miller; "Son of the Moon," Joseph G. Hitrec; "Green Carpet," Edith A. Holton; "Parris Mitchell of King's Row," Henry Bellamann; "Eagle at my Eyes," Norman Katov.

DIVERSIFIED PROGRAM ENJOYED BY MEMBERS OF REVIEW CLUB

Beautiful roses and iris decorated the home of Mrs. A. T. Givens when she entertained the Review Club.

The program was highlighted by the showing of a film, "Clean Waters," secured by Mrs. J. C. Loftin, chairman of public welfare, and shown by the kindness of Sergeant W. C. Cowen, of the recruiting office. The film, in technicolor, awakened a desire and determination to lend effort to prevent pollution of our natural streams, our main source of drinking water, an economic asset and a boon to recreation.

Mrs. F. V. Barnett conducted a highly provocative discussion and quiz on "This is Election Year," as a part of her emphasis on "Citizenship."

Mrs. W. T. Davis made introductory remarks about the subject of the afternoon's program, dealing with the study of the Irish Renaissance, as related in "Lady Gregory's Journals," edited by Lennox Robinson.

The reviewer, Mrs. DeWitt Henry, told of the varied and exciting life of the beloved Irish playwright, Lady Gregory, who was the moving spirit of the Abbey Theater in Dublin. This intimate and revealing document consists of excerpts, topically arranged from the extensive journals which she kept between 1916 and 1930.

Lennox Robinson has rearranged the journals by what is a good system, taking a half-dozen dominant themes and grouping entries around them. The first section concerns "Coole," Lady Gregory's country estate; the second turns to the Abbey Theatre, showing Lady Gregory as a vigorous producer of plays, a helpful critic of production and players, an energetic director whose doggedness and determination in the theater kept it alive. It is said of her, "Lady Gregory was—is the Abbey Theatre."

Many fierce and dramatic stories are to be found in the third section on politics, which tells about the Irish rebellion and civil war. There is also a section "Personalities and Books" under which is assembled informative material on George Bernard Shaw, W. B. Yeats and two dozen others. The last deals with Lady Gregory's efforts to have returned to Dublin the notable collection of pictures left by her nephew, Sir Hugh Lane.

As an integral part of the Celtic literatary Renaissance, Lady Gregory is an excellent source of material for a study of Ireland in the first quarter of the twentieth century.

During the social hour a delicious dessert course and ice tea was served to: Mrs. F. V. Barnett, Mrs. C. B. Braun, Mrs. Z. J. Byrd, Mrs. S. A. Collins, Mrs. E. P. Cudd, Mrs. W. T. Davis, Mrs. C. P. Gray, Jr., Mrs. DeWitt Henry, Mrs. J. C. Loftin, Mrs. C. V. McGimsey, Mrs. A. B. Paterson, Jr., and Mrs. Sam Smith.

Miss Hall Is The Bride Of Mr. J. F. Mooney

Widespread interest is centered in the marriage of Miss Mary Ethel Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville J. Hall, and Mr. James Franklin Mooney, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Preston Mooney, Saturday morning, April 24 at the First Methodist Church, West Monroe, with the pastor, Dr. R. H. Staples, officiating at the double ring service.

Baskets of white gladioli and white stock against a background of fern and Southern smilax created a lovely setting for the ceremony.

Mr. James Gilmer, organist, played the wedding music including Schubert's Ave Maria, Schubert's Serenade and Clair de Lune, all favorites of the bride. The traditional marches were used.

Miss Mildred White, the soloist, sang in lovely voice, "Because." She wore aqua crepe with corsage of pink carnations.

Miss Jimmie Dee Johnson, close friend of the bride, and only attendant, wore a pink crepe model with dark accessories and a corsage of Wedgwood blue iris.

Mr. Jacob E. Jones served the groom in the capacity of best man.

The bride walked down the aisle with her father who gave her in marriage. She wore a beautiful model of blue crepe with white accessories and carried a white prayer book surmounted with a spray of white carnations and valley lilies.

Immediately following the ceremony the young couple left for the Gulf Coast to spend their honeymoon. Upon their return they will be at home at 106 Morris street, West Monroe.

Mr. Mooney is employed at Bastrop and Mrs. Mooney is employed in a secretarial capacity in Monroe.

MAJ. LANE WITH FIRST CAVALRY

Officer Now In Monroe To Aid In Recruiting Duty

Major John R. Lane, 31, San Saba, Texas, is accompanying the First Cavalry division's recruiting team which is touring the fourth army area and contacting as many eligible prospects as possible.

He was selected from among many officers of the First Cavalry division to accompany the recruiting team of model soldiers to the United States. This division is now on occupation duty in central Japan, having come to Tokyo soon after the surrender of the Japanese.

A graduate of Oklahoma Military Academy, Claremore, Okla., Major Lane is the son of M. D. Atkinson, Drumright, Okla., and is married to the former Miss Evalyn Hamrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Hamrick, San Saba, Tex.

Major Lane has held an important training post in the office of the assistant chief of staff, G-3, for many months of the occupation. He is a graduate of the tank destroyer school, and served in the 14th armored division.

Major Lane participated in combat engagements in central Europe, the Ardennes-Alsace campaign, and the Rhineland. He holds the Purple Heart with cluster, and received the commendation medal.

It was the First Cavalry division which raised the Stars and Stripes over Tokyo, climax of hard fought campaigns by the only active cavalry division in World War II.

Hyane Harbor, Los Negros, Admiralty Islands, first felt their might February, 1944. They took Momote airstrip, Pajitalai Mission and Lombrum. At Momote, a reconnaissance force fought one of the wildest actions of the war.

Imperial Jap Marines launched a "Banzai" attack. They were big men, some were drunk, some had long poles with bayonets tied on the end, all shouted "Banzai," some sang, "Deep in the Heart of Texas" (Jap version). The First held firm.

At Leyte, the First was spearhead unit, Oct. 20, 1944, capturing Cataisan airfield after five hot hours and going on to fight for 72 days without relief.

Landing at Lingayen (Luzon), Jan. 17, 1945, the division headed for Manila meeting their first resistance at Cabanatuan, north of the city. They cut through to the Angat river, fording streams and blasting road blocks to clank (First) into Manila, February 3. When they took and occupied Malacana Palace and smashed the Santo Tomas University walls, they freed 3,700 allied civilians held by the Japs.

JEWISH WOMEN FORM COUNCIL

Presentation of a charter and installation of new officers marked the organizational meeting of the Monroe section of the Council of Jewish Women held in the annex of Temple B'Nai Israel.

The charter was presented to the local organization by Mrs. Paul Godchaux of New Orleans who represented the National Council of Jewish Women at the meeting.

Fifty-eight representative women of Congregation B'Nai Israel were present at the initial meeting, which was conducted by Mrs. Dave Aron, temporary chairman. A constitution and by-laws presented by Mrs. Sam Smith were accepted by the group.

At the time of the charter presentation Mrs. Godchaux gave an inspiring talk on the varied programs which the group undertakes. Future plans contemplate a series of lectures to the members by the social welfare agencies of this community, and from information received through these lectures the council will map it's projects according to the greatest need. Primary purpose of the organization is to promote community wide civic work on a non-sectarian basis.

Officers elected and installed for a two year period are: President, Mrs. Dave Aron; first vice-president, Mrs. Joe Marx, Jr.; second vice-president, Mrs. Harry Silverstein; treasurer, Mrs I. W. Jaffe; recording secretary, Mrs. I. S. Marx; auditor, Mrs. C. M. Strauss; board members, Mrs. Wm. Mintz, Mrs. Meyer Glazer, and Mrs. S. K. Heninger.

WATCH DEALERS MEET STARTING

State Horological Association Annual Convention Slated Until Tuesday

Louisiana watch dealers will begin their annual association convention here today with registration beginning at 10 a. m. followed by a full entertainment program for the delegates' wives in the afternon, W. L. Huckabay, president of the association, announced yesterday. The convention will be held in the Virginia hotel.

Starting at 1:30 p. m., Charles Purdom will lecture and demonstrate with the American electric timing machine regulator.

For delegates' wives a boat ride has been planned from 2 until 5 p. m. with a banquet following in the Crystal Ball Room of the hotel at 6 p. m. A dance will commence on the Virginia roof at 8 p. m.

The three-day convention will consist of the following program:

Monday: 9:30 to 9:45 a. m., welcome address by Shady Wall, state representative for Ouachita parish; 9:45 to 10:15 a. m., introduction of guests; 10:15 to 11:45, business session, and an adjournment for lunch at 11:45 a. m.

From 1:30 to 2:15 p. m., an address by O. R. Hagans, ex-secretary of the U. H. H. A.; 2:15 to 2:30 p. m., the serving of refreshments; 2:30 to 3:15 p. m., an address by a representative from the Elgin Watch company; 3:15 to 4:15 p. m., moving pictures appealing to watchmakers; 4:15 to 4:30, an intermission; 4:30 to 5:30 p. m., moving pictures, and the adjournment at 5:30 p. m.

Tuesday morning will concern the following: Business, revision of by-laws, election of representatives to the national convention, and the selection of time and place of the 1949 state convention.

The purpose of the convention, Huckabay, stated, is to get the delegates better acquainted with one another and to show them newer and improved methods of watch repairing.

Officers of the association include: W. L. Huckabay, of Monroe, president; Peter Nieto of New Orleans, vice president; Louise Lee of West Monroe, secretary, and N. Rothen of New Orleans, treasurer.

4-H CONTEST DAY SET IN WINNSBORO

WINNSBORO, La., May 1.—(Special)—The annual 4-H Club contest day will be held here May 7. The contest is parish wide, and will open with a parade through the town at 9 a.m. The coronation of 4-H royalty and judging of contest and projects will follow.

Two Baskin club members were elected by vote to be crowned king and queen of the contest day.

Members of the royal court are: Anette Dailey, Ft. Necessity; Betty Jane Davis, Ogden; Edith Howell, Wisner; Gene Douglas Moore, Winnsboro; Billy Caldwell, Crowville; and Shermon Allen, of Lone Pine. The 4-H were runner-up in the king and queen contest.

The contests of the day will be held in the Winnsboro High School. These contests will bring into use knowledge acquired by 4-H members through the past year. The program will feature such contests as general livestock judging, meat identification, baking, food preparation and others.

The American people spent $467 million for educational reading matter in 1940 and an additional $338 million for recreational reading.

Col. Elsie Chung Lyon Will Address Town Hall Monday Night

Colonel Elsie Chung Lyon, China's first nurse, graduate of Guy's Hospital in London, and first vice-president of the Nurses' Association of China will lecture before Town Hall here to members only on Monday, May 3, at 8 p.m. in the Ouachita Parish High School auditorium. Also by action of the board, Town Hall season tickets can still be had at this meeting but the sale will close positively after this time, states Ivy Jordan, president.

Colonel Lyon will lecture on "What American Citizens Should Know About China."

This talented and devoted woman is described as follows:

Mrs. Elsie Chung Lyon, Chinese woman traveler and lecturer, is the first and only Chinese woman to take a nurse's training at Guy's Hospital, in London, England. After her graduation she returned to China in 1910 to organize the first government training school for nurses at the Peiyang Women's Hospital in Tientsin. There were no textbooks so she translated the "Handbook on Nursing" used at Guy's Hospital into Chinese. Yuan Shih Kai, the first president of the Republic of China, had this translation published at his expense in appreciation of Mrs. Lyon's services in caring for him while he was ill. Copies of Mrs. Lyon's first translation are to be found in the Congressional Library in Washington and in the Carnegie Library in Boston; this book was the first of its kind and was used in the training of nurses at Peiyang Hospital and many other hospitals.

Mrs. Lyon also held the appointment of translator, under the Rockefeller Foundation, to the Nurses Association of China, of which she was a co-founder, being its first vice-president. Besides graduating China's first nurses, she chose the Chinese word for nurse which is being used today. As China's first nurse she is mentioned in Goodnow's History of Nursing.

During the revolution of 1911-12 she saw active service with her nurses when the Manchu Dynasty was overthrown.

Mrs. Lyon was the first Chinese woman to fly from Shanghai to London, 1936, and has crossed the Pacific fourteen times, and the Atlantic five times. Mrs. Lyon married an American, Mr. Bayard Lyon, and has made her home in America since 1923. In World War II she had a son in the United marine corps, another in the air force and her daughter worked as an engineer in the navy department. In 1945 Mrs. Lyon was rejected by the United States nurses corps since she was over-age; she was, however, accepted by the Chinese government and was commissioned as a major in the Chinese army medical services (there being no Chinese army nurses corps). She flew from La Guardia field on invitational travel orders issued by the United States war department and reached Kunming on June 6, 1945.

Major Lyon was assigned to the chief army base hospital at Kweiyang where the United States field hospital shared the hospital, and where she served in an advisory capacity to the Chinese hospital. She was promoted to the rank of Colonel after four months' service and seven months later she was transferred to the army hospital at Peiping, where she served for five months.

Colonel Lyon returned to the U. S. A. in December, 1946, and is at present writing her biography which includes her life of joys and sorrows in America. Colonel Lyon is an excellent speaker and besides being an authority on her country and people, she is also qualified to speak on Chinese art, philosophy, and on present conditions in China.

DR. IVERSON TO GIVE ADDRESS

Will Visit Ouachita Valley Scout Council This Week

Dr. A. E. Iverson of New York, director of Protestant relationship, Boy Scouts of America, will visit the Ouachita Valley Council Wednesday and Thursday, May 5-6. He will address the Monroe Ministerial Association at the First Baptist Church, Thursday morning at 10:00, it has been announced by Rev. Grant Clark, president of the association. His subject will be "The Scouting Program in Protestant Churches."

The speaker will stress the integration of Scouting with the program of church education and the youth activities of the local churches. He will place considerable emphasis on the value of the Religious Awards Plan as a medium for relating Boy Scouts to the total program of the church.

SPEAKER

DR. ALBERT E. IVERSON

Dr. Iverson is a Lutheran pastor with a wide experience in the field of boys' work. Before assuming his present position he was Executive Secretary of the Brotherhood and the Board of Pensions of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of America with headquarters in Minneapolis. He is a graduate of St. Olaf College in Northfield, Minn., and the Lutheran Theological Seminary at St. Paul, Minn.

Dr. Iverson has been a Cubmaster and a Scoutmaster. He served as chairman of the National Lutheran Committee on Scouting. He was a member of the Protestant committee on Scouting of which he is now secretary and has been a member of the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

During his visit to the Ouachita Valley Council, he will talk to the ministerial associations in Bastrop and Ruston, participate in the council executive board meeting Wednesday night, and address the Kiwanis clubs of Monroe and West Monroe.

Announcing

recent changes in our Officers and Personnel

Effective May 1st, O. N. McNeill, who has been with this Bank for 21 years, resigned to accept a position with one of Monroe's leading automobile agencies. He carries our very best wishes.

R. C. Sparks, Assistant Cashier, who has been our First Teller for many years now leaves his "cage" and will be in charge of Bank personnel.

Grayson Guthrie has been elected Assistant Cashier and will serve as First Teller.

A general move up the line—Allen Norris to Second Teller—"Billy" Haynes 3rd—Johnny Poulas 4th—and Virgil Crawford from Proof Department to 5th Teller.

This Bank—with its Branch in West Monroe—now has 47 in its employ with an annual payroll of $125,000.00.

Our remodeled Branch Bank building will be completed around June 15th, and will add materially to the business district of West Monroe.

Looking Ahead In Washington

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—Farm legislation in Congress may have a tough row to hoe from now on, say political observers. Before the year is out, they predict, you may see dire results from the secession of the Southern members from the house farm bloc over the issue of oleomargarine tax repeal.

Among bitter threats of reprisals that came from northern members who sought to retain the tax and protect their dairy-farming constituents, was that of Rep. Knutson (R-Minn), chairman of the ways and means committee. He called for lifting of the quota on imports of cotton.

First big chance the northern members will have to get revenge will come when Congress considers legislation to continue farm commodity price support programs.

They will expire Dec. 31 unless extended. Southern farmers would be seriously hurt if supporters for prices of cotton, tobacco, peanuts and rice were weakened or knocked out.

(It was the southern farmer's market for cottonseed and peanut oil which the southern bloc was thinking about in its fight for oleo. They were aided by some midwest members whose constituents produce soybeans—whose oil also goes into oleo.)

Besides, a long-range farm legislation program also is pending.

It was the close union of the northern and southern farm legislators which enabled the bloc to triumph repeatedly—with the old AAA crop control system, subsidies, the ever-normal granary, the wartime price supports.

The big question now is: where will the city Republicans stand? To please their oleo-using constituents, they sided with the southerners in this fight. If such a measure as the free import of cotton were proposed, with the promise of cheaper clothing, would they again represent consumer interests by jumping to the northern side?

Hopeless

LAKE SUCCESS—More and more delegates to the United Nations are saying privately that they do not believe a solution to the Palestine problem will be found by the time the British mandate ends May 15. The assembly isn't within sight of agreement even on the general principles of a solution.

If neither the trusteeship plan nor any other scheme is approved, it is possible that the partition plan, adopted Nov. 29, might stand on the books by default. But even if it does, it is almost certain the U. N. will take no affirmative action to support the project.

British Notes

LONDON—Three reasons why Italy will have to wait indefinitely before she is admitted to Europe's western union: (1) American suggestions that Britain, France and the Benelux countries get the union on an efficient operating basis before taking in new members; (2) union members and Italy probably will find themselves at odds on the disposition of Italy's colonial empire; (3) Italy is likely to press for revision of the military terms of the peace treaty in order to obtain an equal footing with other alliance members.

One reason why the American-British-French talks on western Germany's political and economic future will stretch out much longer than the ten days originally scheduled: a log-jam has been created by France's fear of a rebirth of German aggression because of American plans for tolling up part of Germany's prewar heavy industry.

Associates say Foreign Secretary Bevin in his talk to commons this Wednesday plans to report that the advance of communism has been checked. But he will warn that the danger is not past and that the best assurance of safety is to raise the standard of living.

Prices Up Again

WASHINGTON—A top-rank government official privately predicts new price rises in December or January as a result of the defense and foreign aid programs. The new wave of inflation might come sooner, he says, if anxious consumers start a buying spree.

Production of consumer goods will decrease, creating shortages, he points out, as materials and labor are diverted to production for military and foreign aid. At the same time the demand for consumer goods will increase because people will have more money to spend as a result of the tax cut.

Palestine Policy

WASHINGTON—Government insiders detect signs of a change in President Truman's handling of Palestine policy. They understand it was the White House, rather than the state department, which made the decision to put John H. Hilldring in charge of Palestine matters. For several months Palestine policy has been run almost exclusively by the state department.

(Hilldring, former assistant secretary of state, is being brought back to Washington to become Secretary of State Marshall's special assistant for Palestine affairs.)

There seems to be no good information on what change in policy might be expected. But this is known: Hilldring has been very sympathetic to Zionist claims in the Holy Land.

Air Men

WASHINGTON—Many wartime pilots are asking recall to active duty, but they aren't getting it. What the air force says it needs now, instead of pilots, is officers with technical skills, such as communications, electronics, engineering and meteorology.

Unhappy Secretary

WASHINGTON—The illness of Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach may soon lead to another cabinet change. Schwellenbach has been far from happy in the post, for which he gave up a lifetime federal judgeship.

He long has waged a losing fight with the house appropriations committee to keep the labor department from being taken from his piece-meal. Besides, he has not always had his way with Mr. Truman on labor matters.

The most likely man to take his place if he should bow out of the cabinet, in the opinion of many observers, is David A. Morse, undersecretary of labor. Also frequently mentioned is Jim Mead, former senator and unsuccessful Democratic candidate for governor of New York.

Air Lines

WASHINGTON—They haven't announced it yet, but aircraft industry leaders will meet at Williamsburg, Va., the third week in May. There will be heart-to-heart talks between them and military aviation chiefs, and the press is not invited. It's an annual affair, but the meeting last year attracted great attention because of an erroneous report that it was an emergency, secret session. There'll probably be a public announcement soon so that this misunderstanding won't occur again.

Grape juice mixed with ginger ale and a little lemon or orange juice makes a refreshing drink. For a mid-afternoon snack serve thin crisp crackers spread with cream cheese with it.

SCHOOL TRYING AN EXPERIMENT

Sherrouse Roundup Will Be Of Different Nature This Time

"A unique experiment in summer roundup is to be tried at Sherrouse School this year," stated Mrs. W. O. Webb, president of the school's P.-T. A.

"There is no greater gift which you can give to your child than to send him to school on the first day feeling happy and free. You owe it to your child to attend to all of the details that will aid in assuring him a happy start at school," stated Miss Marjorie Oliver, elementary supervisor of city schools and recognized authority on child study.

It is to make these things possible for children who will enter Sherrouse School for the first time that Mrs. L. G. Corley, summer round-up chairman for Sherrouse P.-T. A., and her committee are working.

In addition to the health check these potential first graders will be introduced to the school program. Some time will be spent in the first grade room participating in plays, games and other activities. They will then be invited to the cafeteria for refreshments.

While the children are being given this orientation program of the school, their mothers will meet with Miss Oliver who will discuss a readiness program for children who are ready to enter school in the fall.

Individual booklets called "Is Your Child Starting to School" will be given to each parent who brings her child to the summer round-up examination. These booklets will be studied through the summer by the parent with a view in mind of having the child thoroughly prepared physically, mentally, socially and morally. When the child enters school in September the parent will see that the teacher receives the pamphlet signed, which assures the teacher that the proper cooperation has been conformed with.

Miss Oliver says: "Your child is entering into a new world which promises him jolly adventure and pleasant companionships. Much of his success or failure will depend upon his preschool training. Parents and teachers must be partners. Home and school must work harmoniously together and come to a common understanding of the child's needs."

TERRY AND THE PIRATES

by GEORGE WUNDER

Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.
Copyright, 1948, by News Syndicate Co. Inc.

GUESTS AND MASTER HAVE EATEN. IS TIME NOW FOR ENTERTAINMENT TO BEGIN.

AH! M' FAVORITE BLASTED DANCER. YOU'LL FIND THIS BLOOMIN' FASCINATING.

MR. BRONZ! YOU'RE EVADING THE ISSUE...

...WILL YOU OR WON'T YOU DEAL WITH US?

IT'S A STRANGE WORLD, MY DEAR, WHERE ONE'S DEEDS COME HOME TO ROOST WITH SUCH A VENGEANCE...

WHO'D HAVE THOUGHT, WHEN I CONTRIVED THAT STATUE OUT OF A CRUDE MODERN IDOL FROM ONE OF THE NEARBY VILLAGES, RECARVED IT IN THE OLD MANNER AND ADDED SOME GOLD WORK MADE FROM NAT'E TRINKETS, THAT THE BLASTED THING WOULD COME BACK TO HAUNT ME.

I MADE IT TO GET RID OF A STUPID JAP OFFICER WHO'D STUMBLED ON MY RETREAT. HE SUSPECTED ME OF HAVING HIDDEN TREASURE, SO I LET HIM FRIGHTEN ME INTO GIVING IT TO HIM — ONLY, A BIT LATER, HE SOLD IT TO THE EMINENT VAN GOBLIN...

YOU, MY DEAR SIR, WERE QUITE CLEVER TO RECOGNIZE THAT I'D COPIED THE DETAILS FROM AN AUTHENTIC OLD PIECE, STOLEN SOME TIME AGO FROM A LOCAL MUSEUM. IT WAS LOGICAL TO DECIDE I MUST STILL HAVE THE ORIGINAL.

THEN YOU DO HAVE THE ORIGINAL — AND OUR TRIP WASN'T A WILD GOOSE CHASE! LISTEN, BRONZ, I HAVE AN OFFER TO MAKE...

THE ANSWER IS "NO", VAN GOBLIN, I DON'T MAKE DEALS WITH THE THINGS I LOVE.

SUPPOSE WE DROP THE MATTER NOW AND ENJOY THE BLASTED ENTERTAINMENT.

TERRY, I MUST SPEAK TO YOU, AT ONCE ... ALONE!

DICK TRACY

IF ONLY THAT FLEXIBLE GAS TUBING HADN'T BROKE.

WHEN WE PUT HER UNDER THE SINK, I FORGOT ALL ABOUT THAT COOK STOVE GAS LINE. HER FOOT MUST HAVE BROKE IT.

HERE'S THE GOLF COURSE.

I DIDN'T LIKE THE ANSWERS THAT FELLOW BRIER GAVE US, TRACY.

THERE'S PLENTY HE DIDN'T TELL US, CHIEF, ABOUT HIS MISSING AUNT.

WHAT ARE YOU LOOKIN' AT?

HE DROPPED THAT PIPE OF HIS ON THIS DESK AND A LITTLE PIECE OF THE BOWL BROKE OFF. PHEW!

I'VE BEEN WORKING HERE A COUPLE OF DAYS A WEEK, HELPING DIG NEW SAND TRAPS. IT'S A PERFECT SPOT.

DON'T WORRY. THEY'RE NOT LETTING ANYBODY PLAY THE COURSE TILL OFFICIAL OPENING NEXT WEEK.

HURRY, BRIER — HURRY!

NOW, LET US TURN FOR THE MOMENT TO SUNNY DELL ACRES WHERE THE REBUILDING OF B.O. PLENTY'S HOUSE IS ALREADY UNDER WAY.

BUT GERTIE WANTS THEM PILLARS TO LEAN. THEY'RE PURTIER THAT WAY.

YOU HEARD WHAT B.O. PLENTY SAID — MAKE THE PILLARS LEAN, JACK.

OKAY, DIET SMITH, IF YOU SAY SO.

GRAB SPARKLE, SOMEBODY! OH, OH!

WHY DON'T YOU LOOK WHERE YOU'RE BACKING THAT TRUCK, YOU ★*-#!!

I SAID WE DON'T WANT NO WINDERS ON THE WEST SIDE! PUT UP YER DUKES, YOU BULL-HEADED ~★★*!!

THERE! SHE'S PLANTED! THEY'LL DUMP 6 YARDS OF SAND HERE TOMORROW. WE'RE ALL SET.

AND MRS. VOLTS FINALLY GOES TO REST — OF ALL PLACES — ON A COUNTRY CLUB GOLF COURSE!

JUNGLE JIM

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

JIM'S BOLDNESS TAKES THE BESIEGERS UNAWARES. BUT LAMA CHOT QUICKLY STARTS THE PURSUIT. "DRIVE THEM TO THE LAMASERY! THEY'RE TRAPPED," HE GLOATS.

BUT JIM WAS HEADING FOR THE LAMASERY. HE RINGS THE GREAT GONG WITH A PISTOL-SHOT. "OPEN UP! I DEMAND TO SEE THE GRAND LAMA OF TSANG!"

THE GRAND LAMA APPEARS: "DROP YOUR GUNS! BRING THE INFIDELS TO MY AUDIENCE HALL." TO LIL'S SURPRISE, JIM SAYS, "OBEY HIM. IT'S OUR ONE CHANCE."

NEXT WEEK: TRIAL FOR LIFE.

FLASH GORDON

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

FLASH SAVES DALE FROM ELECTRODEATH --AT THE PRICE OF HIS OWN FUTURE. "DAUGHTER, DO YOU LOVE HIM?" JUSTO ASKS. THEN HE TURNS TO FLASH AND SAYS TENDERLY: "MY SON!"

DALE HURRIES TO FLASH: "DON'T MAKE THIS SACRIFICE FOR ME. I DON'T WANT TO LIVE WITHOUT YOU!" GLITRA RAGES: "GET AWAY FROM MY FIANCE!"

"YOU'LL BEHAVE YOURSELF AND LET DALE ALONE IF YOU WANT ME TO MARRY YOU!" FLASH ORDERS. INSTEAD OF A TEMPER TANTRUM, GLITRA IS SURPRISED INTO A MEEK, "YES, DEAR."

DALE HURRIES AWAY, SOBBING, UNCONSCIOUS OF PRINCE VILAN'S SELFISH PRETENSE OF COMFORTING HER. FLASH STERNLY MOVES TO CARRY OUT HIS BARGAIN.

LOSTLAND MAKES A GALA HOLIDAY OF ITS PRINCESS'S SUDDEN ENGAGEMENT. BUT THE FUTURE BRIDEGROOM LOOKS LIKE A CONDEMNED MAN ON HIS LAST MILE ----

NEXT WEEK: DANGEROUS PLAN.

ER..MASTER CHESTER...THERE IS A MATTER WHICH I FEEL WE SHOULD DISCUSS AT THIS TIME..I-AH...WELL..IT IS THE LITTLE MATTER OF THE MANNER IN WHICH WE LEFT THE SHOW BOAT...

YOU SEE, SOME PEOPLE JUST MIGHT THINK THAT YOU DID NOT LEAVE THE BOAT OF YOUR OWN FREE WILL..

DON'T WORRY, MR. MCFLIFF.. I'LL SAY THAT WE WENT FOR A STROLL AND MISSED THE BOAT..

LOOK, CHESTER! THERE'S ONE OF THOSE WATER TUNNELS...

..AND I'LL BET IT PUTS US BACK IN THE BIG RIVER..

I SEE DAYLIGHT, CHESTER! WE'RE ALMOST THROUGH THE TUNNEL!

WE WERE WITHIN GLIDING DISTANCE OF A MILLION DOLLAR AIRPORT WHEN THE ENGINE QUIT, AND THERE WAS NO WAY OF KNOWING IT.

...ALL THESE HUNDREDS OF UNUSED AIRPORTS SHOULD BE KEPT LIGHTED AT NIGHT FOR EMERGENCY LANDINGS!

...I STILL CAN'T FIGURE OUT WHAT MADE THAT ENGINE QUIT SHORTLY AFTER I SWITCHED GAS TANKS!

(GULP)...I DIDN'T KNOW YOU SWITCHED GAS TANKS, MISTER STRETCH. I SWITCHED GAS TANKS, TOO! YOU WERE BUSY AND I DIDN'T WANT TO BOTHER YOU!

OH, MY GOSH!...THEN ONE OF US SWITCHED TO THE DRY TANK! WHAT A STUPID TRICK!

MAYBE CHERRY IS STILL ASLEEP AND HASN'T DISCOVERED THAT I'VE BEEN OUT ALL NIGHT! I'D BETTER TAKE OFF MY SHOES!

OH, OH! THOSE EARLY RISING GOSSIPING NEIGHBORS HAVE SEEN ME... WHEW... MY NAME IS MUD, NOW!

I DARN THAT SQUEAKY DOOR, BUT ACTUALLY A SQUEAKING DOOR SHOULD BE A SIGN OF A TRUE HUSBAND; A PHILANDERING WOLF WOULD HAVE A WELL OILED DOOR!

WELL, SO FAR, SO GOOD! THE BLINDS ARE DRAWN AND IT'S STILL PITCH DARK INSIDE...

DARN! AM I THE CLUMSY DOPE! I DROPPED A SHOE!

BANG!

She Ought to Practice What She Teaches!

IF YOU'RE TALKING ABOUT ME, MARGE, I'D LIKE TO HEAR SOME MORE! YOU MEAN YOU KNOW WHY I DON'T MAKE THE GRADE WITH JIM?

I HAVE A PRETTY GOOD IDEA WHY HE'S PLAYING HOOKY FROM YOU, SUE!

I'LL GIVE YOU AN A-PLUS FOR THE RIGHT ANSWER, MARGE!

WELL, SUE, YOU TEACH YOUR LITTLE ANGELS TO BE CAREFUL ABOUT BAD BREATH. BUT YOU DON'T TAKE YOUR OWN ADVICE. TRY SEEING YOUR DENTIST, WON'T YOU, HONEY?

SUE SEES HER DENTIST!

"HERE'S WHY: COLGATE DENTAL CREAM HAS AN ACTIVE PENETRATING FOAM THAT GETS INTO THE HIDDEN CREVICES BETWEEN TEETH— HELPS CLEAN OUT DECAYING FOOD PARTICLES— STOP STAGNANT SALIVA ODORS— REMOVE THE CAUSE OF MUCH BAD BREATH. AND COLGATE'S SOFT POLISHING AGENT CLEANS ENAMEL THOROUGHLY, GENTLY, SAFELY!"

COLGATE DENTAL CREAM BRINGS OUT THE NATURAL SPARKLE OF YOUR TEETH, TOO! AND I SIMPLY LOVE COLGATE'S DELICIOUS WAKE-UP FLAVOR!

LATER— THANKS TO COLGATE DENTAL CREAM

JIM IS BACK— JUST AS I THOUGHT! WHEN SUE PRACTICED WHAT SHE TAUGHT!

IT CLEANS YOUR BREATH WHILE IT CLEANS YOUR TEETH!

COLGATE RIBBON DENTAL CREAM

Always use COLGATE DENTAL CREAM after you eat and before every date

Tune In! Dennis Day Wednesday Night NBC
